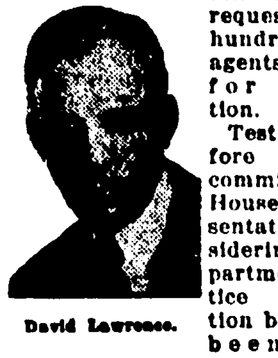
ASK INCREASE IN PROHIBITION WORKING FUND

GUNS ARE LEVELED AT COMMERCIAL VIOLATORS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1931, by the Escanaba Press)

Washington, Jan. 15.—Indications today were that despite efforts to keep the prohibition problem from becoming a paramount issue in the present Congress, wets and drys are going to have a good deal to say on the question when the appropriation bill carrying a request for five hundred new agents comes up for consideration.



David Lawrence.

Testimony before the subcommittee of the House of Representatives considering the department of justice appropriation bill has now been revealed and will furnish the basis of cross-examination and debate.

Want More Agents.

The policy of the federal government as at present outlined is to strike at the large violators rather than the petty cases.

Although the Wickersham report has not been made public it is evident that the administration is depending upon that document to bolster up its request for more money to handle prohibition violators. Whatever else the Wickersham report may say, it is fully expected to argue for more enforcement machinery.

The request being made by the department of justice for more agents is proof of the belief of the attorney general that, irrespective of the general discussion about prohibition, the duty of the department of justice is to go ahead with its program of enforcement and make it as effective as possible.

Attorney General Mitchell testified that the keystone of the whole request for funds is the prohibition personnel. Detailed analysis of the need for investigators to check up the material furnished by prohibition agents was given by the attorney general to the house appropriations committee. It was an executive session but the committee later made available certain information as to the views of the attorney general.

Wets Agree.

"There are large commercial violations," he testified, "that are not brought to book. I do not think there can be any difference of opinion about the fact that judging from what we all know of the situation, we need at least five hundred additional prohibition agents. We cannot reasonably absorb and train more than five hundred new agents in our force in the coming fiscal year. We are trying to improve the quality of the force, to improve their efficiency and their ability to do their work promptly, economically, and in such a way as to avoid criticism."

The wets are inclined to grant the increases because they want to prove that prohibition is unenforceable. It is already apparent that more prohibition agents are going to be required in the wet states, particularly those which either have or expect to repeal

Unusual Accident Kills Woodsman; Inquiry Ordered

Newberry, Jan. 15 (Special)—With his head caught between a stump and a fallen tree, Gus Holm 45, was found dead at his job of piece making north of Newberry at the Newberry Lumber company camps today.

The man, whose home is unknown, had gone to work the first of the week. When he did not return to camp on Wednesday night, an investigation by Bert Mosher, foreman, discovered the body with the saw still in the right hand. The sheriff and coroner are investigating the odd accident.

ASK PAYMENTS ON WAR BONUS

Money Needed By Many Veterans, State Senate Is Told

Lansing, Jan. 15. (AP)—Amid a flurry of oratory over soldier bonus payments, the legislature adjourned today for a long junket recess institutional and finance committees will leave Friday morning for trips of inspection. The session will be resumed January 26.

A senate division developed on a resolution memorializing congress to pay soldiers bonus certificates at once. The house previously had adopted the resolution which was sponsored by Rep. Frank P. Darin, of River Rouge. When it came up in the senate a motion was offered by Senator Augustus H. Gannser, of Bay City, to suspend the rules so it could be adopted immediately. A show of hands failed to reveal sufficient strength for his proposal.

Resolution Passed.

Senator Gannser demanded a roll call and argued at length in favor of adoption. Senator L. Branson, of Battle Creek, opposed suspending the rules. He argued that the federal bonus payment is not a particular problem of the Michigan legislature and believed the adoption of such a resolution might tend to embarass President

Art Accord, Cowboy Film Star of Past Days Passes Away

Hollywood, Calif., Jan. 15 (AP)—To the streets of Hollywood, where he once roamed as the "fair haired boy" of filmland, Art Accord was brought back today in death.

The last journey of the onetime cowboy film star to the scene of his greatest triumph in life, and his fall into movie oblivion, was far more impressive than any in which Hollywood ever had seen him before.

As the train arrived bearing his body from Chihuahua, Mexico, where he died from poison taken in a moment of despondency, a line of World war veterans drew to stiff attention. Accord once was one of them.

The military cortege moved to a funeral parlor where the body of "Good Natured Art" will rest until it is carried to the grave at funeral services Saturday.

January 31 Last Day On Old Plates

Lansing, Jan. 15. (AP)—No further extension of time for securing 1931 automobile license plates can be granted, Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, announced today, the law gives the secretary of state authority to extend the time one month only. Fitzgerald already has authorized the use of old plates until February 1.

Requests for a further extension were received from a number of cities including Flint and Grand Rapids.

HOOVER PUTS SIGNATURE ON DROUGHT BILL

BATTLE IN SENATE LOOMS FOR FOOD LOAN FUND

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Hoover late today signed the much disputed drought loan appropriation.

The $45,000,000 becomes immediately available and the machinery already has been set up for loaning it to farmers for buying feed, seed, fertilizer and farm machinery fuel for putting in this year's crop.

Even as the president put the formal finish to the controversy over the measure, lines were stiffening in the senate for another battle over providing money for food.

Senate leaders opened the way for an immediate decision in their branch upon the Democratic proposal for a $25,000,000 appropriation to the Red Cross for relief work.

In working out an agreement to vote on the amendment of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, during consideration of the interior appropriation bill, the bars were opened for consideration of the supply measures which must be cleared away before March 4 if an extra session is to be avoided.

Agreement also was reached to meet an hour earlier tomorrow in an effort to speed consideration of the legislative docket, which is filled with appropriation measures.

The senate also adopted the resolution of Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, requesting the secretary of agriculture in the administration of the $45,000,000 loan for drought stricken farmers not to be bound by geographical lines.

DEMOS CONFIDENT

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Senate Democrats were confident tonight of sufficient votes to put through their $25,000,000 relief appropriation.

The coalition of Democrats and Republican Independents is again lining up to battle with President Hoover. The president has taken the position supported by the house, that the Red Cross can administer all relief needs.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who is sponsoring the $25,000,000 proposal with Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, sought today to get immediate action.

However, when he asked consent to consider the proposition as an amendment to the interior department appropriation bill, Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, withdrew that measure.

Later Smoot agreed to the proposition and an early vote on the Robinson amendment was in sight.

In the Headlines From Washington

President Hoover signed the $45,000,000 drought relief appropriation bill and the Stobbs bill to modify Jones "five and ten" act.

House expenditures committee decided to investigate telephone and telegraph wire tapping by prohibiton bureau agents.

Oil conference urged tariff on that product.

Postmaster General Brown advocated $45,000,000 construction program for postoffices, branches and garages.

Campaign funds committee excused witnesses for Pennsylvania investigation on account of lack of funds.

Prohibition Eleven Years Old and Still is Problem

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Eleven years at midnight, prohibition ended the first year of its second decade today with few prospects that its path would lead away from the tumult and controversy that have dogged its history.

Buffeted by foes and fought for by friends since that day in January, 1920, when the Nebraska legislature became the thirty-sixth state to ratify the eighteenth amendment, the law faced three early decisions which may affect the course of its future history. They were:

An early submission to President Hoover—possibly upon prohibition's birthday—of the dry law report of the Wickersham law enforcement commission, admittedly controversy-laden.

A brewing storm upon Capitol Hill over the prohibition bureau's request for 500 additional dry agents and an added appropriation of more than $2,000,000.

Argument within a week in the supreme court over the recent ruling of Judge Clark in New Jersey, holding the eighteenth amendment invalid.

Dry leaders tonight, although conceding few peaceful moments for prohibition in its twelfth year, nevertheless stood firm that the law would remain.

Despite "imperfect observance and enforcement," said a statement tonight from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, prohibition already has increased the national purchasing power by $6,000,000,000 a year.

Is Questioned in Girl's Death

SEWAGE PLANT PLANNED HERE

Escanaba Council Sends Officials on Trip of Inspection

Looking forward to the establishment of a new sewage disposal system in Escanaba and the probable submission of the issue to the vote of the people at the April election, the city council last night delegated City Manager T. F. Kessler and Councilman Edgar Anderson to inspect a newly constructed plant at Petoskey, which is of the type likely suited to Escanaba's needs. It is expected that the inspection trip will be made some time next week. City officials have already been called upon by engineers and representatives of firms supplying sewage plant equipment, and it is expected that some sort of definite plan will be evolved by the time of the next council meeting.

A reassessment of the sewer extension cost on the recently completed job between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets was approved by the council at their meeting

Daisy De Voe May Have Taken More Money, Says State

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (AP)—Daisy De Voe, ex-secretary of Clara Bow, film star, was pictured by the state today as having dipped heavily into her employer's accounts, possibly taking "much more money" than the $16,000 specified in the grand theft indictment on which she is being tried.

David Clark, prosecutor, disclosed 147 cancelled checks, representing as many withdrawals, from Miss Bow's check accounts, were missing. He said documentary evidence indicated the "It" girl's ex-secretary might have embezzled more than $48,000.

Clark pointed out the blonde defendant's confession, as read into the case yesterday, quoted her as admitting she took approximately $35,000.

Labor Federation Okehs Modification

Miami, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Confirmation of reports that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor had approved campaign plans for a prohibition modification movement by the "labor's legislative committee for the modification of the Volstead act," was given today by William Green, president of the federation.

The campaign was approved by the executive council of the federation yesterday. Mr. Green at the time said he had no comment to make. Today he asserted:

"I said yesterday that would be a story for another day. The action of the council on the plan was to have been today's story. There is nothing more to say."

RCA Official Dies From Heart Attack

Livestock Starving to Death in Arkansas, Reported to Red Cross

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Word that thousands of mules and cattle would die of starvation in Arkansas unless feed is furnished at once came today to the Red Cross.

In making public information telegraphed by Dr. William Dekleine from Arkansas, the Red Cross said the final enactment of the feed and seed loan measure came at an opportune time.

Dekleine, national medical director of the organization, was sent into the drought state to report conditions there.

"The feed situation for animals is even more critical than for humans," Dekleine said. "In one small section of one county we had verified reports of some 20 dead mules. I personally saw four of them."

405,000 Getting Aid

All but nine of the 75 counties of Arkansas and one-third the area of Kentucky were said to be receiving food from the Red Cross.

These two states were hardest hit, but the distress had extended to 83 counties in 21 states.

Chairman John Barton Payne announced that 405,000 persons are now being cared for. Cash grants, he said, have totaled $619,781.80 and total expenditures for all types of aid $1,352,837.54.

Fearing increasing illness with winter weather Judge Payne dispatched the national medical director to Arkansas. First, with instructions to go into all the other critical drought centers as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Kleine's first health report received was that conditions in Arkansas had been good because of exceptionally open weather, but that if the cold weather which descended yesterday should continue very long the health situation "may become very serious."

Plenty of good nourishing food and warm clothes are needed, "above everything else in this critical situation," he said.

"Physicians everywhere are giving their services most willingly where necessary," Dr. Dekleine said.

From Kentucky a Red Cross field worker wired:

"Bitter cold intensified suffering of drought stricken farmers in Kentucky mountains and those in small towns made dependent by drought situation."

U. P. Development Body Adopts Active Program

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 15—(Special)—Expressing confidence in the financial stability and future prosperity of the upper peninsula and accepting as a probable fact that the legislature will reenact the Rushton-Hartman law, permitting the state to participate in extensive advertising in behalf of the commonwealth, directors of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau in session here today, adopted a program of activities for 1931, but slightly reduced from the 1930 program, when the peak of the bureau's achievements were recorded. The directors today adopted a budget of expenditures for 1931, but $2,000 less than the total budget for 1930 and made definite plans for the carrying out of one of the most aggressive programs, in behalf of Hiawathaland, in the history of the bureau.

Advertising Campaign

The total advertising budget for the current year was placed at a figure but $1,000 less than the advertising appropriation for 1930, when the most comprehensive campaign in the history of this section of the state was waged. Assurances received by Bureau officials from Gov. Wilber M. Brucker, expressing his conviction that the state must continue its advertising program and, further, carrying the offer of the state's chief executive to make the state advertising bill an administration measure, thoroughly heartened the bureau's officers and directors to plan a campaign of activities for 1931, comparable only to the program carried out in 1930.

Assurance was given to the bureau's officers yesterday by the directors from the various counties of the peninsula that a spirited spring campaign for the renewal of development bureau memberships will result in the high record mark achieved in 1929, being at least equalled in 1931. It was these expressions of confidence in the future, coupled with assurances of favorable action from the state legislature, in appropriating funds that will permit the state to match dollars with the bureau in advertising the advantages of the upper peninsula, that caused the directors to disregard the financial depression and pessimism of the past year and face the new year with extreme confidence in their ability to accomplish outstanding results.

In addition to its advertising program the bureau will carry out a most comprehensive program in behalf of agriculture and the industrial development of this section. The bureau will also cooperate to the fullest extent, as in past years, with the state department of agriculture, the Michigan State college, federal and state forestry departments and other agencies devoted to the advancement of various activities in the peninsula.

Favor Time Change

A special agricultural booklet, together with a special folder devoted to the autumn and winter beauties of Hiawathaland, are to be issued during the coming year, in addition to the regular bureau publications.

The bureau's directors went on record as favoring the adoption of eastern standard time, as the official time for the state of Michigan, by the legislature; in behalf of a tariff on copper; in behalf of a timber crop tax law and other matters of peninsula wide interest.

The annual mid-summer meeting of the bureau, it was voted today, will be held at Houghton.

Report Says Capone Sold Miami Estate

Miami, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—The Miami Herald Says "Scarface" Al Capone today completed the sale of his elaborate Palm Island residence at Miami Beach for $100,000 cash and will leave Miami and Florida for good.

The paper says its information was received from an authentic source. Vincent C. Giblin, Capone attorney here, said he was unable to confirm or deny the report.

The Capone estate is one of the most palatial on an island filled with the homes estates of wealthy winter residents at Miami beach. Capone bought it in 1928, in the name of his wife, Mae Capone, for a reported $40,000 consideration.

He has beautified the property and made several additions, including an elaborate swimming pool at the rear of the estate.

The residence was mentioned in padlock proceedings inaugurated last summer during a community attempt to drive Capone from metropolitan Miami.

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Representative Frank P. Bohn, of Michigan, today introduced bills to authorize the surveys of the harbor at Naubinway and of the Crooked and Indian rivers in Michigan.

PLANES ARRIVE AT BRAZIL PORT

Italian Ships Complete Most Ambitious Trip Ever Attempted

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 15 (AP)—Eleven swift Italian seaplanes today completed the flight of more than 6,000 miles which fourteen began December 17 at Orbetello, Italy.

General Italo Balbo, the 34-year-old Italian air minister, took the eleven ships off the water at Bahia at 8:17 o'clock this morning (6:17 a. m. E.S.T.) and set them down upon beautiful Botafogo bay between 4:54 and 5 o'clock this afternoon (2:54 and 3 p. m. E. S. T.), completing the last lap of 747 miles.

The ships arrived over the Brazilian capital at 3:40 p. m., local time, but circled widely for more than an hour before skimming down to the bay.

From early morning, when notice of the takeoff was bulletined, crowds gathered in front of newspaper offices to watch the progress of the journey, while sirens announced the passage of all important coastal points.

Guests of City

High Brazilian officials stood on the dock of the Fluminense Yacht club while a launch bearing the Italian ambassador and a representative of President Getulio Vargas went out to take General Balbo off his plane.

After a brief ceremony the aviators were taken in motor cars to the Gloria hotel, where they will be the guests of the city while here.

The flight which ended today was one of the most ambitious transoceanic projects ever attempted. When the squadron left Orbetello December 17 for a flight by easy stages to Portuguese Guinea, there were twelve regular planes and two replacement units.

At the trans-Atlantic hopoff from the west African coast two planes met disaster and five of the aviators died. The two replacement units then took the air, but both were forced to come down in mid-ocean. Each was taken in charge by an Italian naval vessel and one was repaired, later joining the ten which soared across to Natal without trouble. The other was wrecked during a storm when it rammed against the side of the towing vessel.

Tire Industry for 1931 Looks Good

Cleveland, Jan. 15 (AP)—Busy days ahead for the tire industry with millions of motorists running their automobiles on casings worn to the cord were predicted today by the Union Trust company of Cleveland.

In a survey the company has just completed, it found that motorists will probably be in the market in 1931 for 61,000,000 casings, or 14 per cent more than they bought last year. This will be 9,000,000 below the 1929 production, which was 16,500,000 above the 1930.

Thirteen Seeking Chicago Mayoralty

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—The race for mayor of Chicago literally turned into a stampede tonight as new aspirants elbowed their way into the field.

The deadline for filing petitions entitling candidates to take part in the primary election next month expired at midnight. By 6 p. m. there were eight Republicans and five Democrats anxious and willing to become the "World's Fair mayor of Chicago."

It was almost a record slate of candidates. A split in Republican ranks accounted for the top-heavy group prepared to take part in that campaign. But Anton J. Cermak, the first Democrat to file, had been endorsed unanimously by party leaders and was expected to go unopposed.

Ex-Treasurer Asks For Examination

Ontonagon, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Carroll Brown, former Ontonagon county treasurer, demanded an examination when arraigned here today in justice court on a warrant charging him with embezzling about $15,000 of county funds. The examination was set for January 23 and Brown was released under bonds of $10,000. It is alleged that Brown misappropriated funds over a period of eight years.

Doomed to Hang, He Writes 11-Year Supply of Letters

By NEA Service

Canon City, Colo., Jan. 15—A doomed murderer scratches away hour after hour in the Colorado state prison here in a strange race to complete the writing of 132 letters before he goes to the gallows during the week ending Jan. 31.

The writer is John Walker, 42, one of three men doomed to die in a triple execution for killing a deputy sheriff near Eads, Colo., after a bank robbery last March. The others are Claude Ray, 24, and Andrew Halliday, 22.

Ray and Halliday smoke and idle away their last days, but not Walker. Seated on the edge of his bunk and bending over a soap box for a desk, he is determined to complete the letters before he dies.

Every one of them is addressed to his 70-year-old mother, Mrs. Julia Rhodes, of Joplin, Mo. But each letter carries a different date. There is one for each month of the next 11 years. That is why there are 132 of them.

The letters are to be entrusted to a friend in Canon City, who will mail one to the mother each month for the next 11 years. In that way she will be misled into believing her son still is alive—that he merely is serving a 20-year prison sentence, a sentence that can be completed in 11 years with good behavior.

By this deception, Walker hopes to save the life of his mother, for she is seriously ill. When her son was sentenced to hang, she was told he had re-

MOVE IS MADE TO RESTRICT WAYNE POWER

COUNTY COULD NOT HAVE MORE THAN 25% OF GROUP

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Legislative reapportionment joined the issues of liquor and economy today as the chief problems facing the current session of the legislature.

A joint resolution to limit the representation of Wayne county to 25 per cent of the legislative membership and restrict initiatory action on reapportionment in the future to the legislature was submitted today in the house by Rep. Len W. Feighner, of Nashville.

Supported by Rural Bloc

Supported by the so-called rural bloc in the lower branch of the legislature, the proposal would add four representatives and one senator to the metropolitan delegation. Wayne county now has 21 representatives and seven senators and the joint resolution would pave the way for eight senators and 25 representatives. The voters last fall turned down a proposal to amend the constitution which would have apportioned the state on a strict population basis to give Wayne a delegation of 40 representatives and 12 senators.

The Feighner resolution would also require a constitutional amendment to become effective. It provides for a popular vote in the November election of 1932. Its sponsor, however, said that if an early vote of approval was indicated in the legislature, the measure will be amended to provide a vote in the spring election.

Specifically, the resolution provides that the legislature shall reapportion legislative membership with a limitation of eight senators and 25 per cent of the house to any one county. The only county that would be affected by the limitation would be Wayne.

The second provision in the resolution would eliminate the possibility of initiating a constitutional amendment on apportionment by petitions as was the case last summer. The power to initiate reapportionment measures would be limited entirely to the legislature. It is the first attempt in some time to limit the initiatory power of the people granted under the constitution. Is sponsor recognized the doubt that two sections of the constitution could be amended by one resolution but said that amendments would rectify any errors.

Wayne Members Opposed

The metropolitan delegation in the house has indicated in private conference its opposition to the measure and is expected to battle it in committee and on the floor of the lower branch should the resolution emerge.

One reason behind the move to limit Wayne's representation to 25 per cent of the legislative membership is found in certain rules which require a two-thirds vote on some measures such as joint resolutions. The rural bloc contends it would be powerless to pass such legislation initiating in its own ranks with the Detroit delegation opposed to it.

Rep. Feighner is field manager of the Michigan Press association, an organization of country weekly publishers. The measure, however, does not represent any action taken by the association. Rep. John Espie, of Eagle, one of the champions of the rural cause in the legislature, was the original sponsor of the apportionment plan.

The legislature is not required to act on apportionment until 1933. The constitution declares that the legislature shall reapportion "in 1913 and each tenth year thereafter."

Plan to Construct Another Building

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Bids for construction of a building for the Michigan Daily and other University of Michigan student publications will be taken within three weeks, Prof. Edson R. Sunderland, chairman of the board in control of student publicans, announced today.

The building is to cost approximately $180,000 and also will house the Gargoyle and Michiganensian. It is planned to have the new structure completed by the fall of 1932.

Mistreatment at Hospital Charged

Lansing, Jan. 13 (AP)—A legislative investigation of the treatment accorded patients in the Kalamazoo State hospital was advocated in a resolution introduced in the senate today by Senator Ernest T. Conlon of Grand Rapids. A committee of four representatives and three senators, clothed with judicial powers was suggested.

As the train arrived bearing his body from Chihuahua, Mexico, where he died from poison taken in a moment of despondency, a line of World war veterans drew to stiff attention. Accord once was one of them.

The military cortege moved to a funeral parlor where the body of "Good Natured Art" will rest until it is carried to the grave at funeral services Saturday.

January 31 Last Day On Old Plates

Lansing, Jan. 15. (AP)—No further extension of time for securing 1931 automobile license plates can be granted, Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, announced today, the law gives the secretary of state authority to extend the time one month only. Fitzgerald already has authorized the use of old plates until February 1.

Requests for a further extension were received from a number of cities including Flint and Grand Rapids.

HOOVER PUTS SIGNATURE ON DROUGHT BILL

BATTLE IN SENATE LOOMS FOR FOOD LOAN FUND

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Hoover late today signed the much disputed drought loan appropriation.

The $45,000,000 becomes immediately available and the machinery already has been set up for loaning it to farmers for buying feed, seed, fertilizer and farm machinery fuel for putting in this year's crop.

Even as the president put the formal finish to the controversy over the measure, lines were stiffening in the senate for another battle over providing money for food.

Senate leaders opened the way for an immediate decision in their branch upon the Democratic proposal for a $25,000,000 appropriation to the Red Cross for relief work.

In working out an agreement to vote on the amendment of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, during consideration of the interior appropriation bill, the bars were opened for consideration of the supply measures which must be cleared away before March 4 if an extra session is to be avoided.

Agreement also was reached to meet an hour earlier tomorrow in an effort to speed consideration of the legislative docket, which is filled with appropriation measures.

The senate also adopted the resolution of Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, requesting the secretary of agriculture in the administration of the $45,000,000 loan for drought stricken farmers not to be bound by geographical lines.

DEMOS CONFIDENT

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Senate Democrats were confident tonight of sufficient votes to put through their $25,000,000 relief appropriation.

The coalition of Democrats and Republican Independents is again lining up to battle with President Hoover. The president has taken the position supported by the house, that the Red Cross can administer all relief needs.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who is sponsoring the $25,000,000 proposal with Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, sought today to get immediate action.

However, when he asked consent to consider the proposition as an amendment to the interior department appropriation bill, Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, withdrew that measure.

Later Smoot agreed to the proposition and an early vote on the Robinson amendment was in sight.

In the Headlines From Washington

President Hoover signed the $45,000,000 drought relief appropriation bill and the Stobbs bill to modify Jones "five and ten" act.

House expenditures committee decided to investigate telephone and telegraph wire tapping by prohibiton bureau agents.

Oil conference urged tariff on that product.

Postmaster General Brown advocated $45,000,000 construction program for postoffices, branches and garages.

Campaign funds committee excused witnesses for Pennsylvania investigation on account of lack of funds.

BY JOHN F. CHESTER

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Eleven years at midnight, prohibition ended the first year of its second decade today with few prospects that its path would lead away from the tumult and controversy that have dogged its history.

Buffeted by foes and fought for by friends since that day in January, 1920, when the Nebraska legislature became the thirty-sixth state to ratify the eighteenth amendment, the law faced three early decisions which may affect the course of its future history. They were:

An early submission to President Hoover—possibly upon prohibition's birthday—of the dry law report of the Wickersham law enforcement commission, admittedly controversy-laden.

A brewing storm upon Capitol Hill over the prohibition bureau's request for 500 additional dry agents and an added appropriation of more than $2,000,000.

Argument within a week in the supreme court over the recent ruling of Judge Clark in New Jersey, holding the eighteenth amendment invalid.

Dry leaders tonight, although conceding few peaceful moments for prohibition in its twelfth year, nevertheless stood firm that the law would remain.

Despite "imperfect observance and enforcement," said a statement tonight from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, prohibition already has increased the national purchasing power by $6,000,000,000 a year.

Is Questioned in Girl's Death

SEWAGE PLANT PLANNED HERE

Escanaba Council Sends Officials on Trip of Inspection

Looking forward to the establishment of a new sewage disposal system in Escanaba and the probable submission of the issue to the vote of the people at the April election, the city council last night delegated City Manager T. F. Kessler and Councilman Edgar Anderson to inspect a newly constructed plant at Petoskey, which is of the type likely suited to Escanaba's needs. It is expected that the inspection trip will be made some time next week. City officials have already been called upon by engineers and representatives of firms supplying sewage plant equipment, and it is expected that some sort of definite plan will be evolved by the time of the next council meeting.

A reassessment of the sewer extension cost on the recently completed job between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets was approved by the council at their meeting

Daisy De Voe May Have Taken More Money, Says State

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (AP)—Daisy De Voe, ex-secretary of Clara Bow, film star, was pictured by the state today as having dipped heavily into her employer's accounts, possibly taking "much more money" than the $16,000 specified in the grand theft indictment on which she is being tried.

David Clark, prosecutor, disclosed 147 cancelled checks, representing as many withdrawals, from Miss Bow's check accounts, were missing. He said documentary evidence indicated the "It" girl's ex-secretary might have embezzled more than $48,000.

Clark pointed out the blonde defendant's confession, as read into the case yesterday, quoted her as admitting she took approximately $35,000.

Labor Federation Okehs Modification

Miami, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Confirmation of reports that the executive council of the American Federation of Labor had approved campaign plans for a prohibition modification movement by the "labor's legislative committee for the modification of the Volstead act," was given today by William Green, president of the federation.

The campaign was approved by the executive council of the federation yesterday. Mr. Green at the time said he had no comment to make. Today he asserted:

"I said yesterday that would be a story for another day. The action of the council on the plan was to have been today's story. There is nothing more to say."

RCA Official Dies From Heart Attack

Livestock Starving to Death in Arkansas, Reported to Red Cross

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Word that thousands of mules and cattle would die of starvation in Arkansas unless feed is furnished at once came today to the Red Cross.

In making public information telegraphed by Dr. William Dekleine from Arkansas, the Red Cross said the final enactment of the feed and seed loan measure came at an opportune time.

Dekleine, national medical director of the organization, was sent into the drought state to report conditions there.

"The feed situation for animals is even more critical than for humans," Dekleine said. "In one small section of one county we had verified reports of some 20 dead mules. I personally saw four of them."

405,000 Getting Aid

All but nine of the 75 counties of Arkansas and one-third the area of Kentucky were said to be receiving food from the Red Cross.

These two states were hardest hit, but the distress had extended to 83 counties in 21 states.

Chairman John Barton Payne announced that 405,000 persons are now being cared for. Cash grants, he said, have totaled $619,781.80 and total expenditures for all types of aid $1,352,837.54.

Fearing increasing illness with winter weather Judge Payne dispatched the national medical director to Arkansas. First, with instructions to go into all the other critical drought centers as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Kleine's first health report received was that conditions in Arkansas had been good because of exceptionally open weather, but that if the cold weather which descended yesterday should continue very long the health situation "may become very serious."

Plenty of good nourishing food and warm clothes are needed, "above everything else in this critical situation," he said.

"Physicians everywhere are giving their services most willingly where necessary," Dr. Dekleine said.

From Kentucky a Red Cross field worker wired:

"Bitter cold intensified suffering of drought stricken farmers in Kentucky mountains and those in small towns made dependent by drought situation."

U. P. Development Body Adopts Active Program

Marnuette, Mich., Jan. 15—(Special)—Expressing confidence in the financial stability and future prosperity of the upper peninsula and accepting as a probable fact that the legislature will reenact the Rushton-Hartman law, permitting the state to participate in extensive advertising in behalf of the commonwealth, directors of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau in session here today, adopted a program of activities for 1931, but slightly reduced from the 1930 program, when the peak of the bureau's achievements were recorded. The directors today adopted a budget of expenditures for 1931, but $2,000 less than the total budget for 1930 and made definite plans for the carrying out of one of the most aggressive programs, in behalf of Hiawathaland, in the history of the bureau.

Advertising Campaign

The total advertising budget for the current year was placed at a figure but $1,000 less than the advertising appropriation for 1930, when the most comprehensive campaign in the history of this section of the state was waged. Assurances received by Bureau officials from Gov. Wilber M. Brucker, expressing his conviction that the state must continue its advertising program and, further, carrying the offer of the state's chief executive to make the state advertising bill an administration measure, thoroughly heartened the bureau's officers and directors to plan a campaign of activities for 1931, comparable only to the program carried out in 1930.

Assurance was given to the bureau's officers yesterday by the directors from the various counties of the peninsula that a spirited spring campaign for the renewal of development bureau memberships will result in the high record mark achieved in 1929, being at least equalled in 1931. It was these expressions of confidence in the future, coupled with assurances of favorable action from the state legislature, in appropriating funds that will permit the state to match dollars with the bureau in advertising the advantages of the upper peninsula, that caused the directors to disregard the financial depression and pessimism of the past year and face the new year with extreme confidence in their ability to accomplish outstanding results.

In addition to its advertising program the bureau will carry out a most comprehensive program in behalf of agriculture and the industrial development of this section. The bureau will also cooperate to the fullest extent, as in past years, with the state department of agriculture, the Michigan State college, federal and state forestry departments and other agencies devoted to the advancement of various activities in the peninsula.

Favor Time Change

A special agricultural booklet, together with a special folder devoted to the autumn and winter beauties of Hiawathaland, are to be issued during the coming year, in addition to the regular bureau publications.

The bureau's directors went on record as favoring the adoption of eastern standard time, as the official time for the state of Michigan, by the legislature; in behalf of a tariff on copper; in behalf of a timber crop tax law and other matters of peninsula wide interest.

The annual mid-summer meeting of the bureau, it was voted today, will be held at Houghton.

Report Says Capone Sold Miami Estate

Miami, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—The Miami Herald Says "Scarface" Al Capone today completed the sale of his elaborate Palm Island residence at Miami Beach for $100,000 cash and will leave Miami and Florida for good.

The paper says its information was received from an authentic source. Vincent C. Giblin, Capone attorney here, said he was unable to confirm or deny the report.

The Capone estate is one of the most palatial on an island filled with the homes estates of wealthy winter residents at Miami beach. Capone bought it in 1928, in the name of his wife, Mae Capone, for a reported $40,000 consideration.

He has beautified the property and made several additions, including an elaborate swimming pool at the rear of the estate.

The residence was mentioned in padlock proceedings inaugurated last summer during a community attempt to drive Capone from metropolitan Miami.

Bohn Introduces Bill for Survey

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Representative Frank P. Bohn, of Michigan, today introduced bills to authorize the surveys of the harbor at Naubinway and of the Crooked and Indian rivers in Michigan.

PLANES ARRIVE AT BRAZIL PORT

Italian Ships Complete Most Ambitious Trip Ever Attempted

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 15 (AP)—Eleven swift Italian seaplanes today completed the flight of more than 6,000 miles which fourteen began December 17 at Orbetello, Italy.

General Italo Balbo, the 34-year-old Italian air minister, took the eleven ships off the water at Bahia at 8:17 o'clock this morning (6:17 a. m. E.S.T.) and set them down upon beautiful Botafogo bay between 4:54 and 5 o'clock this afternoon (2:54 and 3 p. m. E. S. T.), completing the last lap of 747 miles.

The ships arrived over the Brazilian capital at 3:40 p. m., local time, but circled widely for more than an hour before skimming down to the bay.

From early morning, when notice of the takeoff was bulletined, crowds gathered in front of newspaper offices to watch the progress of the journey, while sirens announced the passage of all important coastal points.

Guests of City

High Brazilian officials stood on the dock of the Fluminense Yacht club while a launch bearing the Italian ambassador and a representative of President Getulio Vargas went out to take General Balbo off his plane.

After a brief ceremony the aviators were taken in motor cars to the Gloria hotel, where they will be the guests of the city while here.

The flight which ended today was one of the most ambitious transoceanic projects ever attempted. When the squadron left Orbetello December 17 for a flight by easy stages to Portuguese Guinea, there were twelve regular planes and two replacement units.

At the trans-Atlantic hopoff from the west African coast two planes met disaster and five of the aviators died. The two replacement units then took the air, but both were forced to come down in mid-ocean. Each was taken in charge by an Italian naval vessel and one was repaired, later joining the ten which soared across to Natal without trouble. The other was wrecked during a storm when it rammed against the side of the towing vessel.

Tire Industry for 1931 Looks Good

Cleveland, Jan. 15 (AP)—Busy days ahead for the tire industry with millions of motorists running their automobiles on casings worn to the cord were predicted today by the Union Trust company of Cleveland.

In a survey the company has just completed, it found that motorists will probably be in the market in 1931 for 61,000,000 casings, or 14 per cent more than they bought last year. This will be 9,000,000 below the 1929 production, which was 16,500,000 above the 1930.

Doomed to Hang, He Writes 11-Year Supply of Letters

By NEA Service

Canon City, Colo., Jan. 15—A doomed murderer scratches away hour after hour in the Colorado state prison here in a strange race to complete the writing of 132 letters before he goes to the gallows during the week ending Jan. 31.

The writer is John Walker, 42. one of three men doomed to die in a triple execution for killing a deputy sheriff near Eads, Colo., after a bank robbery last March. The others are Claude Ray, 24, and Andrew Halliday, 22.

Ray and Halliday smoke and idle away their last days, but not Walker. Seated on the edge of his bunk and bending over a soap box for a desk, he is determined to complete the letters before he dies.

Every one of them is addressed to his 70-year-old mother, Mrs. Julia Rhodes, of Joplin, Mo. But each letter carries a different date. There is one for each month of the next 11 years. That is why there are 132 of them.

The letters are to be entrusted to a friend in Canon City, who will mail one to the mother each month for the next 11 years. In that way she will be misled into believing her son still is alive—that he merely is serving a 20-year prison sentence, a sentence that can be completed in 11 years with good behavior.

By this deception, Walker hopes to save the life of his mother, for she is seriously ill. When her son was sentenced to hang, she was told he had re-

Thirteen Seeking Chicago Mayoralty

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—The race for mayor of Chicago literally turned into a stampede tonight as new aspirants elbowed their way into the field.

The deadline for filing petitions entitling candidates to take part in the primary election next month expired at midnight. By 6 p. m. there were eight Republicans and five Democrats anxious and willing to become the "World's Fair mayor of Chicago."

It was almost a record slate of candidates. A split in Republican ranks accounted for the top-heavy group prepared to take part in that campaign. But Anton J. Cermak, the first Democrat to file, had been endorsed unanimously by party leaders and was expected to go unopposed.

Ex-Treasurer Asks For Examination

Ontonagon, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Carroll Brown, former Ontonagon county treasurer, demanded an examination when arraigned here today in justice court on a warrant charging him with embezzling about $15,000 of county funds. The examination was set for January 23 and Brown was released under bonds of $10,000. It is alleged that Brown misappropriated funds over a period of eight years.

MOVE IS MADE TO RESTRICT WAYNE POWER

COUNTY COULD NOT HAVE MORE THAN 25% OF GROUP

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Legislative reapportionment joined the issues of liquor and economy today as the chief problems facing the current session of the legislature.

A joint resolution to limit the representation of Wayne county to 25 per cent of the legislative membership and restrict initiatory action on reapportionment in the future to the legislature was submitted today in the house by Rep. Len W. Feighner, of Nashville.

Supported by Rural Bloc

Supported by the so-called rural bloc in the lower branch of the legislature, the proposal would add four representatives and one senator to the metropolitan delegation. Wayne county now has 21 representatives and seven senators and the joint resolution would pave the way for eight senators and 25 representatives. The voters last fall turned down a proposal to amend the constitution which would have apportioned the state on a strict population basis to give Wayne a delegation of 40 representatives and 12 senators.

The Feighner resolution would also require a constitutional amendment to become effective. It provides for a popular vote in the November election of 1932. Its sponsor, however, said that if an early vote of approval was indicated in the legislature, the measure will be amended to provide a vote in the spring election.

Specifically, the resolution provides that the legislature shall reapportion legislative membership with a limitation of eight senators and 25 per cent of the house to any one county. The only county that would be affected by the limitation would be Wayne.

The second provision in the resolution would eliminate the possibility of initiating a constitutional amendment on apportionment by petitions as was the case last summer. The power to initiate reapportionment measures would be limited entirely to the legislature. It is the first attempt in some time to limit the initiatory power of the people granted under the constituion. Is sponsor recognized the doubt that two sections of the constitution could be amended by one resolution but said that amendments would rectify any errors.

Wayne Members Opposed

The metropolitan delegation in the house has indicated in private conference its opposition to the measure and is expected to battle it in committee and on the floor of the lower branch should the resolution emerge.

One reason behind the move to limit Wayne's representation to 25 per cent of the legislative membership is found in certain rules which require a two-thirds vote on some measures such as joint resolutions. The rural bloc contends it would be powerless to pass such legislation initiating in its own ranks with the Detroit delegation opposed to it.

Rep. Feighner is field manager of the Michigan Press association, an organization of country weekly publishers. The measure, however, does not represent any action taken by the association. Rep. John Epsie, of Eagle, one of the champions of the rural cause in the legislature, was the original sponsor of the apportionment plan.

The legislature is not required to act on apportionment until 1933. The constitution declares that the legislature shall reapportion "in 1913 and each tenth year thereafter."

Plan to Construct Another Building

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Bids for construction of a building for the Michigan Daily and other University of Michigan student publications will be taken within three weeks, Prof. Edson R. Sunderland, chairman of the board in control of student publicans, announced today.

The building is to cost approximately $180,000 and also will house the Gargoyle and Michiganensian. It is planned to have the new structure completed by the fall of 1932.

Mistreatment at Hospital Charged

Lansing, Jan. 13 (AP)—A legislative investigation of the treatment accorded patients in the Kalamazoo State hospital was advocated in a resolution introduced in the senate today by Senator Ernest T. Conlon of Grand Rapids. A committee of four representatives and three senators, clothed with judicial powers was suggested.

QUAKE LEAVES MASS OF RUINS

25 Persons Believed to Have Been Killed in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 15. (AP)—Soldiers were turning over the wreckage of the thriving city of Oaxaca tonight carrying out the bodies of men and women who perished in the eathquake which last night rocked southern Mexico.

At least twelve persons perished any many more were injured, but telegraphic communication was impossible and radio messages irregular. The city itself, fragmentary messages said, was in ruins and the panic stricken people slept in the open despite intense cold because they were afraid to go back to such homes as were left standing.

The only clear picture of the disaster came out of the ruined city in a message to President Ortiz Rubio from General Evaristo Peres, the military commander in the state of Oaxaca.

Confusion Exists.

It was he who said that at least 25 persons had been killed or injured. Another message to the department of communications said that 12 had been killed but this could not be verified immediately.

"It is impossible to describe the confusion here," the general's message said. "The loss is incalculable at least 25 persons have been killed or injured and we are still discovering bodies of the dead."

The general's home was destroyed and he was living in his automobile, he said. The military barracks was in ruins and a colonel of calvary was one of those killed. The police were helping the soldiers to search the ruins for additional victims.

The epicentor of the quake, which struck Oaxaca at about ten o'clock last night, was placed a few miles northeast of the city. Mexico City itself was shaken for four minutes and one person was killed and 25 injured. There also was considerable property damage.

last night. The revised assessment brings the cost per lot down from $109 to $78. It was decided to make the amounts payable in three annual installments, the first due June 1.

Unemployment Easing Up

A total of $6,092 was spent by the city up to December 31 in providing work for the unemployed, City Manager Kessler reported. Practically all of the money has been spent on improvements through which the entire city will benefit. The city manager said that the employment situation was now easing up somewhat, due to the fact that a number of men were securing work with local industries which are now expanding their operations, and others are expected to be absorbed by plants planning to start up shortly.

The fire chief's report showed 15 fire calls in December, with a total estimated damage of $2,455. The major part of this total was made up by three fires. Justice of the peace reports showed $157.90 in fines collected under city ordinances during the last month. Expenditures for poor relief for the past month reached a total of $1,614.39, the highest on record.

Reappointment by the mayor of J. J. Cox and Mrs. Barbara Semer to the library board of trustees was confirmed by the council. The city clerk read a communication from Mrs. W. P. Schuldes, president of the Escanaba Woman's club, calling attention to the district convention to be held in Escanaba, May 20-21.

Green Will Feature Summer Ensembles

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Prepare yourself for the news, Mr. Well Dressed Man. The color for your spring and summer sports and business clothes is—green.

That's the word that came today from the semi-annual convention of the International Association of Clothing Designers.

Here's more of the style forecast:

Shoulders will be broader, the designers decreed, waists slimmer and higher, coats, longer pockets set high, sleeves narrow at the hand without being stinted, and return of the notched lapel is favored for sports clothes.

Predominating colors for sports wear will be bottle green and a deep, dark blue. Men's sports coats to be worn with flannels are trimmed with white pearl buttons, patch pockets and belted backs. One display of men's business suits was of bright green of intricate weave and elaborated with bright green buttons. One-button coats will be a predominating feature.

Traffic In Tunnel Equals Estimates

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Judson Bradway, president of the Detroit and Canada Tunnel company, said today that despite unfavorable conditions traffic in the Detroit-Windsor tunnel during the first nine weeks of operation approximately equaled engineers' estimates made three years ago. From November 3, 1930, when the tunnel was opened to traffic, until January 4, 1931, 189,585 vehicles and 726,620 bus passengers used the tunnel. The number of vehicles slightly exceeded the number carried by ferry for the same period the year before, Mr. Bradway said.

ASK INCREASE IN PROHIBITION WORKING FUND

the state enforcement statutes.

Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, one of the wet leaders, has pointed out that more agents will be needed in the wet states and the attorney general in his testimony described conditions in the vicinity of the District of Columbia and the fact that there was a large amount of liquor coming into the city of Washington from the neighboring wet state of Maryland.

Liquor in Washington.

"Right here in the District of Columbia," said the attorney general, "more liquor is being handled than there should be. It all boils down to the fact that over in Maryland in certain counties where there is no state assistance, the liquor is being manufactured and it gets into what I call the channels of trade in such quantities. It can be put into automobiles for transportation and the law does not allow us to stop motor cars without a warrant, based on probable cause.

"The automobile problem is a difficult one. The result is that in order to protect neighboring territory the federal government has to try to get at the source of the liquor and increase the number of agents in wet states to prevent the manufacture of liquor there to be transported into neighboring states. It is like the drug business, only to a less degree. I think those that have been interested in the drug conditions realize that once narcotic drugs get into the channels of trade it is very difficult to control them. You have to get back to the source."

This line of argument by the attorney general unquestionably will be the basis for an attack by the drys on those who were advocating repeal of the Eighteenth amendment so that the states may decide for themselves what they will do about prohibition. Mr. Mitchell is emphasizing the difficulties that would arise if certain states were permitted to be wet while others had dry laws. Before the present session of Congress is over, prohibition will be found to have consumed as much time as any of the other issues and while it is not expected to delay the appropriation bill carrying more funds for enforcement, it will furnish both houses with an opportunity to discuss the whole prohibition question.

Patrolman Captures 5 Men Singlehanded

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Five men captured single-handed by Patrolman Ross C. Sayler were ordered held until Saturday by Recorder's Judge Henry S. Sweeny today when they appeared before him on writs of habeas corpus.

Judge Sweeny postponed the hearing on the writs at the request of the prosecutor's office. The police claim the men are members of the Purple gang. They were arrested last night by Patrolman Sayler after they had forced their way into the home of Frank L. Kaier, 10261 Forst Street West, and were beating Kaier with revolvers. They are Harry Keywell, brother of Phillip Keywell, ganster now serving a life sentence; Sam Bernstein, Jacob Wellman, Harry Altman and Harry Millman.

Clipping of Dogs Ears Prohibited Under Conlon Bill

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—A bill which two years ago caused former Governor Fred W. Green more trouble than any other legislative proposal, cropped out in the senate again today.

Sponsored by Senator Ernest T. Conlon, of Grand Rapids, the measure would classify clipping of dogs ears as cruelty to animals, and would be punishable with the same penalties applied to those who kick horses in the ribs or maltreat kittens or other pets.

The 1929 legislature passed an anti-ear cropping bill. Telegrams letters and delegations descended upon Governor Green. Some declared ear cropping is savage brutality. Others asserted it is not cruel and argued that certain breeds of dogs must have their ears clipped before they can be entered in shows. The governor wavered this way and that. He finally vetoed the bill because, he admitted, his daughter Peggy had some sort of dogs which must have cropped ears.

Reading Demands Bowles Apologize For Campaign Talk

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—City Clerk Richard W. Reading's demand that Charles Bowles make him a public apology for remarks made subsequent to the recall campaign last summer was answered by an unconditional refusal by the former mayor today.

Reading in a speech of radio station WMBC last night said the former mayor had attacked him because of his refusal to block the filing of petitions for the latter's recall. He cited the recent Supreme court decision overruling the action of the Hamtramck city clerk in refusing similar petitions.

WIRE TAPPING POLICY SCORED

House Committee Plans Investigation Into Dry Bureau

BY CLARENCE M. WRIGHT

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Wire tapping by the prohibition bureau to obtain evidence is to be scrutinized by the house expenditures committee.

The committee today adopted a motion by Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, an anti-prohibitionist, to that effect after he had said the bureau was tapping wires in violation of state laws.

The first hearing, Chairman Williamson announced, will be held January 29. The committee proposes to call Attorney General Mitchell, Prohibition Director Woodcock and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department investigation bureau.

Schafer read to the committee portions of a letter from the Cincinnati and Suburban Bell Telephone company which said that last November the prohibition bureau had agreed to cease tapping wires, but that since that time "three agents were apprehended" as they attempted to listen in on private lines.

Against State Law

"The telephone company's protests seem to be of no avail," Schafer said. "On November 26, after the agreement was supposed to have been made, one of the government agents, producing a shield and identification, a photograph and card, approached one of the employes of the company and offered him $50 to tap a wire the following day."

The Cincinnati company, Schafer added, was in "an unhappy position" because the prohibition agents "insist upon tapping wires while the state law subjects the offender to as much as three years in jail and a fine of $1,000."

He quoted testimony of Woodcock, Mitchell and Hoover to show that although Hoover's department does not condone the practice, it is the "policy" of the prohibition bureau.

"One branch of the justice department," Schafer explained, "says it is all right—the other fires a man for doing it."

Packing President Is Killed In Fall

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—F. Edison White, 57, president of Armour and company, was killed tonight by a fall from a bedroom window at his North Side home.

The multi-millionaire packer came to his death by accident, in the opinion of Coroner P. J. Dwyer, and P. L. Reed, treasurer of Armour and company.

Reed said he had been talking to White just five minutes before he toppled from the window. At that time White was sitting on the sill "to get a little air," he explained to Reed.

He was alone in the room at the time of the fall.

Mr. White, one of the best known financiers of the midwest, had been president of Armour and company since 1923. He likewise was a director of many large banks.

It was Reed's belief that an accidental blow suffered by White at a banquet of Armour employes yesterday had caused him to becme dizzy and lose his balance.

Frederick Opposed By Dry Association

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—The Rev. R. N. Holsaple, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, stated today that his organization has filed objections in Washington to the appointment of Gregory Frederick as United States district attorney for the eastern Michigan district.

Mr. Frederick has been nominated by Senator James Couzens to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of John R. Watkins, under whom he was assistant district attorney.

Holsaple said the objections filed at Washington were specific rather than general. He said his organization did not consider Fredericks friendly to the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. Holsaple said his organization had suggested the names of several persons who were acceptable to it.

Lansing Attorney May be Disbarred

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Three circuit judges will determine here Monday whether William F. Cairns, Lansing attorney, will be disbarred.

Cairns is charged by six clients with unethical practices including an alleged reicpt of funds without initiating suit. The attorney denies the charges. Joseph Gillis, assistant attorney general, will represent the state of the disbarment proceedings.

Judges Henry Smith, of Caro, Samuel Houghton, Bay City, and Ray Hart, of Mid'and, will hear the proceedings. Among the complaining witnesses against Cairns will be W. F. Gross, Pontiac; William Gross, Mason; Maurice F. Compton, Leslie, and James H. Woodworth, Okemos.

HEARING CONTINUED

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Hearing on the petition of the Home Telephone Co. for an increase in rates at its Muskegon exchange was continued today and tomorrow by the state public utilities commission. The hearing follows an appraisal of company valuations by the commission.

Lucky 13 Minstrels Feature New Song

Selection of members of the cast for the Lucky 13 Minstrel show will begin today when the first tryouts are held at Escanaba high school. Committee 13 of the high school will sponsor this show which will be presented on Friday, February 13.

This show will serve as the vehicle which will introduce a new song to the public. "I Love You, Dear One" is tne song. Mrs. Carrie Norton wrote the words while the music was composed by Miss Essie Cook. The few who have been privileged to hear this song promise that it will make a hit.

Committee 13 may be superstitious, but it is an unusual form of superstition which leads them to select Friday the 13th as the date for the presentation of their newest venture. The Lucky 13 Minstrel show carries a 13 theme throughout. Thirteen high school musicians under the direction of R. P. Bowers form the orchestra which will furnish music for the occasion. Mr. E. J Nicholas, faculty advisor for Committee 13 has announced that thirteen girls of the Esky Mortarboard society will serve as ushers.

Regular rehearsals will commence today and the show will be whipped into shape that it may prove as successful as the minstrel shows that in past years have delighted audiences in Escanaba high school.

Brucker Appoints Prison Commission

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—John W. Miner, Jackson Democrat, will be retained on the state prison commission according to an announcement today by Governor Wilber M. Brucker. Some time ago the entire commission appointed by former Governor Green tendered their resignations to Governor Brucker "to relieve him from embarrassment."

Naming Miner as chairman, Gov. Brucker reappointed Coleman C. Vaughn, of St. Johns. Three new appointees are Clark Wilbur, of Grand Rapids, Walter Bries, of Marquette and Charles Van Dusen, of Detroit. They replace James C. Quinlan, of Grand Rapids, John J. Pascoe, of Ishpeming and Dan Collins of Detroit.

Governor Brucker reappointed all but one of the members of the Green institute commission. Jacob H. Teketee, of Grand Rapids was made chairman. George A. Smith, of Plymouth, Katherine A. Feeney, of Detroit and William W. Blackney, of Flint, were reappointed. Dr. Frank A. Gorman of Saginaw, was named to succeed J. Charles Fruch of Saginaw.

Murder Witness Victim of Attack

Portland, Ore., Jan. 15 (AP)—Mrs. W. H. Howard, important witness in the mystery slaying of Mrs. Leone Bowles, Portland society woman, was stabbed twice above the heart and beaten on the head today by a man who seized her as she stepped to the back porch of her home.

The unidentified assailant escaped. The victim's condition was critical. Several weeks ago Mrs. Howard was beaten by two men who entered her home. She said she was threatened with death if she testified in the Bowles case.

Nelson C. Bowles, millionaire and his former secretary Irma Loucks Paris, are charged with stabbing Mrs. Bowles, the capitalist's wife to death.

She was found dead in the apartment of Mrs. Paris. Bowles and Mrs. Paris said she took her own life after upbraiding them for their intimacies.

Stock Breaks When Company Liquidates

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—The appointment of a receiver for Richfield Oil Co. of California today was accompanied by heavy liquidation of the common stock, which broke to $2.75 a share, compared to its 1930 peak of $28.25.

Although the action was not announced until early afternoon, the stock was under pressure at the opening of the market. The initial transaction was a sale of 20,000 shares at $3.50, off $1. It closed at $2.87, off $1.62. The 6 per cent bonds dropped $13.50 to $41 per $100 par value.

The financial district had heard from time to time that Richfield, lacking adequate working capital, was seeking to merge with another company. When William C. McDuffie, president of Pacific Western Oil, came to the presidency of Richfield a month ago, it was reported that plans were afoot to fund the company's indebtedness.

ASK PAYMENTS ON WAR BONUS

Hoover and congress. Senator Ernest T. Conlon, of Grand Rapids, replied by saying every agency should urge immediate bonus payments. In his city, he said, many veterans are in need. The roll call revealed only Senator Branson voting against the resolution which now will be sent to President Hoover and members of congress, even though, as Senator Norman B. Horton expressed it, congress may not give it much attention.

The senate concurred in the adoption of a resolution by Rep. Dykstra of Grand Rapids, memorilizing congress to take action on the St. Lawrence waterway.

A bill was introduced by Senator Branson, providing that school teachers be required to take an oath, when they sign their contracts, pledging them to uphold the constitution, "by precept and example promote respect of the flag and reverance for law and order and undivided allegiance to the government."

A resolution was submitted on behalf of the Saginaw real estate board protesting against further real estate property tax exemptions. The document said there were reports that bills would be introduced seeking to exempt fraternity and sorority property.

In the house a measure was offered by Rep. Alex J. Cuthbertson, of Flint to require every person in the state above 16 years of age to be fingerprinted before January 1, 1932. Copies of the prints would be on file with the local police departments and the state department of public safety. Its sponsor claimed the measure could help in the rapid solution of crime.

Cuthbertson offered another bill to prevent banks from investing their funds in foreign securities.

McRae Letter Says He Was Disgusted With Son's Action

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—A letter from the late Milton A. McRae, millionaire newspaper publisher, in which he expressed himself as "sick and disgusted" with the failure of his son, Lindsay, to hold a job and live within his allowance, was read in circuit court today in the trial of the son's suit to break his father's will.

Under the will the younger McRae was left an income of $350 a month in addition to $150 a month for his daughter. The estate, estimated at between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000, went principally to Lindsay McRae's two sisters, Mrs. Helen Henderson and Mrs. Marie Temple. McRae is charging that his sisters and his father's secretary, Leslie C. Travenor, influenced the elder McRae against him.

In another letter, read by James O. Murfin, attorney for the estate the older McRae said to his son: "You make me think of a loafer; you are always asking for money. I bought you an automobile to use in your business, not to take the ladies riding. Sell your car, pay your debts and go elsewhere.

Kelley and Wilbur Face Each Other

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Without exchanging words, Secretary Wilbur and Ralph S. Kelley, who have criticized each other at a distance, faced each other today for the first time.

The interior department head and the former chief of field investigations were summoned to advise the house public lands committee on legislation on the subject of their disagreement—oil shale lands.

Kelley has charged the department favored large oil companies in disposing of such land in Colorado.

The department of justice exonerated the interior department and Kelley was dismissed from the government service.

Three Escape Jail After Sawing Bars

Ionia, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Central Michigan officers tonight were searching for three men who sawed their way out of the Ionia county jail here at 4 a. m. and apparently escaped in an automobile furnished by an accomplice.

The fugitives are F. Earlm Weinert, 31, said to be a Lansing drug salesman, awaiting trial on a forgery charge; Louis Bice, 24, of Ionia, awaiting trial on a charge of criminal assault, and Charles Furman, 22, serving a 20-day sentence for disorderly conduct.

The men sawed their way out of the cell block and entered the outer corridor where they sawed through a rear window.

A new Recipe

Creamette Noodles With Frankfurters

1 pkg. Creamette Egg Noodles
5 frankfurters
4 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups canned tomatoes
½ tsp. prepared mustard
2 tblsps. minced parsley
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 medium onion (sliced)
1 stalk celery (chopped)

Boil the Creamette Egg Noodles according to directions on the package. Skin the frankfurters. Melt the shortening, add the onion and frankfurters, then cook, stirring constantly until the frankfurters are browned. Remove the frankfurters. Discard the browned onion and add to the shortening, the flour made into a paste with two tablespoons water. Then add the tomatoes, celery, salt, pepper and mustard. Cook 15 minutes. Arrange the noodles on a hot platter and pour the sauce over them. In the center place frankfurters, garnished with parsley.

OBITUARY

GEORGE RAMSPECK

Word was received in the city last night of the death of George Ramspeck, Sr. Mr. Ramspeck passed away at 4 p. m. at the Mayo Brothers' Clinic at Rochester, Minn. No details accompanied the message telling of his death. Mr. Ramspeck had gone to Rochester a week ago to enter the Clinic, accompanied by Mrs. Ramspeck, who was there at the time of the death.

The survivors, in addition to his widow, are one son, George Jr., a grandson, George III, and a brother, Wm. Ramspeck, all of this city, two sisters also survive, Miss Ida Glaser of Madison, Wisconsin, and Miss Carrie Ramspeck of New York City.

The body will be shipped to this city accompanied by Mrs. Ramspeck. Funeral arrangements will not be completed until the arrival of Mrs. Ramspeck in Escanaba.

Two giant seals were washed ashore recently near Pwllheli, Wales.

Complaints Made On Rink Rough-housing

Rink hogs, rough-housers and rowdies are spoiling the fun for young skaters at municipal rinks, judging from complaints received by city officials. These tactics are likely to result in a closer supervision of the rinks this season, and unless curbed may bring about a suspension of the ice skating facilities maintained by the city.

Shelter houses erected for the comfort of skaters have proven to be centers of disturbances, and as a result the city officials have hesitated to provide such shelters for rinks not so equipped. Attention has already been called to irregularities in the conduct of young people who utilize the shanties for rowdyism instead of the clean fun of skating.

Special supervision will be provided during evening skating hours as an experiment in removing causes for complaint and making the ice areas safe for skaters of all ages.

England now has 54,000 female post office department employes.

25 Persons Believed to Have Been Killed in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 15. (AP)—Soldiers were turning over the wreckage of the thriving city of Oaxaca tonight carrying out the bodies of men and women who perished in the eathquake which last night rocked southern Mexico.

At least twelve persons perished any many more were injured, but telegraphic communication was impossible and radio messages irregular. The city itself, fragmentary messages said, was in ruins and the panic stricken people slept in the open despite intense cold because they were afraid to go back to such homes as were left standing.

The only clear picture of the disaster came out of the ruined city in a message to President Ortiz Rubio from General Evaristo Perez, the military commander in the state of Oaxaca.

Confusion Exists.

It was he who said that at least 25 persons had been killed or injured. Another message to the department of communications said that 12 had been killed but this could not be verified immediately.

"It is impossible to describe the confusion here," the general's message said. "The loss is incalculable at least 25 persons have been killed or injured and we are still discovering bodies of the dead."

The general's home was destroyed and he was living in his automobile, he said. The military barracks was in ruins and a colonel of calvary was one of those killed. The police were helping the soldiers to search the ruins for additional victims.

The epicenter of the quake, which struck Oaxaca at about ten o'clock last night, was placed a few miles northeast of the city. Mexico City itself was shaken for four minutes and one person was killed and 25 injured. There also was considerable property damage.

SEWAGE PLANT PLANNED HERE

last night. The revised assessment brings the cost per lot down from $109 to $78. It was decided to make the amounts payable in three annual installments, the first due June 1.

Unemployment Easing Up

A total of $6,092 was spent by the city up to December 31 in providing work for the unemployed, City Manager Kessler reported. Practically all of the money has been spent on improvements through which the entire city will benefit. The city manager said that the employment situation was now easing up somewhat, due to the fact that a number of men were securing work with local industries which are now expanding their operations, and others are expected to be absorbed by plants planning to start up shortly.

The fire chief's report showed 15 fire calls in December, with a total estimated damage of $2,455. The major part of this total was made up by three fires. Justice of the peace reports showed $157.90 in fines collected under city ordinances during the last month. Expenditures for poor relief for the past month reached a total of $1,614.39, the highest on record.

Reappointment by the mayor of J. J. Cox and Mrs. Barbara Semer to the library board of trustees was confirmed by the council. The city clerk read a communication from Mrs. W. P. Schuldes, president of the Escanaba Woman's club, calling attention to the district convention to be held in Escanaba, May 20-21.

Green Will Feature Summer Ensembles

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Prepare yourself for the news, Mr. Well Dressed Man. The color for your spring and summer sports and business clothes is—green.

That's the word that came today from the semi-annual convention of the International Association of Clothing Designers.

Here's more of the style forecast:

Shoulders will be broader, the designers decreed, waists slimmer and higher, coats, longer pockets set high, sleeves narrow at the hand without being stinted, and return of the notched lapel is favored for sports clothes.

Predominating colors for sports wear will be bottle green and a deep, dark blue. Men's sports coats to be worn with flannels are trimmed with white pearl buttons, patch pockets and belted backs. One display of men's business suits was of bright green of intricate weave and elaborated with bright green buttons. One-button coats will be a predominating feature.

Traffic In Tunnel Equals Estimates

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Judson Bradway, president of the Detroit and Canada Tunnel company, said today that despite unfavorable conditions traffic in the Detroit-Windsor tunnel during the first nine weeks of operation approximately equaled engineers' estimates made three years ago. From November 3, 1930, when the tunnel was opened to traffic, until January 4, 1931, 189,585 vehicles and 726,620 bus passengers used the tunnel. The number of vehicles slightly exceeded the number carried by ferry for the same period the year before, Mr. Bradway said.

ASK INCREASE IN PROHIBITION WORKING FUND

the state enforcement statutes.

Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts, one of the wet leaders, has pointed out that more agents will be needed in the wet states and the attorney general in his testimony described conditions in the vicinity of the District of Columbia and the fact that there was a large amount of liquor coming into the city of Washington from the neighboring wet state of Maryland.

Liquor in Washington.

"Right here in the District of Columbia," said the attorney general, "more liquor is being handled than there should be. It all boils down to the fact that over in Maryland in certain counties where there is no state assistance, the liquor is being manufactured and it gets into what I call the channels of trade in such quantities. It can be put into automobiles for transportation and the law does not allow us to stop motor cars without a warrant, based on probable cause.

"The automobile problem is a difficult one. The result is that in order to protect neighboring territory the federal government has to try to get at the source of the liquor and increase the number of agents in wet states to prevent the manufacture of liquor there to be transported into neighboring states. It is like the drug business, only to a less degree. I think those that have been interested in the drug conditions realize that once narcotic drugs get into the channels of trade it is very difficult to control them. You have to get back to the source."

This line of argument by the attorney general unquestionably will be the basis for an attack by the drys on those who were advocating repeal of the Eighteenth amendment so that the states may decide for themselves what they will do about prohibition. Mr. Mitchell is emphasizing the difficulties that would arise if certain states were permitted to be wet while others had dry laws. Before the present session of Congress is over, prohibition will be found to have consumed as much time as any of the other issues and while it is not expected to delay the appropriation bill carrying more funds for enforcement, it will furnish both houses with an opportunity to discuss the whole prohibition question.

Patrolman Captures 5 Men Singlehanded

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Five men captured single-handed by Patrolman Ross C. Sayler were ordered held until Saturday by Recorder's Judge Henry S. Sweeny today when they appeared before him on writs of habeas corpus.

Judge Sweeny postponed the hearing on the writs at the request of the prosecutor's office. The police claim the men are members of the Purple gang. They were arrested last night by Patrolman Sayler after they had forced their way into the home of Frank L. Kaier, 10261 Forst Street West, and were beating Kaier with revolvers. They are Harry Keywell, brother of Phillip Keywell, ganster now serving a life sentence; Sam Bernstein, Jacob Wellman, Harry Altman and Harry Millman.

Clipping of Dogs Ears Prohibited Under Conlon Bill

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—A bill which two years ago caused former Governor Fred W. Green more trouble than any other legislative proposal, cropped out in the senate again today.

Sponsored by Senator Ernest T. Conlon, of Grand Rapids, the measure would classify clipping of dogs ears as cruelty to animals, and would be punishable with the same penalties applied to those who kick horses in the ribs or maltreat kittens or other pets.

The 1929 legislature passed an anti-ear cropping bill. Telegrams letters and delegations descended upon Governor Green. Some declared ear cropping is savage brutality. Others asserted it is not cruel and argued that certain breeds of dogs must have their ears clipped before they can be entered in shows. The governor wavered this way and that. He finally vetoed the bill because, he admitted, his daughter Peggy had some sort of dogs which must have cropped ears.

Reading Demands Bowles Apologize For Campaign Talk

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—City Clerk Richard W. Reading's demand that Charles Bowles make him a public apology for remarks made subsequent to the recall campaign last summer was answered by an unconditional refusal by the former mayor today.

Reading in a speech of radio station WMBC last night said the former mayor had attacked him because of his refusal to block the filing of petitions for the latter's recall. He cited the recent Supreme court decision overruling the action of the Hamtramck city clerk in refusing similar petitions.

WIRE TAPPING POLICY SCORED

House Committee Plans Investigation Into Dry Bureau

BY CLARENCE M. WRIGHT

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Wire tapping by the prohibition bureau to obtain evidence is to be scrutinized by the house expenditures committee.

The committee today adopted a motion by Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, an anti-prohibitionist, to that effect after he had said the bureau was tapping wires in violation of state laws.

The first hearing, Chairman Williamson announced, will be held January 29. The committee proposes to call Attorney General Mitchell, Prohibition Director Woodcock and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department investigation bureau.

Schafer read to the committee portions of a letter from the Cincinnati and Suburban Bell Telephone company which said that last November the prohibition bureau had agreed to cease tapping wires, but that since that time "three agents were apprehended" as they attempted to listen in on private lines.

Against State Law

"The telephone company's protests seem to be of no avail," Schafer said. "On November 26, after the agreement was supposed to have been made, one of the government agents, producing a shield and identification, a photograph and card, approached one of the employes of the company and offered him $50 to tap a wire the following day."

The Cincinnati company, Schafer added, was in "an unhappy position" because the prohibition agents "insist upon tapping wires while the state law subjects the offender to as much as three years in jail and a fine of $1,000."

He quoted testimony of Woodcock, Mitchell and Hoover to show that although Hoover's department does not condone the practice, it is the "policy" of the prohibition bureau.

"One branch of the justice department," Schafer explained, "says it is all right—the other fires a man for doing it."

Packing President Is Killed In Fall

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—F. Edison White, 57, president of Armour and company, was killed tonight by a fall from a bedroom window at his North Side home.

The multi-millionaire packer came to his death by accident, in the opinion of Coroner P. J. Dwyer, and P. L. Reed, treasurer of Armour and company.

Reed said he had been talking to White just five minutes before he toppled from the window. At that time White was sitting on the sill "to get a little air," he explained to Reed.

He was alone in the room at the time of the fall.

Mr. White, one of the best known financiers of the midwest, had been president of Armour and company since 1923. He likewise was a director of many large banks.

It was Reed's belief that an accidental blow suffered by White at a banquet of Armour employes yesterday had caused him to beocme dizzy and lose his balance.

Frederick Opposed By Dry Association

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—The Rev. R. N. Holsaple, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, stated today that his organization has filed objections in Washington to the appointment of Gregory Frederick as United States district attorney for the eastern Michigan district.

Mr. Frederick has been nominated by Senator James Couzens to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of John R. Watkins, under whom he was assistant district attorney.

Holsaple said the objections filed at Washington were specific rather than general. He said his organization did not consider Fredericks friendly to the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. Holsaple said his organization had suggested the names of several persons who were acceptable to it.

Lansing Attorney May be Disbarred

Three Escape Jail After Sawing Bars

Ionia, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Central Michigan officers tonight were searching for three men who sawed their way out of the Ionia county jail here at 4 a. m. and apparently escaped in an automobile furnished by an accomplice.

The fugitives are F. Earlm Weinert, 31, said to be a Lansing drug salesman, awaiting trial on a forgery charge; Louis Bice, 24, of Ionia, awaiting trial on a charge of criminal assault, and Charles Furman, 22, serving a 20-day sentence for disorderly conduct.

The men sawed their way out of the cell block and entered the outer corridor where they sawed through a rear window.

A new Recipe

Creamette Noodles With Frankfurters

1 pkg. Creamette Egg Noodles
5 frankfurters
4 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups canned tomatoes
½ tsp. prepared mustard
2 tblsps. minced parsley
⅛ teaspoon salt ¼ teaspoon pepper
1 medium onion (sliced) 1 stalk celery (chopped)

Boil the Creamette Egg Noodles according to directions on the package. Skin the frankfurters. Melt the shortening, add the onion and frankfurters, then cook, stirring constantly until the frankfurters are browned. Remove the frankfurters. Discard the browned onion and add to the shortening, the flour made into a paste with two tablespoons water. Then add the tomatoes, celery, salt, pepper and mustard. Cook 15 minutes. Arrange the noodles on a hot platter and pour the sauce over them. In the center place frankfurters, garnished with parsley.

OBITUARY

GEORGE RAMSPECK

Word was received in the city last night of the death of George Ramspeck, Sr. Mr. Ramspeck passed away at 4 p. m. at the Mayo Brothers' Clinic at Rochester, Minn. No details accompanied the message telling of his death. Mr. Ramspeck had gone to Rochester a week ago to enter the Clinic, accompanied by Mrs. Ramspeck, who was there at the time of the death.

The survivors, in addition to his widow, are one son, George Jr., a grandson, George III, and a brother, Wm. Ramspeck, all of this city, two sisters also survive, Miss Ida Glaser of Madison, Wisconsin, and Miss Carrie Ramspeck of New York City.

The body will be shipped to this city accompanied by Mrs. Ramspeck. Funeral arrangements will not be completed until the arrival of Mrs. Ramspeck in Escanaba.

Two giant seals were washed ashore recently near Pwllheli, Wales.

Complaints Made On Rink Rough-housing

Rink hogs, rough-housers and rowdies are spoiling the fun for young skaters at municipal rinks, judging from complaints received by city officials. These tactics are likely to result in a closer supervision of the rinks this season, and unless curbed may bring about a suspension of the ice skating facilities maintained by the city.

Shelter houses erected for the comfort of skaters have proven to be centers of disturbances, and as a result the city officials have hesitated to provide such shelters for rinks not so equipped. Attention has already been called to irregularities in the conduct of young people who utilize the shanties for rowdyism instead of the clean fun of skating.

Special supervision will be provided during evening skating hours as an experiment in removing causes for complaint and making the ice areas safe for skaters of all ages.

England now has 54,000 female post office department employes.

CANCER 'CURES' ARE DEPLORED

University Pathologist Says Heritage Plays Part in Disease

Ann Arbor—Cancer is an abnormal and malignant degeneration of body cells which may occur in any person so predisposed whenever age or some special irritation permits degeneration to begin, and is not a disease caused by a special germ or chemical substance, hence so-called cures which attempt to treat it from those angles are foredoomed to failure, declares Dr. Aldred Scott Warthin, director of the pathological laboratories of the University of Michigan in an editorial in the Annals of Internal Medicine.

"During the last forty years an almost annual expoitation of "cancer cures" has occurred, has had its brief season of notoriety, and failing, as all such must fail, has passed into obvilion, but carrying with them the hopes of many unfortunate persons," stated Dr. Warthin. The first type of treatments to fail were those which took for granted that cancer was an infectious disease caused by some germ or other living organism. Today, after innumerable experiments, there is no evidence to substantiate this view. Since no germ is present, and cancer shows no tendency to cure itself by developing antibodies, any treatment based on serums or vaccines is theoretically and practically worthless."

Situation Not Hopeless

An even older method of approach is the attempt to destroy cancer cells within the body, states Dr. Warthin. Zinc, arsenic and other corrosive pastes and salves have been used for many years under the impression that they would "eat out" the cancer. Usually, however, the effect was to stimulate the growth and frequently to develop ulceration and gangrenous sloughing as well. Quacks and "Indian herb doctors" were special offenders in this field. However the attempts of science to obtain a medicine which might be taken to kill the cancer cells has been equally fruitless since to kill all the cancer cells by chemicals would mean the death also of the body cells, and probably that these cells would die before the cancer cells because of the greater freedom of the latter from the general body metabolism and chemistry.

"Cancer is not simply a local disease; we know now that it is primarily a disease of the entire organism, an anomaly of the individual constitution. The general constitutional predisposition determines whether an individual can have cancer, its particular site is the organ or tissue which is most susceptible. The predisposition, not the cancer proper, is probably inherited. The cancer develops when, because of an irritation, age, or other condition the body cannot maintain all cells at normal, and malignant degeneration occurs in some of them."

"The public ought to know these facts to protect themselves by early attention. The situation is not as hopeless as it might seem, however. Three lines of attack are open—breeding out the inherited family strains, correction of congenital anomalies and removal of sources of irritation to avoid development; and early and complete surgical removal, the best hope for a permanent cure in individual cases."

Michigan Scientist's Discovery Aids Attack on Elusive Germs

Ann Arbor, Jan. 15—New light on the life history of disease germs, indicating that their behavior is more complex than heretofore thought, and that they commonly undergo a "seed" stage during which they are submicroscopic and cannot be caught by the finest filters, is the result of work by Philip Hadley, Professor of Bacteriology in the University of Michigan. The investigations may show new roads of attack on germ diseases, and solve perplexing problems in the biology of bacteria, and are the first proof of a theory advanced in Europe as early as 1888.

Bacteria have long been known to undergo at least two characteristic changes in structure, and in some cases apparently become so small that they could not be strained out with a porcelain filter, or be detected with the microscope, but these latter were usually considered to be abnormalities occurring occasionally and of little importance, or even to be impurities mistaken for living material.

By locating this ultramicroscopic stage before filteration had taken place, however, growing it and observing it turn into the familar states and back to the original stage, and finally by showing that a pure culture of the ultramicroscope type alone could be filtered and afterward develop into the well known stages, Professor Hadley demonstrated that the filterable ultramicroscope state is probably a prase in the life of every bacterial species.

This phase in the life history of a germ may be regarded as a spore or seed stage, and may be compared with the spore stage of fungi in which the seed little resembles the mature vegetative growth. The dissociation into stages takes place slowly in nature, it was found, which may account for the way in which some infections remain dormant for some time, especially if conditions are unfavorable to growth. Transformation may be speeded, however, by lithium chloride, by a preparation of the pancreas, by bacteriophage, and probably by other chemical substances. Original experiments were performed chiefly with the germ of dysentery, and similar developmental histories were observed in the germs of cholera, typhoid and other diseases.

The seed stage of the cell, it was found, is usually hardy, and may exist in that form for a long time, eventually developing into the larger stages, at which time it easily is detected. The medical importance of the filterable stage lies in the fact that due to its small size the germs may enter and spread more rapidly and may perhaps be more virulent than is the case with the usual form. In addition, it is possible that the new culture type may be employed in the recognition or prevention of certain so-called virus diseases such as "sleeping sickness," herpes and the common cold.

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

Beauty baths can be whatever you most need to pick you up. A stimulant? A rest? A relaxation? Take the right kind of bath and you have your needs fulfilled.

Next to dieting, probably nothing on earth gives a woman a lilting superiority complex more efficaciously than the cold shower habit.

Step out of bed, exercise a bit to start the circulation, and then, straight under the cold shower! If you have no shower, fill the tub with cold water the night before and step into it early in the morning. It takes grit! But if you are used to cold water and your system stands up under the shock, it certainly can waken you as nothing else can.

I do not believe, however, that everybody can stand a cold early morning bath, even for beauty's sake or the sake of a superiority complex. A dash of cold water over the body after a tepid bath is much better for some folks. Others stand a fairly hot tub, with a cold shower afterwards.

Everybody to her own tastes, I say. But if you have been brought up to enjoy the early morning shower, it certainly is a brisk day-starter that does much to give lilt to your step as you dash for the train.

Make no mistake, however. The cold shower is no bath for cleansing you. If you are relying on cold baths altogether, you probably are not the cleanest person in the world, though you may not know it.

There are two ways of having your cold shower and yet staying clean. First, take a hot tub with soap scrub the night before. Second, have a hot shower, with soap and brush before turning on the cold shower.

If you have no shower and yet want a cold rinse after your morning bath, pull out the plug and turn on the cold water before you finish bathing. This cools the entire tub of water gradually and gives you eventually a cold rinse without any shock to the system.

COP CURBS COUGH

Gets quick relief thru Triple Action

J. V. Ahlquist

"During a recent blizzard I caught a beauty. What a cough! I was miserable. The druggist on my beat gave me a bottle of Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. In less than no time—in fact after the first swallow—I began to get better. The soreness in my head, nose and throat disappeared—and very soon I stopped coughing altogether. Smith Brothers' is great stuff for coughs and colds all right!" J. V. Ahlquist, Rockford, Ill.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Thompson, vice president of the Thompson Transfer company, who died at a local hospital early Monday morning following a brief illnes due to ruptured appendix. Rev. Carl E. Berger officiated at the servces and used as his text, the seventh chapter, fourteenth verse, from the book of Ecclesiastes, "In the day of adversity, consider." Mrs. A. M. Wilson sang two numbers, "The City Four Square," and "In the Garden." Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom played the organ accompaniment and Choplin's Funeral March.

The pallbearers were Joseph Lafleur, Grover Lewis, William Arnold and Wolford Peterson of this city, John Brukhart of Gladstone, and James Ray of Cornell.

Out-of-town relatives included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leduc and Mrs. Louis Harmon of International Falls, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hallman, Elhart Hallman, Miss Helen Hallman and C. Christensen, all of Racine, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Nels Rousseau of Manistique; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fulton and daughters of Gladstone, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fleury and daughter, Dorothy, of Cornell.

Interment was in Lakeview cemetry.

COP CURBS COUGH

Gets quick relief thru Triple Action

J. V. Ahlquist

"During a recent blizzard I caught a beauty. What a cough! I was miserable. The druggist on my beat gave me a bottle of Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. In less than no time—in fact after the first swallow—I began to get better. The soreness in my head, nose and throat disappeared—and very soon I stopped coughing altogether. Smith Brothers' is great stuff for coughs and colds all right!" J. V. Ahlquist, Rockford, Ill.

SMITH BROTHERS COUGH SYRUP
ENDS COUGHS THE MEDICAL WAY

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

K. C. Meeting

Marquette.—Plans of the Marquette council, No. 689, Knights of Columbus, are nearing completion for the initiation on Sunday, February 8, of one of the largest classes in its history.

A class of approximately 90 candidates will receive the second and third degrees of the order. The degree work will be put on by the St. Paul-Duluth team, headed by Dennis Donovan, past state deputy of Minnesota and attorney for the Oliver Iron Mining company.

Norman J. Dobson, of the Marquette council, district deputy and general chairman of the initiation committee, has announced that an attempt is being made to secure Thimothy P. Galvin, of Hammond, Ind., as the principal speaker on the banquet program which will conclude the day's activities. Mr. Galvin is a member of the law firm of Tinkham and Galvin, attorneys for Standard Oil, of Indiana.

Motorist Arrested.

Ironwood—Louis Wessel of Marenisco will be given a preliminary hearing in municipal court here Jan. 21 on a charge of negligent homicide, it was decided this morning when he was brought into court for arraignment. He is charged with being responsible for the death of Matt Poikola, woodsman who was instantly killed when struck by Wessel's automobile on the outskirts of Marenisco Friday night.

Bay de Noc First to Settle Taxes

Keeping up the record of promptness which the Bay de Noc township treasurer's office has claimed for many years, Andrew Hansen, Bay de Noc township treasurer, was the first township treasurer to check in at the county treasurer's office for state and county taxes collected up to and including January 10. Mr. Hansen had his roll ready the next day and brought it in immediately.

Final settlement of taxes collected will be made in March by all township treasurers in Delta county.

UNIFORM TIME

THE bill offered by Senator Ernest T. Conlon of Grand Rapids, providing for the establishment of eastern standard time throughout the state, merits the careful consideration of the state legislature.

Every spring, upper peninsula communities divide on the question of daylight saving time, and there is no end of bickering before and after the proposition is voted on at the polls. Virtually all of Lower Michigan is on the eastern time arrangement, but this section remains on central time, excepting those particular communities that adopt the fast schedule for the summer.

Escanaba and Gladstone operated on "potato time" two summers ago on action of their respective city councils, but the proposition was turned down by the people last spring when submitted to a vote. Munising, however, voted in favor of the change.

Considerable opposition to the changed time comes from railroad circles, particularly from the road men who work on "railroad" or central standard time regardless where they are. In the shops and other railroad departments, the shifts were adjusted to the new schedule without much hardship. Some complaint is heard from farmers; also those laborers on part-night shifts, who find the change robbing them of an additional daylight hour when off duty.

On the other hand, there is a large number of persons who see in the daylight saving plan a wonderful opportunity to go out and enjoy the extra hour of sunshine; to participate in gardening, motoring and other healthful forms of outdoor recreation after the day's work is done.

But when one community operates on one sort of time and its neighbor on another there is bound to be much confusion all around in business and industry. Daylight saving has many friends, and it would win more if it were established statewide by legislative act.

"LOST WITH ALL HANDS"

THERE is a grim fascination to the mental picture which arises whenever an airplane vanishes on an ocean flight. One pictures a dark and empty ocean, with mile-long waves throwing up white crests to gleam in the blackness; a frail airplane, soaring above, faltering suddenly, dipping down, plowing into the water and then, after a moment, not a ripple or a bit of wreckage to show what has happened. The picture is unpleasant, but it sticks in one's mind.

Probably it is the loneliness of it that fascinates us. We all nourish the hope that when our time comes to go we can go decently, surrounded by people we love; as if, perhaps, the infinite loneliness of a man who is stepping out of this world could be mitigated a little by the presence of those who must stay behind. And to think of going alone, in mid-ocean, with only the storm clouds for witnesses—it is a dark picture.

But human beings, who are afraid of death, are also adventurous; and as the years pass there will be many airplanes lost at sea, with eternal mystery to cover the fate of their occupants. And this will be true, no matter how nearly perfect the airplane finally becomes; for the sea is cruel, and from the days of the Phoenicians has given many, many men lonely burials.

Indeed, if it is morbidly fascinating to think of the disappearance of one airplane in mid-ocean, how much more so is it to think of the long, long list of ships that have gone to sea and have never made a landfall. There is a whole picture gallery there, of endless length, done in the manner of Dore.

That phrase, "Lost with all hands," is the caption for most of these pictures. Perhaps the gallery begins with Ulysses, who got into his galley to sail beyond the sunset, and who was never seen again; and the early Roman merchants, who crept out beyond Gibraltar to sail up to Britain for tin, lacking charts and compass, must have contributed many pictures. Then, in a later age, there were the Venetians, who sent clumsy caravals to Constantinople and Egypt to tap the Orental trade routes and the Vikings, who colonized Greenland and sailed down the American coastline to Chesapeake Bay; and, a little later, the Portuguese, coasting down Africa and doubling the Cape of Good Hope, and the Spaniards, learning how treacherous and destructive were the sudden hurricanes of the Carribean; and then the Dutch, who took round-bowed ships past Java Head, and the English, who hunted the Northwest Passage, and sent sea-rovers out to harry the Spaniard.

The gallery is a long one. And when a white monoplane sails off over the ocean and is never seen again, we are simply getting another dark picture, fit for uncomfortable dreams, late at night, to add to a series that began long ages ago.

A BETTER CONNECTION

SAULT STE. MARIE citizens who use the passenger trains in and out of Sault Ste. Marie cannot help but be pleased with the action of the railroads in changing schedules so that passengers from Detroit and other southern points will change at Trout Lake and thus avoid the round-about Soo Junction trip over the South Shore. An hour and a quarter earlier schedule into this city is provided.

Starting next Sunday the M. C. train from Detroit will arrive at 7:30 a. m. (Sault and Detroit time) Departure from Mackinaw City will be at 7:55. The train will leave St. Ignace at 9:15, arriving at Trout Lake at 10:10 to connect with the Soo Line leaving Trout Lake at 10:35. Arrival in Sault Ste. Marie is to be at noon.

To obtain this connection it is necessary for the Michigan Central to depart from Detroit a half hour earlier and the Soo Line to arrive here a half hour later. Virtually all incoming mail from the south and west will arrive at the same time by this new arrangement, and the postoffice force will have a merry noon hour henceforth, but aside from that feature, there is a genuine feeling here that the railroads have acted for a considerable advantage to Sault Ste. Marie.

The new schedule, however, may not please points on the South Shore between the Sault and Soo Junction, and also may cause loss of employment to more South Shore employes.

Transportation is being changed decidedly by modern conditions and the railroads are forced to make many moves to effect economies and curry public favor. They are hemmed in by many laws which do not bind competing businesses and there is small wonder that they are merging and retrenching and in all other ways trying to stave off disaster to the weaker roads.—Sault Ste. Marie News.

NATHAN STRAUS

THERE are two ways of judging a rich man. One is to assay the manner in which he got his wealth; another is to judge the manner in which he disposed of it. Probably it is the latter method that gives us the best indication of a man's character; and the late Nathan Straus passes the test with flying colors.

No one knows just how many young men and women are alive and in good health today who would have died in infancy if it had not been for Mr. Straus. The number must be well up in the thousands. His distribution of milk to the poor children of New York, while not as spectacular as some charities, was assuredly one of the most useful bits of kindness ever undertaken by any man.

The man needs no epitaph and no eulogy. The mere statement of what he did is enough. He saved many, many children from dying, or from life-long ill-health. Isn't that about as fine a statement as anyone could wish for his gravestone?

As fleet as a rumrunner may be, opines the office sage, he usually has someone close on his heels.

An Iowa man divorced his wife and then hired her as a cook. That's one way to be sure she'll leave him.

Anniversary

SPENSER'S BIRTH

On Jan. 16, 1552, Edmund Spenser, called "the poet of poets in his time," was born in London.

He graduated from Pembroke College, Cambridge, at the age of 24. Two years later he went to London and found a place in the household of the Earl of Leicester, who later brought him to the attention of Queen Elizabeth.

In 1579, at 27, he wrote and published "The Shepherd's Calendar," which marks an epoch in the development of English poetry. It is said to excel the rhythm of Chaucer. Through the influence of Leicester, Spenser was appointed chief secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland. Queen Elizabeth conferred on him an estate at Kilcolman, where he wrote his greatest work, "The Faery Queen."

In October, 1598, his castle was sacked and burned by Irish rebels and his infant child perished in the flames. Spenser returned to London broken-hearted and impoverished. He died a year later and was buried near Chaucer in Westminster Abbey.

FOR GINGER'S SAKE

(By NEA Service) BY ETHEL HUESTON

CHAPTER II

Although Ginger was not given to public elaboration of her plans while they were still in the formative period, she had a sound practical precedent for her contemplated project. On one of their motor tours in the East, Phil had taken her to spend a week at Provincetown, where Ginger was thrilled with the gay adventures of a group of young artists who were making their summer's sport and study pay for itself by the maintenance of a mild sort of night club.

They called it Sixes and Sevens. Six young women did the marketing and cooking, and seven young men waited upon the table, and all of them served intermittently as entertainers and reception committees.

Lurking in the back of her mind was the memory of that profitable and entertaining enterprise. She realized that in her own case the project would work itself out along somewhat different lines, but of one thing at least she was sure—if the youth of the community would just cooperate to clean up the old place they would presently be in possession of a cheery rendezvous all their own, free from family encumbrances.

Having Ben and Jenky in charge would disarm all conventional objections, for certainly a married, middle-aged schoolteacher was a chaperon to the satisfaction of the most unreasonable parent.

Ginger did not look very far into the future. Her immediate requirement was something to do, something to think about. She had $5000 just eating itself up with interest in the First National Bank, as she often complained. And everybody said that Iowa farm land—even if it was all grown up to weeds and brush on the bank of Rabbit River—was a good paying investment.

And there would be work, brisk, vigorous work for strong young arms—there would be raking and digging and burning of brush, there would be scrubbing and painting and the hanging of swings—Ginger's memory swept back in a great torrent to the crowded, happy, haphazard parsonage days, and she smiled contentedly.

When she rejoined her friends under the maples her expression was divinely seraphic.

"A Junior Country Club," she said succinctly. "That's the ticket. No parents allowed, no preachers admitted, and the first member that has a baby gets chucked out on his head."

"Oh, Ginger, that's just priceless," said Patty warmly.

"Okay here," said Wesley. "Tie the can on school-teachers and aunts, too, will you?"

"It has its points," said Eddy guardedly, for he knew Ginger. "But I foresee impedimenta."

"Well, you needn't bother pointing them out," said Ginger. "You're almost too old to belong in the first place. And if you begin pointing out impedimenta, you are too old. I suppose we'll have to make room for the older high-school boys— "

"What, those infants! Still in swaddling clothes and— "

"To do the work," explained Ginger thoughtfully. "There's going to be heaps of work to do, and all the older boys have summer jobs. We won't let them join—we'll just encourage them to take a sort of interest. There'll be oodles of work before that place is ready."

Eddy Jackson knitted his brows thoughtfully. "Oodles of work, eh? And there's a place is there? You've really got an idea, have you?"

"Yes, I have an idea," said Ginger pleasantly. "But of course it's Ben and Jenky's place."

Jenky was more anxious than Ginger herself to push the purchase of Mill Rush to a successful conclusion, and her interest was based upon a solider foundation.

To Ginger, the project meant no more than a pleasant adventure to while away the tedium of an unpromising summer. To Jenky, it promised a great many dollars saved which, as every one knows, is so many dollars earned.

An unusual air of determination settled upon her gentle face as she marched down the quiet street on her way to talk business with Joplin Westbury.

New responsibility, and with it new courage, had come to her with her marriage to poor, blind, helpless Benny Brooks. She developed a sort of moody passion for money, an interest that in one less truly devout would have been downright mercenary.

But the springs from which her sudden craftiness had sprung were crystal pure. In the back of her mind drifted shadowy, disheartening forebodings of the future. The time might come when she would no longer be able to cope with the exigencies of the public kindergarten. She might die suddenly from some hitherto unsuspected ailment, leaving him alone once more to the casual care of a disinterested world.

Upon one thing she had set her heart. Either with her or without, Benny should never again become a public charge if she could help it, and she was going to help it.

She began immediately to save

HELP

He has a little wealth,
He's saved a bit,
For he has had his health,
And I've had mine.
He's worked in mill and yard,
He's slaved a bit,
And, though the times are hard,
We're doing fine.

There's something coming in
From day to day,
His purse is not as thin
As long ago.
He's saved a little out
To lay away,
But how it came about
He doesn't know.

Some women paint and dress
And play around.
Some things, he'll never guess,
I didn't do.
A woman, quite content
To stay around
And help, has something meant
I wish he knew.

Health Tips

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

No doubt, long before there were physicians or midwives, women gave birth successfully to children without the help of either. On the other hand they, no doubt, frequently suffered unnecessarily and sometimes became ill or died as a result of complications which today are perfectly controlled.

As human life became more complicated and conditions of living changed, medical complications of child-birth became more difficult and the opportunity for infection far more frequent.

There are, as has been frequently pointed out, three main factors to be considered: First, to bring the mother successfully through the entire period from conception to recovery; second, to insure the birth of a healthy infant; third, to have the mother as nearly normal after the experience as she was before.

Because of the fact that midwives undertake a part of the practice of medicine, this phase of medical training has had hardly a fair share of attention in medical schools. It is an aphorism that a badly taught midwife can kill more women than a highly educated physician can cure.

Before there were trained surgeons, barbers did much of the surgery. It was "barber" surgery and not "surgical" surgery.

One of the great difficulties in securing better results in the matter of child-birth is the fact that the public itself is not well informed concerning the possibilities.

If the vast majority of women made sure of their ability to bear children successfully and without complications at the time of marriage, if they consulted competent medical advice immediately on the knowledge of conception, and if they followed such competent advice carefully through the entire circumstance, the number of deaths would be greatly cut down and there would be a vast amount of illness prevented.

Much has been written of late in newspapers and in magazines concerning the great cost of scientific ocstetrical care. It is recognized that the work of obstetric specialists is not necessary in the vast majority of cases. Specialistic service is expensive regardless of whether it is in the field of law, plumbing, farming or medicine.

In the uncomplicated case the general practitioner can secure excellent results. There is always the possibility that he will be unable to give as many hours of time to the individual case as can be given by the specialist. Furthermore, he may be called at significant moments and he may be required to pass from an infected person to the care of a woman in child-birth.

The midwife cannot by the very nature of things be as competent as the well trained physician. Indeed the most important training that she can secure is sufficient knowledge and judgement to enable her to know when to call for medical assistance.

The determination as to whether or not a midwife, general practitioner, or specialist will be called is wholly in the hands of the patient, since there is in but few parts of the country any adequate control of the training or qualifications of midwives and since specialistis obstetrical care in the best hospitals is of necessity an exceedingly expnsive commodity.

UNIFORM TIME

THE bill offered by Senator Ernest T. Conlon of Grand Rapids, providing for the establishment of eastern standard time throughout the state, merits the careful consideration of the state legislature.

Every spring, upper peninsula communities divide on the question of daylight saving time, and there is no end of bickering before and after the proposition is voted on at the polls. Virtually all of Lower Michigan is on the eastern time arrangement, but this section remains on central time, excepting those particular communities that adopt the fast schedule for the summer.

Escanaba and Gladstone operated on "potato time" two summers ago on action of their respective city councils, but the proposition was turned down by the people last spring when submitted to a vote. Munising, however, voted in favor of the change.

Considerable opposition to the changed time comes from railroad circles, particularly from the road men who work on "railroad" or central standard time regardless where they are. In the shops and other railroad departments, the shifts were adjusted to the new schedule without much hardship. Some complaint is heard from farmers; also those laborers on part-night shifts, who find the change robbing them of an additional daylight hour when off duty.

On the other hand, there is a large number of persons who see in the daylight saving plan a wonderful opportunity to go out and enjoy the extra hour of sunshine; to participate in gardening, motoring and other healthful forms of outdoor recreation after the day's work is done.

But when one community operates on one sort of time and its neighbor on another there is bound to be much confusion all around in business and industry. Daylight saving has many friends, and it would win more if it were established statewide by legislative act.

"LOST WITH ALL HANDS"

THERE is a grim fascination to the mental picture which arises whenever an airplane vanishes on an ocean flight. One pictures a dark and empty ocean, with mile-long waves throwing up white crests to gleam in the blackness; a frail airplane, soaring above, faltering suddenly, dipping down, plowing into the water—and then, after a moment, not a ripple or a bit of wreckage to show what has happened. The picture is unpleasant, but it sticks in one's mind.

Probably it is the loneliness of it that fascinates us. We all nourish the hope that when our time comes to go we can go decently, surrounded by people we love; as if, perhaps, the infinite loneliness of a man who is stepping out of this world could be mitigated a little by the presence of those who must stay behind. And to think of going alone, in mid-ocean, with only the storm-clouds for witnesses—it is a dark picture.

But human beings, who are afraid of death, are also adventurous; and as the years pass there will be many airplanes lost at sea, with eternal mystery to cover the fate of their occupants. And this will be true, no matter how nearly perfect the airplane finally becomes; for the sea is cruel, and from the days of the Phoenicians has given many, many men lonely burials.

Indeed, if it is morbidly fascinating to think of the disappearance of one airplane in mid-ocean, how much more so is it to think of the long, long list of ships that have gone to sea and have never made a landfall. There is a whole picture gallery there, of endless length, done in the manner of Dore.

That phrase, "Lost with all hands," is the caption for most of these pictures. Perhaps the gallery begins with Ulysses, who got into his galley to sail beyond the sunset, and who was never seen again; and the early Roman merchants, who crept out beyond Gibraltar to sail up to Britain for tin, lacking charts and compass, must have contributed many pictures. Then, in a later age, there were the Venetians, who sent clumsy caravals to Constantinople and Egypt to tap the Orental trade routes and the Vikings, who colonized Greenland and sailed down the American coastline to Chesapeake Bay; and, a little later, the Portuguese, coasting down Africa and doubling the Cape of Good Hope, and the Spaniards, learning how treacherous and destructive were the sudden hurricanes of the Carribean; and then the Dutch, who took round-bowed ships past Java Head, and the English, who hunted the Northwest Passage, and sent sea-rovers out to harry the Spaniard.

The gallery is a long one. And when a white monoplane sails off over the ocean and is never seen again, we are simply getting another dark picture, fit for uncomfortable dreams, late at night, to add to a series that began long ages ago.

A BETTER CONNECTION

SAULT STE. MARIE citizens who use the passenger trains in and out of Sault Ste. Marie cannot help but be pleased with the action of the railroads in changing schedules so that passengers from Detroit and other southern points will change at Trout Lake and thus avoid the round-about Soo Junction trip over the South Shore. An hour and a quarter earlier schedule into this city is provided.

Starting next Sunday the M. C. train from Detroit will arrive at 7:30 a. m. (Sault and Detroit time) Departure from Mackinaw City will be at 7:55. The train will leave St. Ignace at 9:15, arriving at Trout Lake at 10:10 to connect with the Soo Line leaving Trout Lake at 10:35. Arrival in Sault Ste. Marie is to be at noon.

To obtain this connection it is necessary for the Michigan Central to depart from Detroit a half hour earlier and the Soo Line to arrive here a half hour later. Virtually all incoming mail from the south and west will arrive at the same time by this new arrangement, and the postoffice force will have a merry noon hour henceforth, but aside from that feature, there is a genuine feeling here that the railroads have acted for a considerable advantage to Sault Ste. Marie.

The new schedule, however, may not please points on the South Shore between the Sault and Soo Junction, and also may cause loss of employment to more South Shore employes.

Transportation is being changed decidedly by modern conditions and the railroads are forced to make many moves to effect economies and curry public favor. They are hemmed in by many laws which do not bind competing businesses—and there is small wonder that they are merging and retrenching and in all other ways trying to stave off disaster to the weaker roads.—Sault Ste. Marie News.

NATHAN STRAUS

THERE are two ways of judging a rich man. One is to assay the manner in which he got his wealth; another is to judge the manner in which he disposed of it. Probably it is the latter method that gives us the best indication of a man's character; and the late Nathan Straus passes the test with flying colors.

No one knows just how many young men and women are alive and in good health today who would have died in infancy if it had not been for Mr. Straus. The number must be well up in the thousands. His distribution of milk to the poor children of New York, while not as spectacular as some charities, was assuredly one of the most useful bits of kindness ever undertaken by any man.

The man needs no epitaph and no eulogy. The mere statement of what he did is enough. He saved many, many children from dying, or from life-long ill-health. Isn't that about as fine a statement as anyone could wish for his gravestone?

As fleet as a rumrunner may be, opines the office sage, he usually has someone close on his heels.

An Iowa man divorced his wife and then hired her as a cook. That's one way to be sure she'll leave him.

SPENSER'S BIRTH

On Jan. 16, 1552, Edmund Spenser, called "the poet of poets in his time," was born in London.

He graduated from Pembroke College, Cambridge, at the age of 24. Two years later he went to London and found a place in the household of the Earl of Leicester, who later brought him to the attention of Queen Elizabeth.

In 1579, at 27, he wrote and published "The Shepherd's Calendar," which marks an epoch in the development of English poetry. It is said to excel the rhythm of Chaucer. Through the influence of Leicester, Spenser was appointed chief secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland. Queen Elizabeth conferred on him an estate at Kilcolman, where he wrote his greatest work, "The Faery Queen."

In October, 1598, his castle was sacked and burned by Irish rebels and his infant child perished in the flames. Spenser returned to London broken-hearted and impoverished. He died a year later and was buried near Chaucer in Westminster Abbey.

FOR GINGER'S SAKE

BY ETHEL HUESTON

CHAPTER II

Although Ginger was not given to public elaboration of her plans while they were still in the formative period, she had a sound practical precedent for her contemplated project. On one of their motor tours in the East, Phil had taken her to spend a week at Provincetown, where Ginger was thrilled with the gay adventures of a group of young artists who were making their summer's sport and study pay for itself by the maintenance of a mild sort of night club.

They called it Sixes and Sevens. Six young women did the marketing and cooking, and seven young men waited upon the table, and all of them served intermittently as entertainers and reception committees.

Lurking in the back of her mind was the memory of that profitable and entertaining enterprise. She realized that in her own case the project would work itself out along somewhat different lines, but of one thing at least she was sure—if the youth of the community would just cooperate to clean up the old place they would presently be in possession of a cheery rendezvous all their own, free from family encumbrances.

Having Ben and Jenky in charge would disarm all conventional objections, for certainly a married, middle-aged schoolteacher was a chaperon to the satisfaction of the most unreasonable parent.

Ginger did not look very far into the future. Her immediate requirement was something to do, something to think about. She had $5000 just eating itself up with interest in the First National Bank, as she often complained. And everybody said that Iowa farm land—even if it was all grown up to weeds and brush on the bank of Rabbit River—was a good paying investment.

And there would be work, brisk, vigorous work for strong young arms—there would be raking and digging and burning of brush, there would be scrubbing and painting and the hanging of swings—Ginger's memory swept back in a great torrent to the crowded, happy, haphazard parsonage days, and she smiled contentedly.

When she rejoined her friends under the maples her expression was divinely seraphic.

"A Junior Country Club," she said succinctly. "That's the ticket. No parents allowed, no preachers admitted, and the first member that has a baby gets chucked out on his head."

"Oh, Ginger, that's just priceless," said Patty warmly.

"Okay here," said Wesley. "Tie the can on school-teachers and aunts, too, will you?"

"It has its points," said Eddy guardedly, for he knew Ginger. "But I foresee impedimenta."

"Well, you needn't bother pointing them out," said Ginger. "You're almost too old to belong in the first place. And if you begin pointing out impedimenta, you are too old. I suppose we'll have to make room for the older high-school boys—"

"What, those infants! Still in swaddling clothes and—"

"To do the work," explained Ginger thoughtfully. "There's going to be heaps of work to do, and all the older boys have summer jobs. We won't let them join—we'll just encourage them to take a sort of interest. There'll be oodles of work before that place is ready."

Eddy Jackson knitted his brows thoughtfully. "Oodles of work, eh? And there's a place is there? You've really got an idea, have you?"

"Yes, I have an idea," said Ginger pleasantly. "But of course it's Ben and Jenky's place."

Jenky was more anxious than Ginger herself to push the purchase of Mill Rush to a successful conclusion, and her interest was based upon a solider foundation.

To Ginger, the project meant no more than a pleasant adventure to while away the tedium of an unpromising summer. To Jenky, it promised a great many dollars saved which, as every one knows, is so many dollars earned.

An unusual air of determination settled upon her gentle face as she marched down the quiet street on her way to talk business with Joplin Westbury.

New responsibility, and with it new courage, had come to her with her marriage to poor, blind, helpless Benny Brooks. She developed a sort of moody passion for money, an interest that in one less truly devout would have been downright mercenary.

But the springs from which her sudden craftiness had sprung were crystal pure. In the back of her mind drifted shadowy, disheartening forebodings of the future. The time might come when she would no longer be able to cope with the exigencies of the public kindergarten. She might die suddenly from some hitherto unsuspected ailment, leaving him alone once more to the casual care of a disinterested world.

Upon one thing she had set her heart. Either with her or without, Benny should never again become a public charge if she could help it, and she was going to help it.

She began immediately to save

HELP

He has a little wealth,
He's saved a bit,
For he has had his health.
And I've had mine.
He's worked in mill and yard,
He's slaved a bit,
And, though the times are hard,
We're doing fine.

There's something coming in
From day to day,
His purse is not as thin
As long ago.
He's saved a little out
To lay away,
But how it came about
He doesn't know.

Some women paint and dress
And play around.
Some things, he'll never guess,
I didn't do.
A woman, quite content
To stay around
And help, has something meant—
I wish he knew.

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

No doubt, long before there were physicians or midwives, women gave birth successfully to children without the help of either. On the other hand they, no doubt, frequently suffered unnecessarily and sometimes became ill or died as a result of complications which today are perfectly controlled.

As human life became more complicated and conditions of living changed, medical complications of child-birth became more difficult and the opportunity for infection far more frequent.

There are, as has been frequently pointed out, three main factors to be considered: First, to bring the mother successfully through the entire period from conception to recovery; second, to insure the birth of a healthy infant; third, to have the mother as nearly normal after the experience as she was before.

Because of the fact that midwives undertake a part of the practice of medicine, this phase of medical training has had hardly a fair share of attention in medical schools. It is an aphorism that a badly taught midwife can kill more women than a highly educated physician can cure.

Before there were trained surgeons, barbers did much of the surgery. It was "barber" surgery and not "surgical" surgery.

One of the great difficulties in securing better results in the matter of child-birth is the fact that the public itself is not well informed concerning the possibilities.

If the vast majority of women made sure of their ability to bear children successfully and without complications at the time of marriage, if they consulted competent medical advice immediately on the knowledge of conception, and if they followed such competent advice carefully through the entire circumstance, the number of deaths would be greatly cut down and there would be a vast amount of illness prevented.

Much has been written of late in newspapers and in magazines concerning the great cost of scientific ocstetrical care. It is recognized that the work of obstetric specialists is not necessary in the vast majority of cases. Specialistic service is expensive regardless of whether it is in the field of law, plumbing, farming or medicine.

In the uncomplicated case the general practitioner can secure excellent results. There is always the possibility that he will be unable to give as many hours of time to the individual case as can be given by the specialist. Furthermore, he may be called at significant moments and he may be required to pass from an infected person to the care of a woman in child-birth.

The midwife cannot by the very nature of things be as competent as the well trained physician. Indeed the most important training that she can secure is sufficient knowledge and judgement to enable her to know when to call for medical assistance.

The determination as to whether or not a midwife, general practitioner, or specialist will be called is wholly in the hands of the patient, since there is in but few parts of the country any adequate control of the training or qualifications of midwives and since specialistis obstetrical care in the best hospitals is of necessity an exceedingly expnsive commodity.

Manistique to Vote on New School Expansion at Special Election

BOND ISSUE TO TOTAL $170,000

Program Calls for New Central and Westside School Buildings

In fulfillment of the promise made to the West Side citizens by the board of education in 1916, that if the bond issue providing for the erection of the new high school building was passed, upon its retirement the board would submit to the taxpayers the question of replacement of the West Side grade school with a modern building, and in response to the general demand for better and greater educational facilities at Central, the board of education, at a recent special meeting, decided to ask taxpayers to consider the authorizing of a bond issue for the purpose of providing new modern buildings to meet present educational needs at Central and West Side. A special election will be held on Monday, February 2.

The building program, as outlined, calls for a modern nine-room brick building with combination auditorium and gymnasium for West Side; an addition of like construction to the north end of the present high school providing class rooms for the pupils at present housed in the old Central grade building, and a gymnasium with a seating capacity of from 600 to 800; the modernizing of the class rooms and equipment at Lakeside, installing girls' and boys' toilets on the first floor, remodeling the two west rooms on the second floor to make a combination auditorium and gymnasium, 31 feet by 55 feet, exclusive of the stage area.

Building Costs Low

Members of the board of education believe they would be disregarding their obligation to the community should they fail to give the people the opportunity to express their wishes in this matter at this time when construction costs are lower than they have been for fourteen years, when a building program of the proportion proposed, would eliminate the unemployment situation in Manitsique for four or five months during early spring and summer as well as stimulate business and improve the general wellbeing of the community.

The urgent need for better grade buildings at Central and Lakeside has long been recognized. Shall we have them in the near future and at lower costs or shall we wait and build (eventually we must) when building costs have risen?

It is estimated that letting contracts for this building program early in the year will save $20,000 over a building program started late in the spring.

The present high school was built and equipped for $150,000 in 1917. The construction company completed the building at a loss because of the increase in cost of labor and materials. Had the contracts been let a few months later, the cost would have been from $50,000 to $100,000 more.

$13,000 a Year

In order to carry out this building program, providing complete modern equipment for all types of rooms, it is necessary that the taxpayers authorize a $170,000 bond issue. The average annual cost of retiring a twenty-year serial issue of $170,000, bearing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent, would be $13,085. The average yearly expenditure during the past ten years for retirement of the recent high school bond isue was $13,736.80. The retirement of this issue was completed last year.

Because of the fact that the taxpayers have been spending more each year for the last ten years for the retirement of the high school bond issue than the yearly cost of paying for the proposed bond issue will not in itself be responsible for any increase in the school tax rate.

It is estimated that the increase would approximate, but not exceed, 94 cents per thousand valuation. The decrease in assessed valuation accounts for part of this increase and part would also be due to additions to the teaching force to take care of increased offerings in manual training, home economics, and physical education subjects.

Home economics would be provided for seventh and eighth grade girls of the public and parochial schools. The seventh and eighth grade boys of the St. Francis de Sales school would be offered work in manual training, and physical education classes would meet every day instead of twice a week.

It is impossible to carry out such a program with the present limited facilities and equipment.

St. Francis Hospital

Mrs. Albert Benoit, 1406 Ludington street, was admitted yesterday as a medical patient.

Mrs. Ivan Carlson, 529 South Sixteenth street, was admitted yesterday.

Lillian Tasquin of Carney, was admitted yesterday.

Erick Peterson of Gladstone, submitted to an operation for relief from appendicitis and is as well as can be expected. Visitors are not allowed.

The condition of Raymond Ethier is slightly improved but visitors are not permitted to call.

Melvin Erickson of Bark River, who is a surgical patient, is slightly improved but is not allowed any visitors.

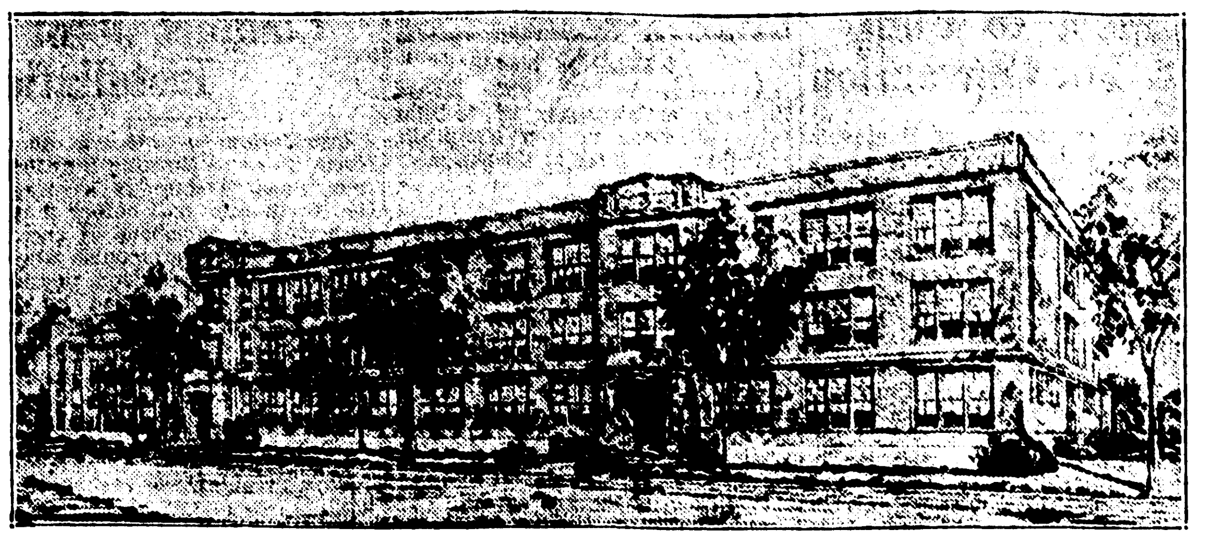
PROPOSED MANISTIQUE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL



The above photograph shows the proposed new $132,000 junior high school and gymnasium as an addition to the present high school building. The new structure would be constructed of material and design similar to the high school. The new project calls for a bond issue of $170,000 which will be voted on by tax payers at a special election to be held on Monday, February 2.

POLITICAL POT BOILS; GARDEN

Farmers and Villagers Differ; Election Contests Loom

Garden, Jan. 15 (Special)—Garden township, in the coming spring, faces perhaps the hottest political battle of its entire history, judging from the amount of pre-caucus activity, noticable among its citizens.

The present township board has come in for a considerable amount of criticism arising out of differences between the farmers and the several hundred residents of the village of Garden.

Business men in the village hold that the expenditure of township money for public work in the country sections beyond certain limits is unjustified in view of the condition of township finances.

The farmers are up in arms over the township's neglect to carry out a snow removal program. They point out through numerous spokesmen that hundreds of dollars of tax revenue are being spent for purposes from which the taxpayers themselves are deriving little or no benefit.

Supervisor Charles Gauthier last Friday night organizned the business men of the village who expressed their full confidence in his administration and guaranteed him their united support for another term of office.

This course of action was believed necessary by local business men in view of the unprecedented activity among the politically minded farmers.

Names mentioned of probable candidates for township officers, including that of supervisor, who may be supported by the farmers at the April election, included those of Dayton Beardsley, Edward Goff, Jack Gitzen, Joseph Farley and Charles Winter. A number of the aforementioned may deny having any intentions of making the race but if the wish of their friends prevails they will perhaps throw their hats into the ring.

Names of other men are mentioned in connection with the various offices, but if they run, they will do so independently of either the farmers or the townspeople as a class, but will expect to draw votes from both sections.

Residents throughout the entire township are watching with unusual interest the developments in this interesting political situation.

MOTHER'S FAREWELL.

Farewell Son and Daughters,
Brother and Sisters;
Farewell God has called me,
Called me far away
Called me to his heavenly mansions
And I can no longer stay.
You will miss me,
Years, you will miss me,
When my voice is heard no more;
By and by you will come and see me,
On the other shore.
Jesus called me up on high,
If I could, I'd stay here with you,
Never would I say good-bye.
I know that you will miss me,
But my memory you must keep;
And if God will only let me,
I will come when you're asleep.
Farewell kind Grandchildren,
And near Relatives;
I know you feel sad today,
But Jesus our Savior has called me,
And His voice I must obey.
When your hearts are filled with sorrow,
And your burdens hard to bear,
I'll be watching from above you;
You will feel my presence there,
I will smooth your lonely pillows
And whisper dreams of love,
To your hearts while you are sleeping;
All about the world above.
Then you want to come and see me,
In the land so bright and fair,
And I will ask my Savior,
If He will bring you safely there.
Farewell friends and neighbors,
Mother is freed from pain tonight,
Gone where there is no sorrow,
Out of darkness into light;
To the home of many mansions,
Where life's fretful dreams are o'er,
Near the banks of that bright River,
I will meet you on the Shore.
Son and Daughters.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to our many neighbors and friends, for their many expressions of kindness extended to us during the sickness and at the death of our beloved wife and mother, the late Mrs. Joseph Tatreault also for the floral and spiritual offerings presented.

Joseph Tatreault and family.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Some local farmers are complaining very bitterly of the low prices being paid for all kinds of farm produce. One case especially has been brought to our attention where a farmer milking seven cows, nearly all recently freshened, and giving a good flow of milk, received a check for $1.94 for the cream produced in three days. Twenty-seven cents per pound was paid for butterfat a few days ago when this case was reported. Fortnuately for the dairymen, the commodities which he buys are also low, but he believes that he is receiving less for his cream, and possibly other farm products, than anything else on the market.

Nearly every winter, a number of accidents and near tragedies among the fishermen working around the Peninsula are reported but seldom is there any serious mishap. The first case to be reported this winter of a man actually getting in the water was that of William Smith of Fayette who was walking over a channel of water which was only lightly frozen over. He went in up to his arm pits but managed to throw out his arms over the solid ice on each side, thus keeping himself afloat until help arrived. Charles Arnold was working nearby and hurried to his assistance and suceeded in getting him out without delay. He hurried home as quickly as possible and has not suffered any serious consequences. The accident happened Wednesday but a little distance of Burnt Bluff at a point where the water is about thirty feet deep.

CHURCH NOTICES
(Sunday, January 18)

St. John the Baptist Church

8:00 a. m.—Low Mass, followed by Benedictions with the Blessed Sacrament.

Congregational Church

10:00 a. m.—Garden.

Mr. and Mrs. William Winter, Sr., have gone to Manistique and are spending several weeks at the home of their son, Chester, and wife.

Mrs. George Nelson and Olive Kaufman of Chicago were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Solby Lafave Monday. They had come to Cooks to attend the funeral of Oliver Charboneau of Cooks. They took Mrs. Lafave back to Cooks with them in order that she might spend a little time at the Charboneau home.

Mrs. Sylvester Lewis and children of Kipling have come to Garden and expect to spend the winter at the home of her brother, Ray Kauthen, and family.

The Misses Lillian and Sadie Dalgord, Celia Greene and Leo Dalgord spent last Suday at the home of Jack Spielmacher of Cooks.

John Lalonde and borther Alex have spent the greater part of the past week hauling their surplus hay, about twenty-five tons in all, over to Nahma. They took the route around the road rather than risk attempting to cross the bay.

Theophile Plante who is making his home at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John Lalonde and family, is slowly improving from his recent sickness but is not yet able to venture outside.

There is considerable sickness on the Garden Peninsula, especially in the Fayette district. Very few of the cases are believed to be of a serious nature.

A number of local fishermen are reporting good results with their winter's fishing but still others are complaining that there are no fish worth while. Commercial hook fishing for trout in the Fairport district has been unusually successful during the past week.

Miss Dorothy Polkinhorn of Negaunee is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Watchorn of Fayette.

Charles Watchorn returned Friday to Chicago where he is employed. He had spent the holidays with his parents at Fayette.

John Geniesse, mail carrier from the Fayette postoffice, has had to get out his team for use in hauling the mail over the side roads on his route. He is still able to use his car on that stretch of his route along the county highway. Just a little thoughtfulness on the part of boxholders on this or any other route will do much to make easier the lot of those public servants who labor so faithfully during these cold, unpleasant days, as on those days when the going is easier.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Rock, Mrs. Joseph Phillips and Mrs. Leah Rock, all of Ishpeming, attended the funeral of Mrs. Joseph Tatreault, held Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Flaurian LaPorch and Mr. and Mrs. LaFors of North Lake, also Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rock of Iron Mountain were visitors at the home of Joseph Tatreault Sunday.

Miss Eva Gauthier is spending a few days visiting at the home of Mrs. Oscar Levine, and also at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Schraw of Chicago.

Mr. Denman, representing the Booth Fish company of Chicago, called on local fishermen Sunday. He also looked through the box factory and expressed himself emphatically in reference to the facilities of the plant for turning out a good product.

OBITUARY

MRS. KATHERINE MANNING.

Members of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will meet at the parish hall at 8:30 today to attend the services in a body. The pallbearers chosen are Joseph Carney, George Harvey, Joseph McGillis, P. H. Council, John A. Fisher, Sr., and Francis McCauley.

Interment will be in the family plat in St. Joseph's cemetery.

MICHAEL J. RIEDY

The body of Michael Joseph Riedy, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Riedy, 1600 North Sixteenth street, was removed yesterday from the Allo funeral home to the family residence.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Burial will be made in the family plat in St. Joseph's cemetery.

JOSEPH SKRUSIENSKI

The body of Joseph Skrusienski, fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skrusienski of Harris, will remain at the Allo funeral home until Saturday morning at nine o'clock when it will be taken directly to St. Michael's church at Perronville, where Rev. Fr. Tom. Drengacz will read a requiem high mass.

Interment will be made in the family plat in Harris cemetery.

Will Build Rink

Menominee.—A volunteer organization of West Enders has taken over the building of a skating rink on the Ogden avenue circus grounds. This morning they obtained consent of the water board to use city water to flood the field and they also obtained hose from the fire department. About 15 men have been enlisted to build the rink and to keep it in condition without expense to the city. The work is in charge of Frank Mikolasek.

Banks Elect

Iron Mountain. — Only one change, the addition of M. J. Fox to the board of directors of the Commercial bank, was made in the directorates and list of officers of Iron Mountain's three banks at their annual meetings held following the close of business yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Baxter, the retiring member of the Commercial board, is now a resident of Houghton where he is an instructor at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. His successor, Mr. Fox, is president of the von Platen-Fox Lumber company.

The officers of the banks reported a very satisfactory year, despite the current depression. Earnings were excellent and deposits held up well.

Measles Epidemic

Iron River.—More than 175 children were absent from school yesterday afternoon due to a mild epidemic of measles and other ailments.

While there have been no new outbreaks of measles, according to Dr. L. E. Irvine, school physician, many parents were advised to keep their children at home as a precautionary measure. Miss Irma Bruemmer, school nurse, is busy checking upon new cases.

In some instances children in families where one is afflicted have been asked to stay at home.

Shooting Affray

Bessemer. — Franklin Bjornson, 22, of Anvil, was bound over to the February term of circuit court yesterday afternoon by Justice Levi S. Rice when he waived preliminary examination. Bjornson is charged with assult to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder on the complaint of Arthur Frederickson, Joseph Chiapuzio and W. J. Draver, mine police officer, all of Anvil. His bond was set at $1,000.

The assult charge resulted from a shooting in Anvil Saturday night at 6 o'clock. No one was injured but each of the three complaints had narrow escapes. Bjornson admitted in justice court yesterday afternoon that he was intoxicated at the time.

Architect Engaged

Houghton.—John D. Chubb of Marquette and Chicago has been engaged as architect to prepare plans and specifications for the new Houghton county sanatorium, according to an announcement by the special committee at the monthly meeting of the Houghton county board of supervisors yesterday morning. Mr. Chubb has done considerable work in the Copper Country, his most recent job being the new Morrison high school in Calumet.

The committee announced that it had decided to endeavor to keep the cost of the building, exclusive of equipment, under $200,000, which would bring the total cost considerably under $300,000 which is the amount for which bonds were authorized at the November election. The committee further declarer its intentions of providing a modern, adequate sanatorium at the lowest possible cost to the tax payers.

Ferry Laid Up

St. Ignace.—The last of the fleet of Straits of Mackinac automobile ferries will discontinue operations at the close of business tomorrow, Thursday, January 15, and the following day automobiles will be taken over by arrangements with the Mackinac Transportation Company, operators of railroad ferries beginning Friday, January 16, will be as follows:

Leave St. Ignace: 5:30 a. m.; 9:30 a. m. and 7 p. m., central standard time (one hour slower than Sault time).

Leave Mackinac City, 7:30 a. m.; 5:30 p. m.; 10:30 p. m., central standard time. In addition there will be two round trips after midnight on an indefinite schedule.

Soo Banker Resigns

Sault Ste. Marie.—All officers and directors of the three Sault banks were re-elected last night at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the banks with the exception of C. A. Saunders who resigned as a director of the Sault Savings Bank.

Officers re-elected for the Sault Savings Bank were: M. J. Magee, president; Henry Hickler, vice-president; H. E. Fletcher, cashier; D. E. Van Dusen, auditor; and R. J. Tuxworth and Fred K. County Treasurer Short

Marquette.—The Mining Journal was informed last night by Joseph P. Donnelly, prosecuting attorney of Ontonagon county, that a warrant would be issued today for the arrest of Carroll A. Brown, former Ontonagon county treasurer, charging misappropriation of county funds.

According to Mr. Donnelly, a shortage in Brown's accounts was found when the books in the treasurer's office were checked recently by John E. Tobin, Marquette auditor. James K. Jamieson, elected treasurer last November to succeed Brown, employed Tobin to check the books when he took office January 1. Jamieson did not ask Tobin to make an audit, Donnelly said, but instructed him to establish the cash balance which would be charged to him, Jamieson, as incoming treasurer.

Mich. Father Knew Best

WISE parents find the things that keep children contented, happy, well. Most of them have learned they can depend on one thing to restore a youngster's good nature when he's cross, fretful, upset.

The experience of Mr. John Cooper, 16512 Woodward Ave., Detroit, is a typical one. He says: "We have used California Fig Syrup with Irene and Arthur since they were just young babies. Whenever they're the least bit constipated or restless I give them a little. It has them comfortable happy, well in a hurry. Their splendid condition proves I knew best when I decided to use this wonderful preparation with them."

Physicians endorse the use of pure vegetable California Fig Syrup when bad breath, coated tongue, dullness, feverishness, listlessness, etc., show a child's bowels are in need of help. Weak stomach and bowels are toned by its gentle aid; appetite is increased digestion and assimilation are so assisted that weak, undernourished children quickly improve in weight, strength and energy.

Manistique to Vote on New School Expansion at Special Election

Program Calls for New Central and Westside School Buildings

In fulfillment of the promise made to the West Side citizens by the board of education in 1916, that if the bond issue providing for the erection of the new high school building was passed, upon its retirement the board would submit to the taxpayers the question of replacement of the West Side grade school with a modern building, and in response to the general demand for better and greater educational facilities at Central, the board of education, at a recent special meeting, decided to ask taxpayers to consider the authorizing of a bond issue for the purpose of providing new modern buildings to meet present educational needs at Central and West Side. A special election will be held on Monday, February 2.

The building program, as outlined, calls for a modern nine-room brick building with combination auditorium and gymnasium for West Side; an addition of like construction to the north end of the present high school providing class rooms for the pupils at present housed in the old Central grade building, and a gymnasium with a seating capacity of from 600 to 800; the modernizing of the class rooms and equipment at Lakeside, installing girls' and boys' toilets on the first floor, remodeling the two west rooms on the second floor to make a combination auditorium and gymnasium, 31 feet by 55 feet, exclusive of the stage area.

Building Costs Low

Members of the board of education believe they would be disregarding their obligation to the community should they fail to give the people the opportunity to express their wishes in this matter at this time when construction costs are lower than they have been for fourteen years, when a building program of the proportion proposed, would eliminate the unemployment situation in Manitsique for four or five months during early spring and summer as well as stimulate business and improve the general well-being of the community.

The urgent need for better grade buildings at Central and Lakeside has long been recognized. Shall we have them in the near future and at lower costs or shall we wait and build (eventually we must) when building costs have risen?

It is estimated that letting contracts for this building program early in the year will save $20,000 over a building program started late in the spring.

The present high school was built and equipped for $150,000 in 1917. The construction company completed the building at a loss because of the increase in cost of labor and materials. Had the contracts been let a few months later, the cost would have been from $50,000 to $100,000 more.

$13,000 a Year

In order to carry out this building program, providing complete modern equipment for all types of rooms, it is necessary that the taxpayers authorize a $170,000 bond issue. The average annual cost of retiring a twenty-year serial issue of $170,000, bearing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent, would be $13,085. The average yearly expenditure during the past ten years for retirement of the recent high school bond isue was $13,736.80. The retirement of this issue was completed last year.

Because of the fact that the taxpayers have been spending more each year for the last ten years for the retirement of the high school bond issue than the yearly cost of paying for the proposed bond issue will not in itself be responsible for any increase in the school tax rate.

It is estimated that the increase would approximate, but not exceed, 94 cents per thousand valuation. The decrease in assessed valuation accounts for part of this increase and part would also be due to additions to the teaching force to take care of increased offerings in manual training, home economics, and physical education subjects.

Home economics would be provided for seventh and eighth grade girls of the public and parochial schools. The seventh and eighth grade boys of the St. Francis de Sales school would be offered work in manual training, and physical education classes would meet every day instead of twice a week.

It is impossible to carry out such a program with the present limited facilities and equipment.

St. Francis Hospital

Mrs. Albert Benoit, 1406 Ludington street, was admitted yesterday as a medical patient.

Mrs. Ivan Carlson, 529 South Sixteenth street, was admitted yesterday.

Lillian Tasquin of Carney, was admitted yesterday.

Erick Peterson of Gladstone, submitted to an operation for relief from appendicitis and is as well as can be expected. Visitors are not allowed.

The condition of Raymond Ethier is slightly improved but visitors are not permitted to call.

Melvin Erickson of Bark River, who is a surgical patient, is slightly improved but is not allowed any visitors.

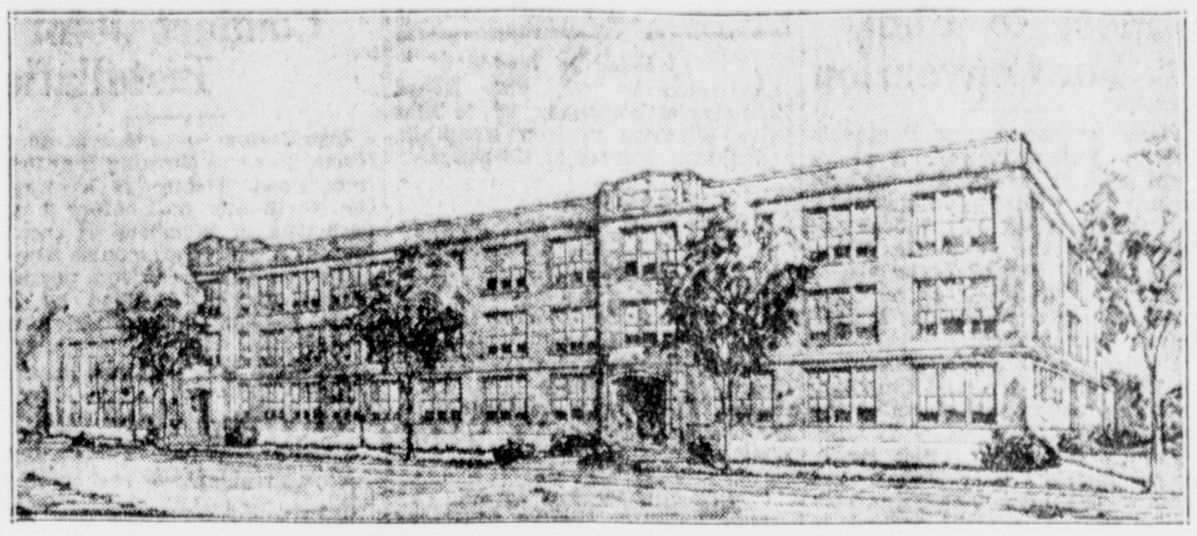
PROPOSED MANISTIQUE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL



The above photograph shows the proposed new $132,000 junior high school and gymnasium as an addition to the present high school building. The new structure would be constructed of material and design similar to the high school. The new project calls for a bond issue of $170,000 which will be voted on by tax payers at a special election to be held on Monday, February 2.

POLITICAL POT BOILS; GARDEN

Farmers and Villagers Differ; Election Contests Loom

Garden, Jan. 15 (Special)—Garden township, in the coming spring, faces perhaps the hottest political battle of its entire history, judging from the amount of pre-caucus activity, noticable among its citizens.

The present township board has come in for a considerable amount of criticism arising out of differences between the farmers and the several hundred residents of the village of Garden.

Business men in the village hold that the expenditure of township money for public work in the country sections beyond certain limits is unjustified in view of the condition of township finances.

The farmers are up in arms over the township's neglect to carry out a snow removal program. They point out through numerous spokesmen that hundreds of dollars of tax revenue are being spent for purposes from which the taxpayers themselves are deriving little or no benefit.

Supervisor Charles Gauthier last Friday night orgainzed the business men of the village who expressed their full confidence in his administration and guaranteed him their united support for another term of office.

This course of action was believed necessary by local business men in view of the unprecedented activity among the politically minded farmers.

Names mentioned of probable candidates for township officers, including that of supervisor, who may be supported by the farmers at the April election, included those of Dayton Beardsley, Edward Goff, Jack Gitzen, Joseph Farley and Charles Winter. A number of the aforementioned may deny having any intentions of making the race but if the wish of their friends prevails they will perhaps throw their hats into the ring.

Names of other men are mentioned in connection with the various offices, but if they run, they will do so independently of either the farmers or the townspeople as a class, but will expect to draw votes from both sections.

Residents throughout the entire township are watching with unusual interest the developments in this interesting political situation.

MOTHER'S FAREWELL.

Farewell Son and Daughters,
Brother and Sisters;
Farewell God has called me,
Called me far away
Called me to his heavenly mansions
And I can no longer stay.
You will miss me,
Years, you will miss me,
When my voice is heard no more;
By and by you will come and see me,
On the other shore.
Jesus called me up on high,
If I could, I'd stay here with you,
Never would I say good-bye.
I know that you will miss me,
But my memory you must keep;
And if God will only let me,
I will come when you're asleep.
Farewell kind Grandchildren,
And near Relatives;
I know you feel sad today,
But Jesus our Savior has called me,
And His voice I must obey.
When your hearts are filled with sorrow,
And your burdens hard to bear,
I'll be watching from above you;
You will feel my presence there,
I will smooth your lonely pillows
And whisper dreams of love,
To your hearts while you are sleeping;
All about the world above.
Then you want to come and see me,
In the land so bright and fair,
And I will ask my Savior,
If He will bring you safely there.
Farewell friends and neighbors,
Mother is freed from pain tonight,
Gone where there is no sorrow,
Out of darkness into light;
To the home of many mansions,
Where life's fretful dreams are o'er,
Near the banks of that bright River,
I will meet you on the Shore.

Son and Daughters.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to our many neighbors and friends, for their many expressions of kindness extended to us during the sickness and at the death of our beloved wife and mother, the late Mrs. Joseph Tatreault also for the floral and spiritual offerings presented.

Joseph Tatreault and family.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Some local farmers are complaining very bitterly of the low prices being paid for all kinds of farm produce. One case especially has been brought to our attention where a farmer milking seven cows, nearly all recently freshened, and giving a good flow of milk, received a check for $1.94 for the cream produced in three days. Twenty-seven cents per pound was paid for butterfat a few days ago when this case was reported. Fortnuately for the dairymen, the commodities which he buys are also low, but he believes that he is receiving less for his cream, and possibly other farm products, than anything else on the market.

Nearly every winter, a number of accidents and near tragedies among the fishermen working around the Peninsula are reported but seldom is there any serious mishap. The first case to be reported this winter of a man actually getting in the water was that of William Smith of Fayette who was walking over a channel of water which was only lightly frozen over. He went in up to his arm pits but managed to throw out his arms over the solid ice on each side, thus keeping himself afloat until help arrived. Charles Arnold was working nearby and hurried to his assistance and suceeded in getting him out without delay. He hurried home as quickly as possible and has not suffered any serious consequences. The accident happened Wednesday but a little distance of Burnt Bluff at a point where the water is about thirty feet deep.

St. John the Baptist Church

8:00 a. m.—Low Mass, followed by Benedictions with the Blessed Sacrament.

Congregational Church

10:00 a. m.—Garden.

Mr. and Mrs. William Winter, Sr., have gone to Manistique and are spending several weeks at the home of their son, Chester, and wife.

Mrs. George Nelson and Olive Kaufman of Chicago were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Solby Lafave Monday. They had come to Cooks to attend the funeral of Oliver Charboneau of Cooks. They took Mrs. Lafave back to Cooks with them in order that she might spend a little time at the Charboneau home.

Mrs. Sylvester Lewis and children of Kipling have come to Garden and expect to spend the winter at the home of her brother, Ray Kauthen, and family.

The Misses Lillian and Sadie Dalgord, Celia Greene and Leo Dalgord spent last Suday at the home of Jack Spielmacher of Cooks.

John Lalonde and borther Alex have spent the greater part of the past week hauling their surplus hay, about twenty-five tons in all, over to Nahma. They took the route around the road rather than risk attempting to cross the bay.

Theophile Plante who is making his home at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John Lalonde and family, is slowly improving from his recent sickness but is not yet able to venture outside.

There is considerable sickness on the Garden Peninsula, especially in the Fayette district. Very few of the cases are believed to be of a serious nature.

A number of local fishermen are reporting good results with their winter's fishing but still others are complaining that there are no fish worth while. Commercial hook fishing for trout in the Fairport district has been unusually successful during the past week.

Miss Dorothy Polkinhorn of Negaunee is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Watchorn of Fayette.

Charles Watchorn returned Friday to Chicago where he is employed. He had spent the holidays with his parents at Fayette.

County Treasurer Short

Marquette.—The Mining Journal was informed last night by Joseph P. Donnelly, prosecuting attorney of Ontonagon county, that a warrant would be issued today for the arrest of Carroll A. Brown, former Ontonagon county treasurer, charging misappropriation of county funds.

According to Mr. Donnelly, a shortage in Brown's accounts was found when the books in the treasurer's office were checked recently by John E. Tobin, Marquette auditor. James K. Jamieson, elected treasurer last November to succeed Brown, employed Tobin to check the books when he took office January 1. Jamieson did not ask Tobin to make an audit, Donnelly said, but instructed him to establish the cash balance which would be charged to him, Jamieson, as incoming treasurer.

Character and Body Building Hospital Aim

Ann Arbor, Jan. 13.--Curing the discouragement and inferiority which physically handicapped childhood and youth feel with special keenness, and developing instead an interest in life through the training of the individual's special abilities, is the important work undertaken by the Social Service Department of the University of Michigan hospital in its program of Special Education, which enrolled 1484 students last year.

"Modern psychology has shown that the roots of character are directly traceable to favorable or unfavorable experiences in childhood," states Dorothy Ketcham, Director of Social Service. "The child who is crippled or confined to an institution is almost entirely cut off from the normal work and play which give the well child a sense of importance in the world. As a consequence the handicapped youth tends strongly to develop a feeling of inferiority, he feels apart and useless, and when this occurs it not only slows physical recovery but gives the individual an outlook which is likely to make his life a burden both to himself and society."

The purpose of the Department of Special Education is to correct this wrong start by finding the special abilities of the patient and developing these to the maximum degree to take his thoughts from his deficiencies. This is done through therapeutic exercise prescribed for the correction of physical faults, and educational activities of all types and grades to build up an intelligent interest in living.

Constructive Play

Much of the education takes the form of paper construction, basketry, weaving and manual training which shows the use of materials as well as the construction of things. Growth of social cooperation of a model grocery or house, all parts and furnishings of which are made by the children, while the instructor uses it to teach scientific facts of lighting, ventilation, cleanliness and other information which the normal child would learn gradually from real experience. The interest which the children develop is seen by the fact that many carry on after going home under directions from the hospital staff. The daily school is eagerly awaited by the children, and the coming of the "play teacher" as she is known, is a feature of the hospital day for every pupil.

"House of Health" Given at Meeting of Jefferson P-T

"House of Health," a clever play in which the characters were presented by the second grade pupils of Miss Margaret Fitzsimmon's room, was given at the meeting of the Jefferson Parent-Teacher association unit, held Wednesday afternoon at the school building.

The meeting attracted a large attendance, every member present thoroughly enjoying the play and other items of the meeting.

The play characters were as follows:

"The Little Sick Girl"--Jeslyn Jackson.

"The Pill"—Donald Feller.

"The Powder"—Madline Sohn.

"The Bottle"—Octave Gerou.

"Sunshine"—Betty LeFevre.

"Fresh Air"—Beverly Johnson.

"Good Food"—Howard Seefeld.

"Play"—Jane Anderson.

"Cleanliness"—Norman Kincaid.

Following this the Health Alphabet was presented by the entire second grade.

Plan Evening Meeting

At the business meeting, a report of welfare activities was made, this work including the financing of repairs to shoes and overshoes of pupils where required, and the serving of hot breakfasts of cereal and milk, financed by the Kiwanis club, to a number of children, Miss Ethel Barth, principal of the school, assuming this duty in addition to her school work. Plans were made for an evening Father and Mother meeting on Founder's Day, February 17, at which there will be a talk on the Junior High School.

Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

Mrs. Vandenberg Prefers Orchids

Washington—Orchids are popular for mid-winter street wear, dark coats and furs providing an effective background.

Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, wife of the senator from Michigan, wears orchids with a tight-fitting black coat trimmed with brown mink collar.

Skate at Home.

Come winter, and many fortunate householders have found that they can convert their back yards into ice-skating rinks for the children. If there's a hollow in the ground, water from the garden hose will provide the ice on a freezing day.

LAMPS HARMONIZE WITH WINDOW FABRICS

For a living room done in conservative beige and browns, sheer glass curtains of marquisette are used with colorful overdrapes of gay patterned rose, green and beige cretonne, with a formal scalloped valance of glazed chintz in the deepest rose tone. The three lamps all tone in with the room. The standard lamp by the davenport is brass, with a natural parchment shade, decorated with a gold scroll design. On the table is a porcelain lamp, in two tones of rose, with onyx base and a rose-beige shade. On the desk a tolo lamp has a ruddy rose shade.

Today's Bridge

BY EDWARD C. WOLFE
Member of the National Championship Auction Team

North and East passing at auction, South opens the bidding third hand with one heart. North lacking normal support for his partner's hearts, together with a biddable diamond suit and one and a half high card tricks denies with a bid of two diamonds. South's two no trumps should then conclude the bidding. It is difficult to conceive of any possible variation of the above bidding.

NORTH—DEALER
DUMMY
S—6-5-4-2
H—J-10
D—A-J-10-9-3
C—9-8

WEST
S—K-J-3

H—9-8-6-5-3
D—8-5-4
C—J-10-6

SOUTH—DECLARER
S—A-9-8-7
H—A-K-4-2
D—K
C—A-K-Q-7

The Play

The question arises as to West's opening lead. The diamonds having been mentioned during the auction by North, there would manifestly be some hesitancy in opening the fourth highest diamond, but the club suit seems worthless. The opening lead is a gamble, and one person's guess is as good as another.

If the diamond is opened, the real play of the hand arises immediately. The declarer can count a sufficient number of tricks to go game, three club tricks, three heart tricks, two diamond tricks and a spade trick.

However, it is always profitable to obtain every possible trick out of the hand which the cards afford. There should be five odd at no trump. North must take the first diamond trick with the ace, as permitting the diamond to come up to the king means a loss of one or more tricks; but by playing the ace and returning the jack of diamonds, the suit will be established at once and thereafter the ten or jack of hearts will be an entry card for North's remaining diamonds.

Of course you will observe that if West leads a spade after taking the second trick with the queen of diamonds, the declarer may be held to three odd. The hand teaches the absolute necessity of watching your entry cards.

Contract Bidding

South should open the bidding at contract with a forcing bid of two hearts. This forcing two bid has the following characteristics:

1. You guarantee the holding of not less than five honor tricks.

2. These five tricks are distributed in at least three different suits.

3. Your partner must keep the bidding alive regardless of the weakness of his hand. A bust hand or a trickless hand by partner is shown by a bid of two no trump.

4. The bidding of any suit by partner other than two no trump affirms (as a general rule) a five-card biddable suit and at least one quick trick in the hand.

This original two bid of any suit has therefore been named a forcing bid, thus forcing partner under any and all circumstances to respond.

Note South's five tricks, distributed in three different suits. North responds with a bid of three diamonds, guaranteeing at least a biddable diamond suit and a quick trick somewhere in the hand. (Change the ace of diamonds to the deuce of diamonds and North must respond with a bid of two no trump). South's bid of three no trump should obviously conclude the bidding.

Braided Rag Rugs Project for Home Furnshing Clubs

A study of color in the home and the beginning of the braided rag rug was the subject for the lesson in the Home Furnishing project given in the Palestine Community on Tuesday, January 13, and at Wallace on Wednesday, January 14.

Each woman brought samples of rags with which she began her braiding. How to cut the rags, the making of three, four and five strand braiding was demonstrated as well as how to plan the size of rug and the method of sewing the braids together.

Much interest is being shown in the making of the home made rugs for the home and it is expected that there will be many lovely rugs to be displayed at the Achievement Day in May.

This lesson is one of a series in the Home Furnishing project offered to women in the Upper Peninsula through the Home Economics Extension Division of the Michigan State College.

Club Boards Meet to Plan For Convention

Plans for the Upper Peninsula District Federation of Women's Clubs meeting which will be held in May, were discussed generally at a joint meeting of the board of managers of the Escanaba Woman's club, and of representatives of the Child's Welfare club of Gladstone, hostess organizations for the district convention.

Twenty-one members, including the Escanaba board, and the Gladstone representatives, attended the meeting.

The meeting opened with luncheon at Mrs. R. E. Hodson's Tea Room at one o'clock, and was concluded after a general outline of arrangements for the program of the district meeting.

The convention will bring club women from all parts of the peninsula to Escanaba and Gladstone for its sessions. Completed plans for it will be announced in detail as soon as they are definite.

Simple Meals Are Best, Bureau of Home Economics

Families with limited incomes as a rule, do not need to be reminded that simple meals are always best, says the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of agriculture. When the income is small most adults as well as children will find their appetites are satisfied with an abundance of a few foods rather than a little bit of several things.

You can follow your family food guide, the bureau advises, if you serve meat or fish three or four times a week as the main dish for dinner. Other days you may choose cheese, baked beans or a thick pea or bean stew.

The meat allowance is small but its flavor can be extended and the whole meal made more palatable if vegetables are cooked with it. Other ways in which this can be done are by stuffing, making dumplings and gravy, or by cooking the meat with potatoes, rice or macaroni. The skillful use of onions, carrots, celery and tomatoes in small amounts heightens the flavor of stews and soups while at the same time it adds to the attractiveness of meals. You should definitely plan to use part of the weekly allowance of vegetables for this purpose.

Potatoes and one other vegetable or fruit should be served every day for dinner. Some days the vegetables may be served raw as a salad. Canned tomatoes, shredded cabbage, grated carrots and turnips, sliced onions, and many greens may be eaten raw with salt or salad dressing. They are delicious and more healthful raw than cooked. Then none of the mineral salts or vitamins are lost. This also saves fuel costs.

A dessert is not absolutely necessary but adds interest and flavor to the diet. Some inexpensive and very good ones include bread, rice or Indian pudding and shortcake made with dried fruit.

Pastry May be Made Of Fish Meal Flour

Washington (AP) — Biscuits, bread and cookies made from fish meal flour may join sweet rolls and sugar cookies as delicacies on the American dining table.

No distasteful flavor is observed in cookies containing 25 per cent fish flour which have been baked in the experimental laboratory, says John R. Manning, technologist of the bureau of fisheries.

Manning says fish meal flour containing calcium and phosphorus, two healthful minerals, would be of great value in the dietary of growing children.

Much of the education takes the form of paper construction, basketry, weaving and manual training which shows the use of materials as well as the construction of things. Growth of social cooperation of a model grocery or house, all parts and furnishings of which are made by the children, while the instructor uses it to teach scientific facts of lighting, ventilation, cleanliness and other information which the normal child would learn gradually from real experience. The interest which the children develop is seen by the fact that many carry on after going home under directions from the hospital staff. The daily school is eagerly awaited by the children, and the coming of the "play teacher" as she is known, is a feature of the hospital day for every pupil.

"House of Health" Given at Meeting of Jefferson P-T

"House of Health," a clever play in which the characters were presented by the second grade pupils of Miss Margaret Fitzsimmon's room, was given at the meeting of the Jefferson Parent-Teacher association unit, held Wednesday afternoon at the school building.

The meeting attracted a large attendance, every member present thoroughly enjoying the play and other items of the meeting.

The play characters were as follows:

"The Little Sick Girl"—Jeslyn Jackson.

"The Pill"—Donald Feller.

"The Powder"—Madline Sohn.

"The Bottle"—Octave Gerou.

"Sunshine"—Betty LeFevre.

"Fresh Air"—Beverly Johnson.

"Good Food"—Howard Seefeld.

"Play"—Jane Anderson.

"Cleanliness"—Norman Kincaid.

Following this the Health Alphabet was presented by the entire second grade.

Plan Evening Meeting

At the business meeting, a report of welfare activities was made, this work including the financing of repairs to shoes and overshoes of pupils where required, and the serving of hot breakfasts of cereal and milk, financed by the Kiwanis club, to a number of children, Miss Ethel Barth, principal of the school, assuming this duty in addition to her school work. Plans were made for an evening Father and Mother meeting on Founder's Day, February 17, at which there will be a talk on the Junior High School.

Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

Mrs. Vandenberg Prefers Orchids

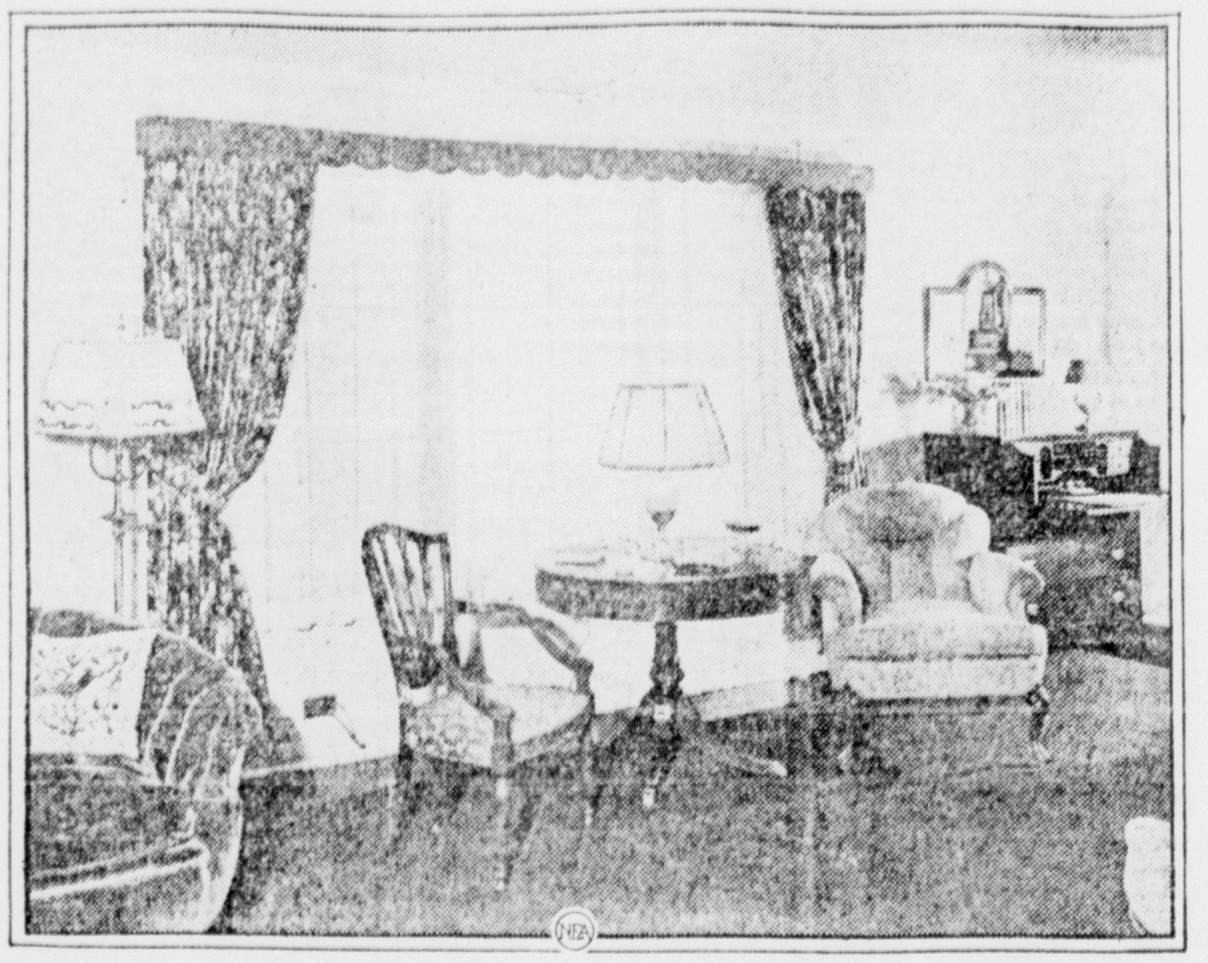
Washington—Orchids are popular for mid-winter street wear, dark coats and furs providing an effective background.

Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, wife of the senator from Michigan, wears orchids with a tight-fitting black coat trimmed with brown mink collar.

Skate at Home.

Come winter, and many fortunate householders have found that they can convert their back yards into ice-skating rinks for the children. If there's a hollow in the ground, water from the garden hose will provide the ice on a freezing day.

LAMPS HARMONIZE WITH WINDOW FABRICS



For a living room done in conservative beige and browns, sheer glass curtains of marquisette are used with colorful overdrapes of gay patterned rose, green and beige cretonne, with a formal scalloped valance of glazed chintz in the deepest rose tone. The three lamps all tone in with the room. The standard lamp by the davenport is brass, with a natural parchment shade, decorated with a gold scroll design. On the table is a porcelain lamp, in two tones of rose, with onyx base and a rose-beige shade. On the desk a tole lamp has a ruddy rose shade.

Today's Bridge

BY EDWARD C. WOLFE
Member of the National Championship Auction Team

North and East passing at auction, South opens the bidding third hand with one heart. North lacking normal support for his partner's hearts, together with a biddable diamond suit and one and a half high card tricks denies with a bid of two diamonds. South's two no trumps should then conclude the bidding. It is difficult to conceive of any possible variation of the above bidding.

NORTH—DEALER
DUMMY
S—6-5-4-2
H—J-10
D—A-J-10-9-3

WEST
S—K-J-3
H—Q-7
D—Q-7-6-2

S—Q-10
H—9-8-6-5-3
D—8-5-4

SOUTH—DECLARER
S—A-9-8-7
H—A-K-4-2
D—K

The Play

The question arises as to West's opening lead. The diamonds having been mentioned during the auction by North, there would manifestly be some hesitancy in opening the fourth highest diamond, but the club suit seems worthless. The opening lead is a gamble, and one person's guess is as good as another.

If the diamond is opened, the real play of the hand arises immediately. The declarer can count a sufficient number of tricks to go game, three club tricks, three heart tricks, two diamond tricks and a spade trick.

However, it is always profitable to obtain every possible trick out of the hand which the cards afford. There should be five odd at no trump. North must take the first diamond trick with the ace, as permitting the diamond to come up to the king means a loss of one or more tricks; but by playing the ace and returning the jack of diamonds, the suit will be established at once and thereafter the ten or jack of hearts will be an entry card for North's remaining diamonds.

Of course you will observe that if West leads a spade after taking the second trick with the queen of diamonds, the declarer may be held to three odd. The hand teaches the absolute necessity of watching your entry cards.

Contract Bidding

South should open the bidding at contract with a forcing bid of two hearts. This forcing two bid has the following characteristics:

1. You guarantee the holding of not less than five honor tricks.

2. These five tricks are distributed in at least three different suits.

3. Your partner must keep the bidding alive regardless of the weakness of his hand. A bust hand or a trickless hand by partner is shown by a bid of two no trump.

4. The bidding of any suit by partner other than two no trump affirms (as a general rule) a five-card biddable suit and at least one quick trick in the hand.

This original two bid of any suit has therefore been named a forcing bid, thus forcing partner under any and all circumstances to respond.

Note South's five tricks, distributed in three different suits. North responds with a bid of three diamonds, guaranteeing at least a biddable diamond suit and a quick trick somewhere in the hand. (Change the ace of diamonds to the deuce of diamonds and North must respond with a bid of two no trump). South's bid of three no trump should obviously conclude the bidding.

Braided Rag Rugs Project for Home Furnshing Clubs

A study of color in the home and the beginning of the braided rag rug was the subject for the lesson in the Home Furnishing project given in the Palestine Community on Tuesday, January 13, and at Wallace on Wednesday, January 14.

Each woman brought samples of rags with which she begun her braiding. How to cut the rags, the making of three, four and five strand braiding was demonstrated as well as how to plan the size of rug and the method of sewing the braids together.

Much interest is being shown in the making of the home made rugs for the home and it is expected that there will be many lovely rugs to be displayed at the Achievement Day in May.

This lesson is one of a series in the Home Furnishing project offered to women in the Upper Peninsula through the Home Economics Extension Division of the Michigan State College.

Club Boards Meet to Plan For Convention

Plans for the Upper Peninsula District Federation of Women's Clubs meeting which will be held in May, were discussed generally at a joint meeting of the board of managers of the Escanaba Woman's club, and of representatives of the Child's Welfare club of Gladstone, hostess organizations for the district convention.

Twenty-one members, including the Escanaba board, and the Gladstone representatives, attended the meeting.

The meeting opened with luncheon at Mrs. R. E. Hodson's Tea Room at one o'clock, and was concluded after a general outline of arrangements for the program of the district meeting.

The convention will bring club women from all parts of the peninsula to Escanaba and Gladstone for its sessions. Completed plans for it will be announced in detail as soon as they are definite.

Simple Meals Are Best, Bureau of Home Economics

Families with limited incomes as a rule, do not need to be reminded that simple meals are always best, says the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of agriculture. When the income is small most adults as well as children will find their appetites are satisfied with an abundance of a few foods rather than a little bit of several things.

You can follow your family food guide, the bureau advises, if you serve meat or fish three or four times a week as the main dish for dinner. Other days you may choose cheese, baked beans or a thick pea or bean stew.

The meat allowance is small but its flavor can be extended and the whole meal made more palatable if vegetables are cooked with it. Other ways in which this can be done are by stuffing, making dumplings and gravy, or by cooking the meat with potatoes, rice or macaroni. The skillful use of onions, carrots, celery and tomatoes in small amounts heightens the flavor of stews and soups while at the same time it adds to the attractiveness of meals. You should definitely plan to use part of the weekly allowance of vegetables for this purpose.

Potatoes and one other vegetable or fruit should be served every day for dinner. Some days the vegetables may be served raw as a salad. Canned tomatoes, shredded cabbage, grated carrots and turnips, sliced onions, and many greens may be eaten raw with salt or salad dressing. They are delicious and more healthful raw than cooked. Then none of the mineral salts of vitamins are lost. This also saves fuel costs.

A dessert is not absolutely necessary but adds interest and flavor to the diet. Some inexpensive and very good ones include bread, rice or Indian pudding and shortcake made with dried fruit.

Pastry May be Made Of Fish Meal Flour

Washington (AP) — Biscuits, bread and cookies made from fish meal flour may join sweet rolls and sugar cookies as delicacies on the American dining table.

No distasteful flavor is observed in cookies containing 25 per cent fish flour which have been baked in the experimental laboratory, says John R. Manning, technologist of the bureau of fisheries.

Manning says fish meal flour containing calcium and phosphorus, two healthful minerals, would be of great value in the dietary of growing children.

BOWLING NOTES

Aces, Jackets Win

In the final matches of the first half of the 1930-31 season in the girls' league the Blue Aces and the Yellow Jackets were victorious over the Green Lassies and the Red Knights respectively. Each won their match by a two out of three game margin.

Mrs. Marcella Peterson, of the Jackets, turaned in the best performance of the evening chalking up marks of 133, 157 and 162 for an average of 151 per game. Incidentally, her mark of 162 was high for the night.

OFFICE WINS

The Office five walloped the Buckeyes, three straight to win a makeup match Wednesday evening on the Rialto alleys. Van De Weghe was the mainstay in the victors offense turning in scores of 171, 203 and 197 for high average and best score of the evening.

The victory puts them but a single game behind the league leading Rialtos, and makes prospects for the title look brighter than ever. Should the City Club defeat the Rialtos, and the Office win their next match by a clean sweep, they would step into first place. Or, if the City Club can take a single game from the leaders and the Office sweep their match, they would be deadlocked for first place.

PERKINS

Perkins, Jan. 12 (Special)—Marie Casimir, accompanied by her aunt, arrived Saturday from Munising, called by the serious illness of her brother Joseph, who was seized with an embolism of the heart Saturday noon at St. Francis Hospital, where he submitted to an operation two weeks ago for the removal of a ruptured appendix. The young man was recovering favorably until Saturday's seizure, but it is still hoped that he may recover. On Sunday there was a slight amelioration of the condition.

The list of those present at the party given by Danville Sandstrom at his home on Saturday evening, besides those mentioned in Sunday's paper, included Dorothy Boprie, Gordon Gustafson, Leslie Nelson and Stanley Stevenson.

Wilfred Labresh and Lawrence Besaw returned Saturday from a motor trip to Manitowoc and other Wisconsin plints.

Stella Wedin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wedin is expected to arrive this week from Minnesota to spend the remainder of the winter with her grandfather, Swen Hall.

Mrs. Chas. Kinnart of Iron Mountain, is visiting at the A. D. Kinnart home.

Word has been received of the birth of a fourteen pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Geo Besson, Sr., of Escanaba. Mr. Besson was married a year ago to Miss Marianne Beaumier of Escanaba.

Miss Saimi Ojala and also Mrs. Loretta McNamara were able to resume charge of their classes on Monday morning.

John Gerou made a business trip to Iron Mountain Wednesday in company with Lawrence Sheedlo of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Monley Rodgers and little daughter, Betty Jean, of Gladstone, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Besaw on Sunday.

Because women's vocal chords are lighter and move more easily than men's, requiring less effort to use, women talk more than men, according to a German scientist.

THEATRES

RIALTO

Feature No. 1

Charles Farrell has a new screen role. In previous Fox Movietone offerings, "7th Heaven," "The River," "Sunny Side Up" and "High Society Blues," he played a young French laborer, an engineer and a millionaire.

In "Liliom," which opens tonight at the Rialto theatre he has an unusual part—that of an irresponsible, egoistic and reckless Austrian youngster, a "barker" in a sideshow, who comes to love one of the many girls who pursue him, but who avoids telling her so for fear of "spoiling her."

Frank Borzage directed the picture, a film version of Franz Molnar's famous stage success, "Liliom" with Rose Holbart, H. B. Warner, Estelle Taylor and Lee Tracy in the other featured roles.

Feature No. 2

Grant Withers and Marian Nixon, who have the leading romantic roles in "In the Headlines," Warner Bros.' new all-talking Vitaphone newspaper picture which comes to the Rialto theatre tonight for a run of two days, are heard singing together for the first time in this production.

They sing the theme song, "Love Will Find a Way." Destined to be widely popular.

TAKES HOME WITH HIM

Columbia, Mo.—When John Davenport came to the University here, he brought his home with him—on wheels. Jonn couldn't afford to rent an expensive room at school so he and his father fixed up a small cottage on wheels. The cost of the house was $250. It is wired for electricity, is heated by a coal stove, and has all the accommodations of home.

Shopman Injured When Emerywheel Breaks Into Bits

Ernest Borchert, Soo Line boiler maker foreman, had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday when, while working at the shops a whirling emery wheel shattered into bits, one of the pieces striking him on the left side of the face, severely bruising the cheek and loosening a number of teeth. Mr. Borchert, while confined to his home, is improving rapidly and will be able to return to work within several days.

SOCIAL

Mrs. Tordeur is Hostess

Mrs. C. L. Tordeur entertained a group of her friends at her home, Michigan avenue, Wednesday evening.

There were 12 guests present and the evening was spent playing bridge at which Mrs. P. L. Cameron had high honors.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess after the bridge games.

Mrs. Floyd Class of Korobert, Sask., formerly of this city was among the guests and was presented with the guest prize.

BOWLING NOTES

Aces, Jackets Win

In the final matches of the first half of the 1930-31 season in the girls' league the Blue Aces and the Yellow Jackets were victorious over the Green Lassies and the Red Knights respectively. Each won their match by a two out of three game margin.

Mrs. Marcella Peterson, of the Jackets, turaned in the best performance of the evening chalking up marks of 133, 157 and 162 for an average of 151 per game. Incidentally, her mark of 162 was high for the night.

OFFICE WINS

The Office five walloped the Buckeyes, three straight to win a makeup match Wednesday evening on the Rialto alleys. Van De Weghe was the mainstay in the victors offense turning in scores of 171, 203 and 197 for high average and best score of the evening.

The victory puts them but a single game behind the league leading Rialtos, and makes prospects for the title look brighter than ever. Should the City Club defeat the Rialtos, and the Office win their next match by a clean sweep, they would step into first place. Or, if the City Club can take a single game from the leaders and the Office sweep their match, they would be deadlocked for first place.

PERKINS

Perkins, Jan. 12 (Special)—Marie Casimir, accompanied by her aunt, arrived Saturday from Munising, called by the serious illness of her brother Joseph, who was seized with an embolism of the heart Saturday noon at St. Francis Hospital, where he submitted to an operation two weeks ago for the removal of a ruptured appendix. The young man was recovering favorably until Saturday's seizure, but it is still hoped that he may recover. On Sunday there was a slight amelioration of the condition.

The list of those present at the party given by Danville Sandstrom at his home on Saturday evening, besides those mentioned in Sunday's paper, included Dorothy Boprie, Gordon Gustafson, Leslie Nelson and Stanley Stevenson.

Wilfred Labresh and Lawrence Besaw returned Saturday from a motor trip to Manitowoc and other Wisconsin piints.

Stella Wedin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wedin is expected to arrive this week from Minnesota to spend the remainder of the winter with her grandfather, Swen Hall.

Mrs. Chas. Kinnart of Iron Mountain, is visiting at the A. D. Kinnart home.

Word has been received of the birth of a fourteen pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Geo Besson, Sr., of Escanaba. Mr. Besson was married a year ago to Miss Marianne Beaumier of Escanaba.

Miss Saimi Ojala and also Mrs. Loretta McNamara were able to resume charge of their classes on Monday morning.

John Gerou made a business trip to Iron Mountain Wednesday in company with Lawrence Sheedlo of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Monley Rodgers and little daughter, Betty Jean, of Gladstone, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Besaw on Sunday.

Because women's vocal chords are lighter and move more easily than men's, requiring less effort to use, women talk more than men, according to a German scientist.

RIALTO

Feature No. 1

Charles Farrell has a new screen role. In previous Fox Movietone offerings, "7th Heaven," "The River," "Sunny Side Up" and "High Society Blues," he played a young French laborer, an engineer and a millionaire.

In "Liliom," which opens tonight at the Rialto theatre he has an unusual part—that of an irresponsible, egoistic and reckless Austrian youngster, a "barker" in a sideshow, who comes to love one of the many girls who pursue him, but who avoids telling her so for fear of "spoiling her."

Frank Borzage directed the picture, a film version of Franz Molnar's famous stage success, "Liliom" with Rose Holbart, H. B. Warner, Estelle Taylor and Lee Tracy in the other featured roles.

Feature No. 2

Grant Withers and Marian Nixon, who have the leading romantic roles in "In the Headlines," Warner Bros.' new all-talking Vitaphone newspaper picture which comes to the Rialto theatre tonight for a run of two days, are heard singing together for the first time in this production.

They sing the theme song, "Love Will Find a Way." Destined to be widely popular.

TAKES HOME WITH HIM

Columbia, Mo.—When John Davenport came to the University here, he brought his home with him—on wheels. Jonn couldn't afford to rent an expensive room at school so he and his father fixed up a small cottage on wheels. The cost of the house was $250. It is wired for electricity, is heated by a coal stove, and has all the accommodations of home.

Shopman Injured When Emerywheel Breaks Into Bits

Ernest Borchert, Soo Line boiler maker foreman, had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday when, while working at the shops a whirling emery wheel shattered into bits, one of the pieces striking him on the left side of the face, severely bruising the cheek and loosening a number of teeth. Mr. Borchert, while confined to his home, is improving rapidly and will be able to return to work within several days.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—The stock market today overstepped the boundaries of the narrow trading area in which it had been aimlessly maneuvering and dropped to the lowest level since December 31.

Declines were largest in the prominent shares, so that the index for 90 issues was pulled down 2.9 points, the largest recession so far in 1931.

Heaviness characterized the day's trading from the start. A few rails made headway in the morning but this demonstration met no response and the market thereafter dropped steadily. Activity increased toward the close when some fair-sized blocks were sold. Final prices were generally the poorest sales of 1,932,990 shares, were more than 600,000 above yesterday's turnover.

Professional bears, finding the support so mediocre, supplied much of the selling which at times was directed against relatively few stocks, although it became more inclusive in the afternoon. Eastman Kodak, down more than 6 points; American & Foreign Power, off 4 in response to reports that earnings last year were about a dollar a share; American Telephone, also 4 points lower; Allied Chemical, breaking 8; and Westinghouse more than 2 to another new low were among the favorite targets.

U. S. Steel lost 2 3-8. The final sale in that seasoned market leader was 4,500 shares at 139, the lowest quotation of the year. Missouri-Kansas-Texas stood out with a 3 point rally, based on reports that the dividend had been earned and would be paid.

.The Richfield Oil receivership was probably the most prominent item in the day's corporate news and the stock, which had been soft for some time, added nearly 2 points to its recent losses.

Six months time money was shaded by some dealers and the supply of funds offered in the demand loan market continued embarrassingly abundant as cash persisted in flowing here from the interior.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England revealed another loss of gold, while holdings of the Bank of France increased.

Federal Reserve's Outstanding Credit Shows A Decrease

Washington, Jan. 15. (AP)—The average daily volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding during the week ending January 14, as reported by the Federal Reserve Banks, was $1,175,000,000, a decrease of $180,000,000 compared with the preceding week of $188,000,000 compared with the corresponding week in 1930.

The Federal Reserve board reported today that on January 14 total reserve bank credit amounted to $1,111,000,000, a decrease of $137,000,000 for the week. This corresponds with decreases of $133,000,000 in money in circulation and $5,000,000 in unexpended capital funds, etc., and an increase of $23,000,000 in monetary gold stock, offset in part by an increase of $20,000,000 in member bank reserve balances and a decrease of $3,000,000 in treasury currency.

Canadian bond sales during 1930 reached a new high record of $705,090,856, as compared with $628,016,207 for 1929, a survey by Dominion Securities Corp. disclosed. The total was the greatest volume of new financing of any year of Canada's financial history with the exception of the abnormal victory loan years of 1917, 1928 and 1919.

An order from investors in Milan, Italy, to buy a long list of high-grade stocks and bonds of American railroads, industrial and utility companies was received today by West & Co. The order totals approximately $160,000.

BY DONALD C. BOLLES
(Associated Press Finanical Writer)

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—The bond market had a respite today from the competition of new financing and resumed its advance. United States governments pointed towards new high levels and domestic corporate obligations in the investment class tended higher under the leadership of high grade carrier liens.

The lull in capital emissions was considered a good thing as there was some doubt as to whether the listed market could stand the strain. With no further offerings today to swell the three day total of $230,000,000 bidding for investment issues improved and the market's general tone was much steadier.

Indications that the improved sentiment towards the bond market has extended to municipal issues were given in the announcement that a syndicate had disposed of the last of the $50,000,000 New York City 4s offered last October. At the end of the year it was reported the syndicate still had $18,000,000 on their shelves. The state of Arkansas has sold $15,000,000 4¾ per cent notes due July 15, 1931 which are being offered by a syndicate headed by Halsey Stuart and Co.

Utilities Advance.

The accumulation of high grade investment issues was at a good pace today, and the turnover expanded to around the recent normal. Some of the utilities moved upward sharply. But the group was irregular.

The influence of easy money on United States governments has been marked since the first of the year. Treasury 3 3-8s of 1940-43 touched a new high for the past two years today and others are selling close to the 1930 maximum.

The passing of the Richfield Oil of California into the hands of a receiver brought a sharp reaction in the convertible 6s. The bond dipped 13½ points to 41 and colsed at 42. Other oil bonds were unsettled. Stock privilege issues were generally lower. In the foreign section, the principal movement in South Americans. Argentine issues softened. Colombian and Bolivian governments improved.

ACTIVE MART EASES PRICES

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Finanical Writer)

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—Curb shares were depressed by active selling of the utilities today.

Trading quickened somewhat, he day's transfers totaling 349,400 shares, a gain of 86,800 over yesterday's extremely low turnover.

Electric Bond and share provided much of the day's business, accounting for nearly 20 percent of the trading. The issue dropped 2½ points to 40, and closed only a fraction above the lowest. American Gas lost nearly 4.

Oils eased, but in the main were not notably active. Cities Service lost about a point in a fair turnover, and Gulf and Vacuum lost as much. Richfield preferred sold off 1 7-8 to 3 3-8, reflecting the receivership.

In the mining issues, copper holding companies, Newmont and Mayflower, each lost more than 2 points. Noranda, however, moved up a fraction.

In the industrials, American Arch lost 5 and Aluminum Co. 3½.

Schulte-United for which a receiver was appointed yesterday, sold at ¼ of a point.

The gold statement of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for the week ended Jan. 14 showed imports of $12,960,000 from Canada and $45,000 chiefly from Latin American countries. There were no exports. Gold earmarked for foreign account showed a net decrease of $8,000,000. The daily statement today showed a net decrease of $4,000,000 in gold earmarked for foreign account.

RADIO

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—The United States was given an opportunity to hear a South American welcome to the Italian trans-Atlantic fliers this afternoon.

By short wave from the capital of Brazil the National Broadcasting company retransmitted the greeting of Dio De Janeiro to the fleet of planes commanded by Italo Balbo, Italian air minister, which crossed the Atlantic ocean from Africa to South America. The fliers landed recently at Port Natal, going to Rio today.

Reception was fair. In a second rebroadcast Commander Balbo made a short address in Italian, translated by Charles Grasser, American resident manager of station PPU, which sent the signals to the United States.

Nancy Carroll, Mary Garden, Irving Cobb, Eva Lagallienne and Rollo Peters will entertain radio listeners tomorrow.

Miss Carroll will bring her movie personality to the Revue program in WJZ and stations at 8:45 p. m. (EST). She is to sing several numbers.

Miss Garden, prima donna of the Chicago Civic Opera, is to speak on "Singing as a Career" in the American School of the Air on WABC and network at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Legallienne and Mr. Peters are to co-star in the Radio Guild production of "Romeo and Juliet" over the WJZ coast to coast hookup at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Cobb continues his weekly humorous series in the chorus and orchestra program on WJZ and stations at 9:30.

A concert by the symphony orchestra of the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, will be presented at 4 p. m. (EST) via WABC and chain. Emil Mlynarski will conduct, the program to open with Tschaikovsky's overture, "Romeo and Juliet."

Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit start their morning series on WABC and hookup at 10:15 (EST). The program is to be of the same type Miss Sanderson and her husband give to evening audiences.

The Phil Spitalny orchestra, playing in Chicago, opens a new footlight series on WJZ and stations at 7:45 p. m. (EST.

Otherwise your dials may be set for:

12:30 p. m. (EST)—National Farm and Home Hour, discussion on "The Farm Business Library" by Edgar Markham and M. S. Eisenhower, WJZ and stations.

3:15 p. m.—The Rochester Philharmonic symphony playing via WHAM over the WJZ chain.

Ben Alley, tenor, and Ann Leaf, organist are to replace the Dixie Singers on WABC and stations starting Saturday evening. The Dixie Singers have just ended a two-year series of negro spirituals.

For Ginger's Sake

one-tenth of every cent of money that came into her possession, depositing it in a postal savings account, for she did not trust banks, savoring as they do so much of human personality. But the postal service being in the munificent hand of the United States was scarcely less to be trusted than the well-known hand of Providence itself. And certainly when the United States should cease to exist she would have no further need for her savings.

In the old orthodox days of her intimate connection with the parsonage she had practiced tithing, taking a tenth part of her income "for the Lord," as she said, although it reached him by the somewhat devious route of church socials, poor baskets and foreign missions. But in the new responsibility which she had so bravely assumed, she found that to deduct from her small salary one-tenth for the Lord and one-tenth for postal savings subjected her household to painful privations.

Jenky had never been able to cope successfully with spiritual problems so she trustfully took hers straight to Mr. Tolliver. Jenky was one of those who, in the very presence of glaring ministerial mistakes in the conduct of their own affairs, was able to retain implicit confidence in the wisdom of the cloth as concerned the affairs of others.

Nor was her confidence in this case misplaced. Mr. Tolliver listened sympathetically to the statement of her problem and then took both her thin hard hands in his.

"My good friend," he said, "anything you are doing from day to day, or any safeguards you are building for the future, for that poor blind husband of yours, you are doing for the Lord, yes, a thousand times more definitely for Him than the majority of our church activities. Postal savings for Benny is more practical service for the Lord than the collection plate for foreign missions. It is a noble example of the 'cup of cold water in my name.'"

"I suppose some of the ladies will criticize me," she began wistfully.

But he patted her hands and laughed. "Now, Jenky!" he chided her. "Is this between you and the Lord, or you and the ladies?"

Happily she was able to believe it as if it were the very Gospel, and she proceeded cheerfully to practice small economies that in the old days she had never dreamed of.

Now, suddenly, in Ginger's surprising proposition, she saw unsuspected avenues of income. If she and Benny gave up their rooms in town and went to the country for the summer, she would certainly save the amount of three, and possibly four, months' rent. She would have a garden, there would be fruit, and Ginger had promised to take care of all household expenses.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Jarred by breaks in securities, all grains tumbled today. Wheat selling ascribed to government-sponsored agencies had a disturbing effect, and so too did talk that until April or May farm board allies would refrain from formulating a policy as to supporting prices of the 1931 crop. Confidence in corn was shaken by heavier sales of corn to come here from other markets.

Wheat closed nervous, 3-8 to 1 7-8 cents lower, corn 2 1-8 to 2 7-8 down, oats 5-8 to 3-4 off, and provisions unchanged to 12 cents decline.

Unsteadiness of a notable character developed first in wheat, although corn showed a downward trend from the start, and finally dropped faster than the bread grain. Complicating the fluctuations both in wheat and corn were operations to close spreads, a process that temporarily involved sales of corn and purchases of wheat.

Notice taken that government-backed bodies were among the sellers of old-crop wheat brought out definite assertions that July contracts, representing the 1931 crop, would remain unsupported by farm board allies for 60 days or longer. It was explained that the policy of the grain stabilization corporation was to effect a reduction in wheat crops by causing domestic requirements for food, feed and seed purposes to be filled as much as possible at current levels, and that this purpose would be carried out to the limit.

Corn and oats gave way notwithstanding that rural offerings to arrive here were meager, and that corn primary arrivals remained much smaller than a year ago. Nebraska and northern Kansas, however, reported a pick-up in corn movement.

Provisions declined with hogs and grains.

Closing indemnities: Wheat May 85½, 84 3-4; July 66 3-4 to 7-8; 68 3-8.

Corn March 67 1-8, 69 ½; May 69 1-8, 71 to 71 1-8; July 70¼, 72¼ to 3-8.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—The stock market today overstepped the boundaries of the narrow trading area in which it had been aimlessly maneuvering and dropped to the lowest level since December 31.

Declines were largest in the prominent shares, so that the index for 90 issues was pulled down 2.9 points, the largest recession so far in 1931.

Heaviness characterized the day's trading from the start. A few rails made headway in the morning but this demonstration met no response and the market thereafter dropped steadily. Activity increased toward the close when some fair-sized blocks were sold. Final prices were generally the poorest sales of 1,932,990 shares, were more than 600,000 above yesterday's turnover.

Professional bears, finding the support so mediocre, supplied much of the selling which at times was directed against relatively few stocks, although it became more inclusive in the afternoon. Eastman Kodak, down more than 6 points; American & Foreign Power, off 4 in response to reports that earnings last year were about a dollar a share; American Telephone, also 4 points lower; Allied Chemical, breaking 8; and Westinghouse more than 2 to another new low were among the favorite targets.

U. S. Steel lost 2 3-8. The final sale in that seasoned market leader was 4,500 shares at 139, the lowest quotation of the year. Missouri-Kansas-Texas stood out with a 3 point rally, based on reports that the dividend had been earned and would be paid.

The Richfield Oil receivership was probably the most prominent item in the day's corporate news and the stock, which had been soft for some time, added nearly 2 points to its recent losses.

Six months time money was shaded by some dealers and the supply of funds offered in the demand loan market continued embarrassingly abundant as cash persisted in flowing here from the interior.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England revealed another loss of gold, while holdings of the Bank of France increased.

Federal Reserve's Outstanding Credit Shows A Decrease

Washington, Jan. 15. (AP)—The average daily volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding during the week ending January 14, as reported by the Federal Reserve Banks, was $1,175,000,000, a decrease of $180,000,000 compared with the preceding week of $188,000,000 compared with the corresponding week in 1930.

The Federal Reserve board reported today that on January 14 total reserve bank credit amounted to $1,111,000,000, a decrease of $137,000,000 for the week. This corresponds with decreases of $133,000,000 in money in circulation and $5,000,000 in unexpended capital funds, etc., and an increase of $23,000,000 in monetary gold stock, offset in part by an increase of $20,000,000 in member bank reserve balances and a decrease of $3,000,000 in treasury currency.

Canadian bond sales during 1930 reached a new high record of $705,090,856, as compared with $628,016,207 for 1929, a survey by Dominion Securities Corp. disclosed. The total was the greatest volume of new financing of any year of Canada's financial history with the exception of the abnormal victory loan years of 1917, 1928 and 1919.

An order from investors in Milan, Italy, to buy a long list of high-grade stocks and bonds of American railroads, industrial and utility companies was received today by West & Co. The order totals approximately $160,000.

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—The bond market had a respite today from the competition of new financing and resumed its advance. United States governments pointed towards new high levels and domestic corporate obligations in the investment class tended higher under the leadership of high grade carrier liens.

The lull in capital emissions was considered a good thing as there was some doubt as to whether the listed market could stand the strain. With no further offerings today to swell the three day total of $230,000,000 bidding for investment issues improved and the market's general tone was much steadier.

Indications that the improved sentiment towards the bond market has extended to municipal issues were given in the announcement that a syndicate had disposed of the last of the $50,000,000 New York City 4s offered last October. At the end of the year it was reported the syndicate still had $18,000,000 on their shelves. The state of Arkansas has sold $15,000,000 4¾ per cent notes due July 15, 1931 which are being offered by a syndicate headed by Halsey Stuart and Co.

Utilities Advance.

The accumulation of high grade investment issues was at a good pace today, and the turnover expanded to around the recent normal. Some of the utilities moved upward sharply. But the group was irregular.

The influence of easy money on United States governments has been marked since the first of the year. Treasury 3 3-8s of 1940-43 touched a new high for the past two years today and others are selling close to the 1930 maximum.

The passing of the Richfield Oil of California into the hands of a receiver brought a sharp reaction in the convertible 6s. The bond dipped 13½ points to 41 and colsed at 42. Other oil bonds were unsettled. Stock privilege issues were generally lower. In the foreign section, the principal movement in South Americans. Argentine issues softened. Colombian and Bolivian governments improved.

ACTIVE MART EASES PRICES

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Finanical Writer)

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—Curb shares were depressed by active selling of the utilities today.

Trading quickened somewhat, the day's transfers totaling 349,400 shares, a gain of 86,800 over yesterday's extremely low turnover.

Electric Bond and share provided much of the day's business, accounting for nearly 20 percent of the trading. The issue dropped 2½ points to 40, and closed only a fraction above the lowest. American Gas lost nearly 4.

Oils eased, but in the main were not notably active. Cities Service lost about a point in a fair turnover, and Gulf and Vacuum lost as much. Richfield preferred sold off 1 7-8 to 3 3-8, reflecting the receivership.

In the mining issues, copper holding companies, Newmont and Mayflower, each lost more than 2 points. Noranda, however, moved up a fraction.

In the industrials, American Arch lost 5 and Aluminum Co. 3½.

Schulte-United for which a receiver was appointed yesterday, sold at ¼ of a point.

The gold statement of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for the week ended Jan. 14 showed imports of $12,960,000 from Canada and $45,000 chiefly from Latin American countries. There were no exports. Gold earmarked for foreign account showed a net decrease of $8,000,000. The daily statement today showed a net decrease of $4,000,000 in gold earmarked for foreign account.

RADIO

New York, Jan. 15. (AP)—The United States was given an opportunity to hear a South American welcome to the Italian trans-Atlantic fliers this afternoon.

By short wave from the capital of Brazil the National Broadcasting company retransmitted the greeting of Dio De Janeiro to the fleet of planes commanded by Italo Balbo, Italian air minister, which crossed the Atlantic ocean from Africa to South America. The fliers landed recently at Port Natal, going to Rio today.

Reception was fair. In a second rebroadcast Commander Balbo made a short address in Italian, translated by Charles Grasser, American resident manager of station PPU, which sent the signals to the United States.

Nancy Carroll, Mary Garden, Irving Cobb, Eva Lagallienne and Rollo Peters will entertain radio listeners tomorrow.

Miss Carroll will bring her movie personality to the Revue program in WJZ and stations at 8:45 p. m. (EST). She is to sing several numbers.

Miss Garden, prima donna of the Chicago Civic Opera, is to speak on "Singing as a Career" in the American School of the Air on WABC and network at 2:30 p. m.

Miss Legallienne and Mr. Peters are to co-star in the Radio Guild production of "Romeo and Juliet" over the WJZ coast to coast hookup at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Cobb continues his weekly humorous series in the chorus and orchestra program on WJZ and stations at 9:30.

A concert by the symphony orchestra of the Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, will be presented at 4 p. m. (EST) via WABC and chain. Emil Mlynarski will conduct, the program to open with Tschaikovsky's overture, "Romeo and Juliet."

Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit start their morning series on WABC and hookup at 10:15 (EST). The program is to be of the same type Miss Sanderson and her husband give to evening audiences.

The Phil Spitalny orchestra, playing in Chicago, opens a new footlight series on WJZ and stations at 7:45 p. m. (EST.

Otherwise your dials may be set for:

12:30 p. m. (EST)—National Farm and Home Hour, discussion on "The Farm Business Library" by Edgar Markham and M. S. Eisenhower, WJZ and stations.

3:15 p. m.—The Rochester Philharmonic symphony playing via WHAM over the WJZ chain.

Ben Alley, tenor, and Ann Leaf, organist are to replace the Dixie Singers on WABC and stations, starting Saturday evening. The Dixie Singers have just ended a two-year series of negro spirituals.

one-tenth of every cent of money that came into her possession, depositing it in a postal savings account, for she did not trust banks, savoring as they do so much of human personality. But the postal service being in the munificent hand of the United States was scarcely less to be trusted than the well-known hand of Providence itself. And certainly when the United States should cease to exist she would have no further need for her savings.

In the old orthodox days of her intimate connection with the parsonage she had practiced tithing, taking a tenth part of her income "for the Lord," as she said, although it reached him by the somewhat devious route of church socials, poor baskets and foreign missions. But in the new responsibility which she had so bravely assumed, she found that to deduct from her small salary one-tenth for the Lord and one-tenth for postal savings subjected her household to painful privations.

Jenky had never been able to cope successfully with spiritual problems so she trustfully took hers straight to Mr. Tolliver. Jenky was one of those who, in the very presence of glaring ministerial mistakes in the conduct of their own affairs, was able to retain implicit confidence in the wisdom of the cloth as concerned the affairs of others.

Nor was her confidence in this case misplaced. Mr. Tolliver listened sympathetically to the statement of her problem and then took both her thin hard hands in his.

"My good friend," he said, "anything you are doing from day to day, or any safeguards you are building for the future, for that poor blind husband of yours, you are doing for the Lord, yes, a thousand times more definitely for Him than the majority of our church activities. Postal savings for Benny is more practical service for the Lord than the collection plate for foreign missions. It is a noble example of the 'cup of cold water in my name.'"

"I suppose some of the ladies will criticize me," she began wistfully.

But he patted her hands and laughed. "Now, Jenky!" he chided her. "Is this between you and the Lord, or you and the ladies?"

Happily she was able to believe it as if it were the very Gospel, and she proceeded cheerfully to practice small economies that in the old days she had never dreamed of.

Now, suddenly, in Ginger's surprising proposition, she saw unsuspected avenues of income. If she and Benny gave up their rooms in town and went to the country for the summer, she would certainly save the amount of three, and possibly four, months' rent. She would have a garden, there would be fruit, and Ginger had promised to take care of all household expenses.

She told Sheriff Runsat that her husband would not support her and she was on her way to join her parents, who came north some time ago, her father working in the woods in the vicinity of Kiva.

She had never been in this locality before. Without funds she started to beat her way and succeeded without much trouble. Wednesday afternoon she was brought before Probate Judge Nebel and after being questioned she was turned over to the sheriff and spent the night at the sheriff's residence. Yesterday morning she was given her fare to Carlshend, near where her parents are supposed to be located.

PLEAD GUILTY

Aubrey Doucette of Au Train, recently arrested for unlawful possession of venison, pleaded guilty to the charge in Justice Walters' court last Wednesday afternoon and was fined $50 and costs or thirty days in the county jail. He paid the assessment and was released.

GENERAL GOOD HEALTH

City Health Officer Scholtes informs us that the health of the people of Munising is generally good at the present time. The recent epidemic of measles is now under control and has about subsided. There are a few cases of whooping cough and one case of diphtheria has been reported. Parents are warned to be careful by not permitting their children to become exposed to any contagious disease at this time.

BEAN RETURNS

L. S. Bean, in charge of the Mackinaw division of the National Forest service, with headquarters in Munising, has just returned from Lansing where he went to superintend the shipment of trucks and equipment for road building on the highway between Kentucky and Skeel's lake in southern Alger county. Four trucks have been shipped to Munising and other equipment will follow Mr. Bean informs us that the camp buildings for accommodating the crew of men who are to work on the highway are now under construction at Wetmore and will be taken to Kentucky and erected, that being the place where the first camp will be located.

About a dozen men are now employed upon this preliminary work. Just as soon as the camp is established the actual work of road construction will begin when more men will be needed. Mr. Bean says that he now has applications for work on the highway from about 150 men. It is the intention of the service to employ married men who need work and these men will be selected from the district within which the work is to be done.

GO TO GOOD WILL FARM

The four children of Joe Furnjack have been ordered committed to the Good Will Farm at Houghton and will be sent there in a short time. Furnjack was arrested by Sheriff Runsat for non-support of his family. H's wife is in ill health and is being cared for at the county infirmary with her baby. The other three children are: a girl 4 years of age, one of two years and a boy of eight.

11 Sets of Twins Are Attending the Newberry Schools

Newberry, Jan. 15 (Special)—Eleven sets of twins are attending the Newberry schools according to the records kept at the office of the superintendent. Four pairs are in the kindergarten, having started school this year. Louis and Mi[illegible], sons of Mr. and Mrs. Verold Gormely; Elmer and John, sons of Mr and Mrs. Ben Solmi; Joe and Oscar, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Duchey represent the sterner sex in this room with the six year old daughters, Marjorie and Isabel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Barber the ladies.

In the first grade are Fred and Frank, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ben St. John. These boys have twin brothers at home, born during the past summer.

Marjorie and Margaret Bouchard, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bouchard are in the second grade, and Pauline and Katherine, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Borak are in the third. Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mattson, Martha and Margaret, are in the fifth.

High school has the rest, Alma and Irma Byers, daughter of Mrs. John Bogdovich; Elsie and Rauha, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Neimi; and Genevieve and Geneve, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Garrod. In all of the eleven sets each is of the same sex.

JUNIOR PLAY

Practice for the junior play under the direction of George Saip has been started. The number selected, "It Won't Be Long Now" by Gropper and calls for sixteen characters, the cast being already selected and work started the first of the week.

This is the story of a rich man who has been told that he has only 24 hours to live and the happenings during that time. It is full of laughs and has also, a thoughtful undercurrent to give contrast to the fun. Present plans call for its presentation on February 20.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Toms leave this week for a trip of five weeks during which time they will visit in Lansing and Detroit before going to Florida. They have no special objective in the southern state but will move about visiting places of interest during their vacation.

James Rivers is reported seriously ill at his home on the River road. He has been ill since his return from over-seas service. Plans are being made to send him to the Mayo clinic for examination and treatment.

A basketball game was played in the high school gym on Wednesday night between a picked team from the state hospital and the town boys, resulting in 18 to 21 victory for the Newberry bunch. Vernon Hale is captain of the Newberry team.

Mrs. E. H. Campbell, who has been ill at her home at the state hospital and under the care of a nurse, is reported much better at this writing.

JUNIOR ATHLETIC LEAGUE

A. W. Talcott of the Newberry schools in charge of athletics among the junior boys, has organized eleven basketball teams among the 75 enrolled in his classes. These groups play off against each other on Saturdays in the local school gym, the idea being that Newberry cannot compete in class B unless some care is given to develop basketeers among the younger members.

The Junior Athletic league was formed two years ago. At that time about 30 boys joined, the growth this second year is proof of the success and interest of the venture. The league is divided into two sections, the upper and lower, the teams being rated according to their ability.

High scores for the games were made by Roland Larson of Northwestern who caged nine field goals for 18 points and Milton Aho of Notre Dame who gathered 7 field goals and one charity toss for a total of 15 points. Talcott is doing good work here and several outstanding players are showing up among the boys.

Alter Interior Of Presbyterian Church

Members and friends of the Presbyterian church whose memories go back more than seven years will find when they enter the church Sunday morning that the seating arrangement and platform location are now the same as they were in the "days of yore." Some weeks ago, the congregation voted to have the auditorium arranged as it was when the church was built. The majority felt that the general architecture of the church demanded that the seats and platform be placed directly facing the organ.

Under the direction of W. S. Ramsey, and with the assistance of Ray Buttars, a new platform has been erected, and the seats have been moved. The first service in the altered auditorium will be held Sunday morning. Special music is being planned for the service.

WOMAN FOUND IN ESCANABA

Mrs. Bashore Located in Laing Hospital Friday Morning

Mrs. Mayne Bashore, who has been missing from her home at Manistique Heights since eleven o'clock Tuesday morning, was located yesterday morning at the Laing hospital in Escanaba. The finding of the missing woman was made through the news article which appeared in the Thursday edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Dr. A. L. Laing read the story yesterday morning and recalled that a woman of that description applied for a position at the hospital Wednesday morning. He telephoned Chief of Police John Peterson of this city who in turn communicated with Mayor W. H. Needham, Escanaba, an uncle of Mrs. Bashore to make the identification. Mr. Bashore had left for Escanaba Thursday evening.

Yesterday afternoon police officials ascertained that Mrs. Bashore had taken the 12:25 p. m. west-bound train to Gladstone and Escanaba and Gladstone officials were notified. Mrs. Bashore had left a note to her husband telling him to take good care of the children. No clue had been found concerning her disappearance until yesterday afternoon.

CITY BRIEFS

Word has been received in the city of the birth of a daughter, Wednesday, Jan. 14, to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chambliss, San Francisco. Mrs. Chambliss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Swanson, South Second street, and prior to her marriage was Miss Olive Swanson.

Mrs. Arthur W. Cockram and Miss Leona Foye plan to leave Tuesday evening for an extended visit with relatives in the west. Mrs. Cockram will visit her sister, Mrs. Lawrence Larson in Phoenix, Arizona, and Miss Foye will proceed to Los Angeles where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Agnes Boyer. They will return here April 1.

A. J. Cayia returned this morning from Chicago where he spent the past week on business.

Home Talent Play Cast is Announced

Clever choruses, elaborate settings, and attractive presentations are featured in the musical three-act extravaganza, "Apple Blossom Time," which will be presented under the auspices of the First Methodist church at the high school auditorium on the evening of January 21.

The cast of 75 characters is one of the largest ever to go on a local stage. Rehearsals are already going forward and with a little over a week remaining before the presentation, all members of the cast are putting forth every effort to have their parts perfected.

The play is being presented under the direction of William E. Dormandy of Ashland, Wis.; Mrs. Mauritz Carlson is the accompanist. A ten-piece orchestra, under the direction of Wayne S. Martin, which may be augmented, will provide the music for the show.

Principals in the cast include the following:

Betty Ann Stewart, a human whirlwind—Helen Hulbert.

Nancy Prescott, a pretty neighbor—Genevieve Multhaupt.

Lorretta Harris, a baby doll—Mrs. Elwood Taylor.

Mrs. Forrest, a sister in law to Tad Forrest—Kathleen Tracy.

CORRECTION

The personnel of Mrs Brault Specials, bowling entry in the city league should be as follows: E. Busch, Stoor, Bratchio, M. Kuehn, and Miller, sub. In yesterday's issue M. Kuehn was inadvertantly omitted from the lineup and A. Busch was placed in the personnel instead of E. Busch.

KILLER GIVEN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Negro Who Murdered Mrs. Fred Robare Given Death Penalty

Alexander McClay Williams, 18 year old negro inmate of Glen Mills school for incorrigible boys was sentenced to first degree murder for stabbing to death Mrs. Fred Robare, attractive matron at that institution, according to information received here by Mr. and Mrs. David Robare, North Fourth street, parents of the woman's husband. Williams will die in the electric chair. Mrs. Fred Robare was formerly Miss Vida Kinney who was born and raised in the village of Thompson.

Mrs. Robare was brutally attacked and stabbed to death with an ice pick on October 3. It was several days before police authorities were able to pick up any clue of the murderer.

Fred Robare, who has been living here with his parents since the death of his wife, left for Pennsylvania on January 2 to act as a witness in the trial of the negro. Mr. Robare was on the witness stand for two hours although the trial was of short duration. In a letter addressed to his parents he declared that the trial was a very trying one for him. He also stated that the negro youth was dressed in boys' clothes so as to form an object of pity. Mr. Robare expects to return to this city Saturday.

The murder trial was held a week ago Tuesday at Media, Penn., a small town near the Glen Mills school. A jury of nine men and three women decreed the negro's death before Judge W. Rogers Fronefield.

Body of Germfask Farmer Is Shipped to Sheridan, Mich.

Bean, in charge of the Mackinaw division of the National Forest service, with headquarters in Munising, has just returned from Lansing where he went to superintend the shipment of trucks and equipment for road building on the highway between Kentucky and Skeel's lake in southern Alger county. Four trucks have been shipped to Munising and other equipment will follow Mr. Bean informs us that the camp buildings for accommodating the crew of men who are to work on the highway are now under construction at Wetmore and will be taken to Kentucky and erected, that being the place where the first camp will be located.

About a dozen men are now employed upon this preliminary work. Just as soon as the camp is established the actual work of road construction will begin when more men will be needed. Mr. Bean says that he now has applications for work on the highway from about 150 men. It is the intention of the service to employ married men who need work and these men will be selected from the district within which the work is to be done.

GO TO GOOD WILL FARM

The four children of Joe Furnjack have been ordered committed to the Good Will Farm at Houghton and will be sent there in a short time. Furnjack was arrested by Sheriff Runsat for non-support of his family. His wife is in ill health and is being cared for at the county infirmary with her baby. The other three children are: a girl 4 years of age, one of two years and a boy of eight.

11 Sets of Twins Are Attending the Newberry Schools

Newberry, Jan. 15 (Special)—Eleven sets of twins are attending the Newberry schools according to the records kept at the office of the superintendent. Four pairs are in the kindergarten, having started school this year. Louis and Mike, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Verold Gormely; Elmer and John, sons of Mr and Mrs. Ben Solmi; Joe and Oscar, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Duchey represent the sterner sex in this room with the six year old daughters, Marjorie and Isabel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Barber the ladies.

In the first grade are Fred and Frank, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ben St. John. These boys have twin brothers at home, born during the past summer.

Marjorie and Margaret Bouchard, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bouchard are in the second grade, and Pauline and Katherine, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Borak are in the third. Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mattson, Martha and Margaret, are in the fifth.

High school has the rest, Alma and Irma Byers, daughter of Mrs. John Bogdovich; Elsie and Rauha, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Neimi; and Genevieve and Geneve, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Garrod. In all of the eleven sets each is of the same sex.

JUNIOR PLAY

Practice for the junior play under the direction of George Saip has been started. The number selected, "It Won't Be Long Now" by Gropper and calls for sixteen characters, the cast being already selected and work started the first of the week.

This is the story of a rich man who has been told that he has only 24 hours to live and the happenings during that time. It is full of laughs and has also, a thoughtful undercurrent to give contrast to the fun. Present plans call for its presentation on February 20.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Toms leave this week for a trip of five weeks during which time they will visit in Lansing and Detroit before going to Florida. They have no special objective in the southern state but will move about visiting places of interest during their vacation.

James Rivers is reported seriously ill at his home on the River road. He has been ill since his return from over-seas service. Plans are being made to send him to the Mayo clinic for examination and treatment.

A basketball game was played in the high school gym on Wednesday night between a picked team from the state hospital and the town boys, resulting in 18 to 21 victory for the Newberry bunch. Vernon Hale is captain of the Newberry team.

Mrs. E. H. Campbell, who has been ill at her home at the state hospital and under the care of a nurse, is reported much better at this writing.

JUNIOR ATHLETIC LEAGUE

A. W. Talcott of the Newberry schools in charge of athletics among the junior boys, has organized eleven basketball teams among the 75 enrolled in his classes. These groups play off against each other on Saturdays in the local school gym, the idea being that Newberry cannot compete in class B unless some care is given to develop basketeers among the younger members.

The Junior Athletic league was formed two years ago. At that time about 30 boys joined, the growth this second year is proof of the success and interest of the venture. The league is divided into two sections, the upper and lower, the teams being rated according to their ability.

High scores for the games were made by Roland Larson of Northwestern who caged nine field goals for 18 points and Milton Aho of Notre Dame who gathered 7 field goals and one charity toss for a total of 15 points. Talcott is doing good work here and several outstanding players are showing up among the boys.

Alter Interior Of Presbyterian Church

Members and friends of the Presbyterian church whose memories go back more than seven years will find when they enter the church Sunday morning that the seating arrangement and platform location are now the same as they were in the "days of yore." Some weeks ago, the congregation voted to have the auditorium arranged as it was when the church was built. The majority felt that the general architecture of the church demanded that the seats and platform be placed directly facing the organ.

Under the direction of W. S. Ramsey, and with the assistance of Ray Buttars, a new platform has been erected, and the seats have been moved. The first service in the altered auditorium will be held Sunday morning. Special music is being planned for the service.

BRIEFLY TOLD

To Serve Supper—The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will serve a public supper in the church parlors Saturday evening, January 31.

WOMAN FOUND IN ESCANABA

Mrs. Bashore Located in Laing Hospital Friday Morning

Mrs. Mayne Bashore, who has been missing from her home at Manistique Heights since eleven o'clock Tuesday morning, was located yesterday morning at the Laing hospital in Escanaba. The finding of the missing woman was made through the news article which appeared in the Thursday edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Dr. A. L. Laing read the story yesterday morning and recalled that a woman of that description applied for a position at the hospital Wednesday morning. He telephoned Chief of Police John Peterson of this city who in turn communicated with Mayor W. H Needham, Escanaba, an uncle of Mrs. Bashore to make the identification. Mr. Bashore had left for Escanaba Thursday evening.

Yesterday afternoon police officials ascertained that Mrs. Bashore had taken the 12:25 p. m. west-bound train to Gladstone and Escanaba and Gladstone officials were notified. Mrs. Bashore had left a note to her husband telling him to take good care of the children. No clue had been found concerning her disappearance until yesterday afternoon.

KILLER GIVEN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Negro Who Murdered Mrs. Fred Robare Given Death Penalty

Alexander McClay Williams, 18 year old negro inmate of Glen Mills school for incorrigible boys was sentenced to first degree murder for stabbing to death Mrs. Fred Robare, attractive matron at that institution, according to information received here by Mr. and Mrs. David Robare, North Fourth street, parents of the woman's husband. Williams will die in the electric chair. Mrs. Fred Robare was formerly Miss Vida Kinney who was born and raised in the village of Thompson.

Mrs. Robare was brutally attacked and stabbed to death with an ice pick on October 3. It was several days before police authorities were able to pick up any clue of the murderer.

Fred Robare, who has been living here with his parents since the death of his wife, left for Pennsylvania on January 2 to act as a witness in the trial of the negro. Mr. Robare was on the witness stand for two hours although the trial was of short duration. In a letter addressed to his parents he declared that the trial was a very trying one for him. He also stated that the negro youth was dressed in boys' clothes so as to form an object of pity. Mr. Robare expects to return to this city Saturday.

The murder trial was held a week ago Tuesday at Media, Penn., a small town near the Glen Mills school. A jury of nine men and three women decreed the negro's death before Judge W. Rogers Fronefield.

Body of Germfask Farmer Is Shipped to Sheridan, Mich.

John Morrison, 61, passed away Tuesday morning at the home of his son, Glen, six miles east of Manistique. He is survived by two brothers and two sons.

The body was prepared for burial by Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, and was shipped Wednesday afternoon to Sheridan, Mich., where funeral services will be held the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Ivan Webb, Ironton, Ohio, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Grimsley. She will remain for several weeks.

Eskymo Basketeers Meet Negaunee Here Tonight

MINERS BOAST CLEVER SQUAD

Puckmen Determined to Break Bubble of Overconfidence

With spirits of rejuvenation injected into its system, the Escanaba high school basketball team will oppose a powerful and highly touted Negaunee aggregation at the local gymnasium this evening. The game is the first home engagement since the holidays.

Bolstered due to increased morale and experience, the Eskymos are gradually developing into a classy squad which seems likely to be one of the best in the peninsula before the season is ended. In the Miners they will find tough opposition but the game is not "on ice" by any means. Negaunee will be at a disadvantage in playing on a foreign court and then there is the possibility of overconfidence.

Eskymo athletic teams have always been famed for their ability to stick the pin in the inflated balloon of overconfidence that teams have carried with them in their battle with the Escanabans. They turned the trick already this basketball season by tipping over Manistique when the Schoolcrafters had the game sewed up—on paper. And they gave Gladstone such a scare that they never really recovered from it although the Keilmen eked out a narrow decision in the overtime period.

Same Lineup

Coach Puckelwartz indicated he will start the same lineup against the Miners as he started against the Keilmen on Monday evening. This will be Walter Snyder and Johnson at forwards, Anderson at center, and Byrns and Bob Snyder at guards. Other men who are likely to see service during the fray are Nygaard, Wicklander, Engstrom, Aronson and Monson.

Negaunee has a clever, fast breaking offense built around the stellar maneuvering of Rudness who in addition to his superior cage performances also is classed as one of the outstanding football performers of the 1930 season. Rudness is the key man of the Miner attack, doing most of the floor work and more than his share of the scoring.

Two preliminary games are scheduled, both of them between class teams. The first of these will start at 6:30. The feature game will probably be called by Referee Davis of Marquette around 8:15 o'clock.

Americans Defeat Ottawa Senators

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 15 (AP)—The New York Americans defeated the Ottawa Senators in a slow National hockey league game here tonight, two goals to one.

All the scoring was concentrated in the second period. Patterson netted the puck on a pass from Burch for the first American goal, but nine minutes later, Gagne deadlocked the count on a play in which Smith and Cox figured. The deciding goal was scored by Himes shortly before the end of the period.

Les Canadiens Trim Their City Rivals

Montreal, Que., Jan. 15 (AP)—Les Canadiens of Montreal defeated their city rivals, the Maroons, 4 to 1, in a fast National hockey league game tonight and strengthened their hold on first place in the Canadian division.

The Canadiens took a two-goal lead in the second period when LePine and Larochelle netted the puck and never were in danger thereafter. Morenz and LePine counted for the Canadiens in the third period while the Maroons' only goal went to Conacher.

Olympic Skating Trials On Sunday

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—The official sectional Olympic tryout for Michigan skaters who wish to become members of the United States team will be held Sunday at Belle Isle. Four events will be run off, the 500 and 5,000 meter in the morning and the 1,500 and 10,000 meter in the afternoon.

Semi-final tryouts will be held at Lake Placid Feb. 14.

Londos Defends His Disputed Mat Title

Detroit, Jan 16 (AP)—Jim Londos, recognized as heavyweight wrestling champion in some states, successfull defended his title here tonight in a match with Gino Garibaldi. Londos took the first fall in 40 minutes. Garibaldi was injured and unable to return to the ring.

BOXING

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Arthur De Beve, Washington, D. C., slugged his way to an 8-round decision over Eddie Reed, Philadelphia, in the feature at the Broadway A. C. tonight. De Beve scaled 187½, 8 pounds more than Reed.

PROHIBITION IS 11 YEARS OLD; STILL PROBLEM

ranging from a reduction of poverty to the abolition of "blue Monday," the W. C. T. U. asked what "did the saloon do in its 130 years?"

On the other side, Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, stood on his recent prediction that 24 states now were ready to vote for repeal and that the necessary 12 more could be marshalled within two years after the question was submitted to the people by congress. At the same time he listed gains in the wet ranks from the recent congressional elections.

Prohibition Director Woodcock holds the belief that the new year will witness an increased enforcement against commercial violations, leading eventually to a complete suppression of this type of offense.

James M. Doran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, has sponsored the statement that this year and the netx might see the crisis in opinion concerning the law and urged a move to uphold public morale until federal enforcement machinery is further perfected.

A review of prohibition's eleventh year, just ended, shows controversy attending it almost daily. Initiated with a series of recommendations from the Wickersham commission, among them proposals for juryless trials, a unified patrol, the since-completed transfer of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department, the controversy grew rather than diminished.

Early in February, the house judiciary committee loosed a rush of statements for and against the law in a series of public hearings on seven measures to repeal the eighteenth amendment. Not until April 23 did the assembled wets and drys complete their testimony.

There followed the protracted hearings of the senate lobby committee which, in its course, quizzed the leaders of both the prohibition and anti-prohibition forces.

WIN DAY WINS FLORIDA MATCH

Chicago Youth Gets Off to Good Start in Golf Tourney

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Young Winfield Day, Jr., newest of gofling stars, swept by the first obstacle in his quest for honors in the annual Miami Biltmore winter invitational tournament today by defeating Ed Joyce, his fellow townsman, six and five.

The 15-year-old Chicago school boy jumped to the fore of amateur shotsters in Florida when he won the Miami mid-winter title from Lee Chase, Buffalo, in a forty-hole duel last Sunday.

Day was on top of his game all the way in the first round of match play today, turning in a medal score of 74 for the difficult 6,538 yard course. Par is 71.

Other Matches

Day dropped a birdie two into the cup on the short 14th and took one over par on the first, fourth, seventh and twelfth holes. The rest of the course he played in par.

In other championship flight matches J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., won over J. Wolff, 3 and 1; Richard Bennett, St. Albans, N. Y., turned back Dan Jarvis, Miami Beach, 2 and 1; William Rupp, Buffalo, nosed out Jack Vilas, Chicago, one up; Joseph Langer, New York, defeated Joseph P. Boland, Rahway, N. J., 4 and 3; T. B. Price, Miami, won over H. B. Rust, Jr., Providence, R. I., one up.

Sheldon Grebe, Miami, defending champion, failed to qualify for the championship flight.

Day tied with four others for low qualifying score with an 81. The four—Chase, Ryerson, Price and Bennett—will play with Day in an 18-hole match for medal honors after the conclusion of match play Sunday.

Blackhawks Capture Thrilling Contest

Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—Chicago's Blackhawks moved two points closer to Boston tonight in the battle for the leadership of the American division of the National Hockey League, whipping the Bruins, 2 to 0, in an ice-melting struggle that kept more than 15,500 fans in constant uproar.

Duke Kutkowski took a pass from Tommy Cook near the end of the second period for Chicago's first score, and early in the third session, Mush March staged a beautiful single-handed drive to count the second. The first two periods were sensational enough, but hardly compared with the final six minutes of the match when the Hawks, penalized five times in short order, put up a great defensive effort. Goalie Chuck Gardner made almost impossible saves, thwarting a five-man Bruin offense, while the Hawks were two men shy.

New York Rangers Battle Toronto To A 1 to 1 Deadlock

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Seventy minutes of top-speed play tonight failed to bring a decision between the New York Rangers and Toronto Leafs and they wound up their National Hockey league struggle in a 1 to 1 tie. The single point the Leafs gained by the draw put them into a tie with the Montreal Maroons for second place in the Canadian division.

A neat pass out from behind the Ranger net with Andy Blair taking Ace Bailey's pass from an unhindered shot brought the Toronto goal. The Rangers scored on a similar play, Frank Boucher passing to Bill Cook, as the climax of a four-man attack.

Athletic Director Of Union College Vacates Position

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 15 (AP)—Harold Anson Bruce, director of athletics at Union College for the past seven years, today announced his resignation, effective at the end of the academic year.

Bruce emphasized the most cordial relations exist between Frank Parker Day, president of Union, and himself, but said he was not in accord with the new administration's athletic policy.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in New York a year ago, Dr. Day declared himself in favor of abolishing gate receipts at intercollegiate games and announced his opposition to the employment of high-salaried coaches, whom he would replace with amateur coaches. He also said intercollegiate competition should be for the sake of the game itself and the importance of winning should not be stressed.

KAYSEES BEAT PURPLE QUINT

St. Joseph High School Team Loses to Lodge Members, 24 to 11

The Knights of Columbus basketball team proved too much for the St. Joseph Varsity cagers at the Coliseum gymnasium last evening and the Kaysee aggregation, recently formed, walked away on the long end of the 24 to 11 score. It was the first game played by the Knights this season.

After a defensive first period in which no field goals were made, the Kaysee machine began to function with Puckelwartz dropping in the first field goal. McGinn followed with two more and from then on, the Parochial cagers did not have a chance. The Geraldmen did not score a field goal until the third period.

Puckelwartz, McGinn and Kohlman carried most of the scoring punch for the winners while Sharkey provided five points of the Parochials' eleven. McGinn connected five times from the field to carry off individual honors.

In the preliminary the Ramblers defeated the St. Joseph Reserves, 24 to 11.

Dempsey Offered Scrap With Sharkey

Boston, Jan. 15 (AP)—A $100,000 offer to meet Jack Sharkey here in a ball park next summer was sent today to Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, by Matchmaker Bob McKirdy, of the Arena A. A. the latter said that Sharkey has agreed to terms for such a bout.

Other efforts to get Dempsey and Sharkey together in the same ring were made today by Eddie Mack, another Boston boxing promoter. He has opened negotiations to have Dempsey come here on January 26 to announce at Ernie Schaaf-Dick Daniels bout. Schaaf is under the joint management of Sharkey and Johnny Buckley.

When Schaaf fought Max Baer in New York recently, Sharkey acted as second for the former, and plans to do so again when he battles Daniels.

High School Football Pays Its Own Expense

(NOTE: This is another of a series of stories on athletic trends and tendencies based on a nationwide survey made by the Associated Press.)

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Forty thousand persons are banked in a great stadium at Dallas, Texas. Brilliantly dressed cheering sections on either side of the field break the drab greys and browns of the sea of overcoats and hats. On the field two teams of eleven men each crouch, then thud together. The stands roar.

Texas playing Southern Methodist?

No. It's North Dallas and Sunset high schools waging their annual football war.

Amazing Growth

Similar scenes were enacted at San Francisco last fall when Polytechnic played Lowell high school before a crowd of 30,000 and several schoolboy games in New York City drew over 20,000 through the gates.

Allentown and Bethlehem high schools, in Pennsylvania, play every year before larger crowds than Lehigh and Lafayette draw.

The amazing growth of high school football is shown by figures gathered by Parke H. Davis, sage of Easton, Pa., and statistician to His Majesty, the King of Intercollegiate and Interscholastic Sport, and by The Associated Press.

There are approximately 10,000 high school teams in the United States, Davis estimates, representing about 250,000 players, almost 20 times the number of schools and players of collegiate rank.

In every state except Nevada they are organized much more closely than are most college groups, by river valleys in Massachusetts, by cities and counties in New York state, by arbitrarily defined sectors in Pennsylvania, by some similar method in other states.

Self Sustaining

The various local groups are joined in a state-wide organization (The Pennsylvania organization has 650 members) and these state organizations are banded together in a National High School Athletic Association which also includes several private prep schools.

High school football is self sustaining, as is the college sport, and pays the expenses in most instances of its less popular brothers—basketball, tennis, baseball and track. Surpluses of $20,000 over football expenses are not unusual.

The survey made by Davis brought out the interesting fact that only a small proportion of these high school football players continue the sport when they go to college.

He interprets this as indicating the youngsters are more interested in scholastic attainments than they are in athletic achievements and finding the college curricula exacting they voluntarily drop football in order to get the most from their studies.

Newberry Adopts Hockey As Sport

Newberry, Jan. 15 (Special)—Hockey is now receiving some attention in Newberry. A game was played Tuesday night at the Nelson rink between the Sault Pirates and a picked-up local team, resulting in a 3 to 6 victory for the visitors. Considering that only one practice was possible for the local boys before the game the score is not bad.

The Sault line: H. Ware was at goal with Hallesey and LaPrarie on defense, Kiliops and Bernier as left and right wings and Johnson at center. Bidwell was goal for Newberry, Campbell and Frasier on defense, Anderson and McMullan as right and left wings and DeCook at center. Detzler, Morrissey and Brotherton were spares for the locals. Jack Grego was manager for the Sault outfit and Ashman of the Sault was referee.

This makes the fourth game of the season for the Pirates. One played at Houghton and two on the Sault ice. They lost only one game played at home.

Newberry is anxious to stage a few games with teams in Escanaba, Manistique and other towns.

Attendance at the 1930 London automobile show was 224,000.

TILDEN NOT TO GET NET RANK?

Turned Professional So Committee May Disregard Him

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Unless the annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis Association should overrule its ranking committee and reverse a rule it made in 1927, the name of William T. Tilden, II, will be missing from the 1931 list of leading tennis players.

In 1927 the committee listed Vincent Richards, then a professional but who had finished the 1926 season as an amateur, as America's leading tennis player.

He had not turned professional until after the close of the season, the committee reasoned, and therefore was entitled to recognition in any list which purported to show the 1926 standings of the players.

The annual convention, however, overruled the committee, erased Richards' name from the list and passed the following resolution:

"None but amateurs at the time such rankings are officially approved (which is at the annual meeting) shall be ranked by the committee."

This quite definitely disposes of "Big Bill" who joined the pro ranks December 30—unless the meeting again should take things in its own hands. The ranking committee, headed by Dr. Philip B. Hawk, is barred by its own rule from considering Tilden in making up its list. The annual meeting of the U. S. L. T. A. will be held February 14.

An indication that this attitude might be reflected by other ranking bodies was given in the action last night of the Philadelphia Lawn Tennis Association which removed Tilden from the No. 1 spot he has held for years in its rankings on the grounds he was no longer eligible.

Eskymo Basketeers Meet Negaunee Here Tonight

MINERS BOAST CLEVER SQUAD

Puckmen Determined to Break Bubble of Overconfidence

With spirits of rejuvenation injected into its system, the Escanaba high school basketball team will oppose a powerful and highly touted Negaunee aggregation at the local gymnasium this evening. The game is the first home engagement since the holidays.

Bolstered due to increased morale and experience, the Eskymos are gradually developing into a classy squad which seems likely to be one of the best in the peninsula before the season is ended. In the Miners they will find tough opposition but the game is not "on ice" by any means. Negaunee will be at a disadvantage in playing on a foreign court and then there is the possibility of overconfidence.

Eskymo athletic teams have always been famed for their ability to stick the pin in the inflated balloon of overconfidence that teams have carried with them in their battle with the Escanabans. They turned the trick already this basketball season by tipping over Manistique when the Schoolcrafters had the game sewed up—on paper. And they gave Gladstone such a scare that they never really recovered from it although the Keilmen eked out a narrow decision in the overtime period.

Same Lineup

Coach Puckelwartz indicated he will start the same lineup against the Miners as he started against the Keilmen on Monday evening. This will be Walter Snyder and Johnson at forwards, Anderson at center, and Byrns and Bob Snyder at guards. Other men who are likely to see service during the fray are Nygaard, Wicklander, Engstrom, Aronson and Monson.

Negaunee has a clever, fast breaking offense built around the stellar maneuvering of Rudness who in addition to his superior cage performances also is classed as one of the outstanding football performers of the 1930 season. Rudness is the key man of the Miner attack, doing most of the floor work and more than his share of the scoring.

Two preliminary games are scheduled, both of them between class teams. The first of these will start at 6:30. The feature game will probably be called by Referee Davis of Marquette around 8:15 o'clock.

Americans Defeat Ottawa Senators

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 15 (AP)—The New York Americans defeated the Ottawa Senators in a slow National hockey league game here tonight, two goals to one.

All the scoring was concentrated in the second period. Patterson netted the puck on a pass from Burch for the first American goal, but nine minutes later, Gagne deadlocked the count on a play in which Smith and Cox figured. The deciding goal was scored by Himes shortly before the end of the period.

Les Canadiens Trim Their City Rivals

Montreal, Que., Jan. 15 (AP)—Les Canadiens of Montreal defeated their city rivals, the Maroons, 4 to 1, in a fast National hockey league game tonight and strengthened their hold on first place in the Canadian division.

The Canadiens took a two-goal lead in the second period when LePine and Larochelle netted the puck and never were in danger thereafter. Morenz and LePine counted for the Canadiens in the third period while the Maroons' only goal went to Conacher.

Olympic Skating Trials On Sunday

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—The official sectional Olympic tryout for Michigan skaters who wish to become members of the United States team will be held Sunday at Belle Isle. Four events will be run off, the 500 and 5,000 meter in the morning and the 1,500 and 10,000 meter in the afternoon.

Semi-final tryouts will be held at Lake Placid Feb. 14.

Londos Defends His Disputed Mat Title

Detroit, Jan 16 (AP)—Jim Londos, recognized as heavyweight wrestling champion in some states, successfull defended his title here tonight in a match with Gino Garibaldi. Londos took the first fall in 40 minutes. Garibaldi was injured and unable to return to the ring.

BOXING

PROHIBITION IS 11 YEARS OLD; STILL PROBLEM

ranging from a reduction of poverty to the abolition of "blue Monday," the W. C. T. U. asked what "did the saloon do in its 130 years?"

On the other side, Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, stood on his recent prediction that 24 states now were ready to vote for repeal and that the necessary 12 more could be marshalled within two years after the question was submitted to the people by congress. At the same time he listed gains in the wet ranks from the recent congressional elections.

Prohibition Director Woodcock holds the belief that the new year will witness an increased enforcement against commercial violations, leading eventually to a complete suppression of this type of offense.

James M. Doran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, has sponsored the statement that this year and the netx might see the crisis in opinion concerning the law and urged a move to uphold public morale until federal enforcement machinery is further perfected.

A review of prohibition's eleventh year, just ended, shows controversy attending it almost daily. Initiated with a series of recommendations from the Wickersham commission, among them proposals for juryless trials, a unified patrol, the since-completed transfer of the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department, the controversy grew rather than diminished.

Early in February, the house judiciary committee loosed a rush of statements for and against the law in a series of public hearings on seven measures to repeal the eighteenth amendment. Not until April 23 did the assembled wets and drys complete their testimony.

There followed the protracted hearings of the senate lobby committee which, in its course, quizzed the leaders of both the prohibition and anti-prohibition forces.

WIN DAY WINS FLORIDA MATCH

Chicago Youth Gets Off to Good Start in Golf Tourney

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Young Winfield Day, Jr., newest of gofling stars, swept by the first obstacle in his quest for honors in the annual Miami Biltmore winter invitational tournament today by defeating Ed Joyce, his fellow townsman, six and five.

The 15-year-old Chicago school boy jumped to the fore of amateur shotsters in Florida when he won the Miami mid-winter title from Lee Chase, Buffalo, in a forty-hole duel last Sunday.

Day was on top of his game all the way in the first round of match play today, turning in a medal score of 74 for the difficult 6,538 yard course. Par is 71.

Other Matches

Day dropped a birdie two into the cup on the short 14th and took one over par on the first, fourth, seventh and twelfth holes. The rest of the course he played in par.

In other championship flight matches J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., won over J. Wolff, 3 and 1; Richard Bennett, St. Albans, N. Price, Miami, won over H. B. Rust, Jr., Providence, R. I., one up.

Sheldon Grebe, Miami, defending champion, failed to qualify for the championship flight.

Day tied with four others for low qualifying score with an 81. The four—Chase, Ryerson, Price and Bennett—will play with Day in an 18-hole match for medal honors after the conclusion of match play Sunday.

"None but amateurs at the time such rankings are officially approved (which is at the annual meeting) shall be ranked by the committee."

This quite definitely disposes of "Big Bill" who joined the pro ranks December 30—unless the meeting again should take things in its own hands. The ranking committee, headed by Dr. Philip B. Hawk, is barred by its own rule from considering Tilden in making up its list. The annual meeting of the U. S. L. T. A. will be held February 14.

An indication that this attitude might be reflected by other ranking bodies was given in the action last night of the Philadelphia Lawn Tennis Association which removed Tilden from the No. 1 spot he has held for years in its rankings on the grounds he was no longer eligible.

Golden Still Leading in $25,000 Golf Tourney

DUDLEY SECOND, STROKE BEHIND

MacDonald Smith Tied For Third With Mortie Dutra

BY BRIAN BELL.

Agua Caliente, Mex., Jan. 15. (AP)—John Golden continued to set the pace in the $25,000 Agua Caliente open golf tournament today by adding a score of 73 to his 70 of yesterday for a two-day total of 143.

He was a stroke in front of Ed Dudley at the halfway mark, the Wilmington, Del., pro equalling the Connecticut man's 73 today for a 36-hole count of 144.

Tied for third place with scores of 146 were Mac Donald Smith and Mortie Dutra, the Carnoustie star shooting a 74 today and the Spanish sharpshooter 75. Each might have been lower. The Scot missed two puny putts, a freakish performance for him, and the Long Beach pro suffered a disastrous break at the second hole where his ball moved as he dislodged a twig, making it necessary for the player to note a penalty stroke on his card.

Smith Takes 75.

The close of the second day's play found three well known players and two of lesser reputation grouped at 147, in fine position to leap into the forefront of the battle if the leaders falter in the later rounds.

Gene Sarazen and Horton Smith each shot 75 today and George Von Elm, the business man, came in with a fine 73. Ralph Guldahl, Dallas, Texas, and Willard Hutchison, young Chicago pro, made it a quintet in the tie for fifth, Hutchison getting a score of 73 today and Guldahl 74.

The low score of the second round was a par 72, in which Chet Beer, Bakersfield, Cal., stood alone, the only man to get an even break with the card. With 76 yesterday, this gave the Californian a score of 148, the position occupied by Leo Diegel, who slumped from 72 yesterday to 76 today.

Perfect weather greeted the players, a warm sun flooding the course over which practically no wind blew but the scoring was not so good as yesterday in the rain.

In the first round the low count scored by Golden was 70, two under par, and there were eight players 72 or better. The explanation of the mounting scores was the condition of the fairways.

A. Byerly, Portland, Ore., and John Dawson, Chicago, tied for the lead of the amateur division with scores of 154 for the first half of the competition.

Byerly, shooting consistent golf throughout, repeated his 77 of yesterday while the man who had a great chance to win the British amateur two years ago, came back today with a good 75 to add to his opening 79.

Some Eliminated.

The final 36 holes, divided between tomorrow and Saturday, will be fought out by 52 pros and [illegible] amateurs.

No pro requiring more than 157 strokes in the first 36 holes will be permitted to travel the long, long trail with thousands of dollars at the end.

The elimination cast out several well known stars. Tommy Armour, Tony Manero, Walter [illegible] and Willie Hunter, among others, were removed from the competition.

For the second time in two days Golden made a brave finish to make his lead secure. Yesterday he slammed a brassie second [illegible] feet from the pin at the home hole. Today his second left him ten feet from the cup but he again holed the putt for a birdie [illegible] sent a long putt down [illegible] birdie four at the [illegible] after getting home with two tremendous woods.

The leader [illegible] two strokes [illegible] to par on the first nine and [illegible] out in 38, but he came rolling back in 35, thanks to his [illegible] birdies.

Taking Minnows Is Big Industry

[illegible] Michigan has 471 [illegible] engaged in the taking and [illegible] of minnows.

There is also a larger number of boys under 18 years old engaged in the same business, but their number cannot be determined since they are not required by the state to secure a license.

In 1929 the State Legislature passed a law requiring a license of all persons over 18 years of [illegible] minnows for commercial purposes. The law did not go into effect until August 1929. The year 1930 was the first full year in which the law operated and was the first year to give an accurate figure as to the extent of the commercial minnow industry in the state.

All minnow licenses expired December 31. At that time the Department of Conservation showed a total sale of these licenses for the year of 471. All licenses must be renewed for 1931.

The license fee is $10. Each license holder must display a sign reading "Licensed Minnow Dealer" at his place of business.

This play is an example of the blocking system which has been used extensively in the Big Ten Conference. When the coach chooses to use this style of game he should have large men, well built and heavy, because the body contact in this style of play calls for stamina and endurance.

Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa universities have been the strongest advocates of this type of play. Such men as Captain McCracken of Indiana, Murphy of Loyola, Fesler of Ohio, Truskowski of Michigan and Walters of Northwestern were ideal for the blocking game.

The accompanying chart shows a very strong formation for the block, but it can be used with or without the block. The floor guard advances the ball, passing to (F2) who fakes a pass back to the floor guard but turns and passes to (F1). The forward (F1) hands the ball back to (F2) in a close block to keep off (F2's) guard. (F2) passes to (C) coming from the center. The center may return the pass in a block or, better still, fake the block and dribble in or pass to the open men near the basket. The backguard trails the play and is in a good position for back passes.

GREEN SHIRTS AT NEWBERRY

Manistique Cagers Will Have Tough Battle on Their Hands

Manistique, Jan. 15 (Special)—Coach Wassberg's green and white cage warriors will have a difficult task on their hands tomorrow night when they tackle Newberry on the latter's floor. Manistique high, however, has shown improvement in every game and is confident of taking the celery city crew into camp for the second time this season.

Manistique just managed to eke out a victory over Newberry, 26-24, in an overtime contest played here early in the season. The Wassberg proteges figure they have solved their rival's attack and have considerably sharpened their eyes for the basket since the first encounter. Thus far this season, Manistique has lost only one game, that being to Escanaba in a hard fought defensive battle, 11-9. The defeat, however, probably did more good than harm, for it removed a spirit of overconfidence which had prevailed among the players up to that time.

Newberry will present a strong lineup in Jacobson and Lyyske, forwards; Erickson, center; and Taylor and Johnson, guards. Both Taylor and Johnson are good on offense as well as defense, having outscored their forwards in many of the games.

Hudson, Jones, and Orr will see service at the forward positions; Bergman will fill the pivot position; and Graphos, Ekdahl and Berger form the defensive trio.

Valley Exposition to Revive Business

St. Louis, Mo.—A determined effort to revitalize and stimulate industrial markets throughout the Mississippi Valley was launched by a group of more than 100 Missouri and Illinois manufacturers and business leaders in St. Louis when plans were announced to hold a brilliant industrial exposition in the St. Louis Arena May 1-10 next.

The exposition, which will be known as the Mississippi Valley Industrial Exposition of Progress, will be the most ambitious mixed trade exposition that has ever been held in this section of the country, according to the announcement.

Manufacturers from the Twin Cities at the head of the Mississippi to New Orleans on the south and from Pittsburgh to Denver, will display the thousands of products manufactured and marketed in the Valley territory.

Rapid River Will Play Rock Tonight

Rapid River, Jan. 15, (Special)—The two Class D rivals of this section of the peninsula will meet for the first time this year on the local floor Friday evening, January 16. Both teams have been going at top speed ever since the opening of the basketball season in November. Rapid River has won 10 games, tied one, and lost none. Rock has as good a record, having lost but one game, that to Gladstone, and has the credit of winning over Escanaba, a Class B team.

Last week Rapid River defeated Eben, Nahma and Quinnesec.

The stars of other years that will be missing from the line-up of both teams will be the two Trombley brothers for Rock, and Young, Hugh Trottier, and Nelson for the locals. Coach Weingartner still has Rabideau, Johnson, Sayen, and Kaukola around whom to build a powerful team. The Rapid River team is composed largely of young and inexperienced sophomores, the only members of last years squad being Sloan and Joe Trottier. Robert Miller was out for the first two games but has been lost to the team on account of an operation for appendicitis.

The preliminary game will be played between the girls' teams of the two schools.

Leo Brunelle of Escanaba will handle the whistle for the main bout.

At the conclusion of the games a lunch will be served to any and all who might wish to be served, at a small plate charge.

Home secretary Clynes of England made his first film appearance recently in taking part in a talkie illustrating health and welfare in industry.

MAX BAER WILL BATTLE HEENEY

California Puncher to Make Second Start in The East Tonight

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—A squad of the younger heavyweights, with just one veteran to add age and dignity to the picture, takes over Madison Square Garden tomorrow night to displace with fistic action the verbal duels that have overwhelmed the division for the past ten days.

Max Baer, big, good-looking puncher from California, will make his second start in the east against Tom Heeney, the New Zealand warhorse who is slowly reaching the end of the trail. Baer lost his first engagement here to Ernie Schaaf, the Boston blonde but was impressive and colorful enough in action to merit another hearing. Odds are overwhelmingly in favor of the youngster.

Dempsey May Referee

Jack Dempsey, now active as a referee, probably will enliven the main ten round bout with his presence.

A quartet of ambitious youngsters furnishes the supporting card of two ten rounders. Paul Swiderski, tackles Marty Gallahager, of Washington, in the semi final. Stanley Poreda, one of the most promising of the younger crop, meets a 21 year old ex-marine from San Diego, Cal., Tony Starr, in the first ten. Starr is making his first Garden appearance.

A general calm has settled over the first line of the heavyweights since the signing of Young Stribling and Max Schmeling by the Illinois Madison Square Garden and the Hearst milk fund for a title fight in June, the safe arrival of Primo Carnera, scheduled to fight the winner in September, and the failure yesterday of the New York state athletic commission to take action on the insubordination of all concerned.

Non-Resident Ice Fishermen Must Get 1931 License

Lansing—Non-resident anglers' licenses issued in 1930 expired December 31, and non-residents desiring to fish through the ice now must secure a 1931 license. These licenses are now being distributed by the Department of Conservation to all license dealers.

The buttons of the new licenses are brown.

While non-residents are permitted, under license, to fish with hook and line through the ice, they are not permitted to use a spear or any other means of catching fish.

Rene LaCoste Plans Return to Net Wars

Paris, Jan. 15 (AP)—Jean Rene LaCoste, 25 years old, builder of motor cars, possessor of what has been described as the world's most nearly perfect tennis technique, is coming back to the tennis wars this year.

Hindered by bronchitis in the 1926 campaign and forced from competition entirely in 1929 by ill health, the slim young Frenchman believes he is recovered sufficiently in body to take out his tennis racket again and match strokes with the great of the courts.

He said today he was waiting only the first good weather of spring to start his comeback campaign and he hoped to be in shape to play at Wimbledon and in defense of the Davis cup this year.

It was largely due to the wizardry of LaCoste's strokes that the famous international trophy was wrested from the United States in 1927 and taken to France where the prospect is it will remain for several years more if the leader of the "Three Musketeers" can regain his old form.

In successive matches at Germantown, Pa., in the fall of 1927 he defeated the two invincibles of American tennis—"Big Bill" Tilden and "Little Bill" Johnston—and assured to France possession of the Davis cup.

Rene Lacoste

The shadow of that event had moved across the tennis courts the year before when LaCoste invaded the United States to take away the American indoor and outdoor crowns, a victory he repeated in 1927 in the national outdoors championships. He defeated his fellow countryman, Jean Borotra, to win the title in 1926 and in 1927 Tilden was his victim.

UPBAY CAGERS PLAY VULCAN

Tackle Strong Miner Five Tonight; Reserves in Prelim

Gladstone, Jan. 15 (Special)—Gladstone high school's basketball quintet will journey away from home tonight to tackle the strong Vulcan five on their own court. The Reserves will also make the trip playing the Vulcan seconds in the curtain-raiser.

Vulcan will be a tough competitor and will be all primed for an attempt to upset the local crew and gain revenge for defeats administered last year during the season and tournament.

The Keilmen are developing into a first rate organization. They have turned in victories over the Little Giants of Rock, and Escanaba, while suffering but one defeat, that at the hands of Rushton Graveraets of Marquette.

Coach Keil will take 16 men with him on the trip. They will leave by motor this afternoon at the close of school.

The local mentor indicated that his starting lineup for the varsity contest would be the same as in the Escanaba game last Monday: namely, Jahnke, rf.; Damitz, lf; Potvin, c; Murray, lg; and Skellenger, rg.

The American Cigar Company,

New York, New York.

Gentlemen:

Your very effective campaign in the newspapers against "spit-tipping" by some cigar manufacturers is decidely in the interest of the public health and in my opinion you are to be commended for this public service.

The use of the word "spit" forcibly calls attention to the evils of the "spit-tipping" methods and no other word could as effectively get over your message to the public.

Our health department is interested in those campaigns which tend to improve general health conditions and in our opinion your present campaign comes within this classification.

Therefore since I consider your campaign to be in the interest of public health since it directs attention to a bad sanitary condition in some cigar manufacturing plants, you have my permission to use this letter if my statement is of value to you.

Sincerely yours,
A. F. Adams
City Health Officer.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Adams' letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Adams writes: "The use of the word 'spit' forcibly calls attention to the evils of the 'spit-tipping' methods."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it...Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

MacDonald Smith Tied For Third With Mortie Dutra

BY BRIAN BELL.

Agua Caliente, Mex., Jan. 15. (AP)—John Golden continued to set the pace in the $25,000 Agua Caliente open golf tournament today by adding a score of 73 to his 70 of yesterday for a two-day total of 143.

He was a stroke in front of Ed Dudley at the halfway mark, the Wilmington, Del., pro equalling the Connecticut man's 73 today for a 36-hole count of 144.

Hindered by bronchitis in the 1926 campaign and forced from competition entirely in 1929 by ill health, the slim young Frenchman believes he is recovered sufficiently in body to take out his tennis racket again and match strokes with the great of the courts.

He said today he was waiting only the first good weather of spring to start his comeback campaign and he hoped to be in shape to play at Wimbledon and in defense of the Davis cup this year.

It was largely due to the wizardy of LaCoste's strokes that the famous international trophy was wrested from the United States in 1927 and taken to France where the prospect is it will remain for several years more if the leader of the "Three Musketeers" can regain his old form.

In successive matches at Germantown, Pa., in the fall of 1927 he defeated the two invincibles of American tennis—"Big Bill" Tilden and "Little Bill" Johnston—and assured to France possession of the Davis cup.

Rene Lacoste

The shadow of that event had moved across the tennis courts the year before when LaCoste invaded the United States to take away the American indoor and outdoor crowns, a victory he repeated in 1927 in the national outdoors championships. He defeated his fellow countryman, Jean Borotra, to win the title in 1926 and in 1927 Tilden was his victim.

UPBAY CAGERS PLAY VULCAN

Tackle Strong Miner Five Tonight; Reserves in Prelim

Gladstone, Jan. 15 (Special)—Gladstone high school's basketball quintet will journey away from home tonight to tackle the strong Vulcan five on their own court. The Reserves will also make the trip playing the Vulcan seconds in the curtain-raiser.

Vulcan will be a tough competitor and will be all primed for an attempt to upset the local crew and gain revenge for defeats administered last year during the season and tournament.

The Keilmen are developing into a first rate organization. They have turned in victories over the Little Giants of Rock, and Escanaba, while suffering but one defeat, that at the hands of Rushton Graveraets of Marquette.

Coach Keil will take 16 men with him on the trip. They will leave by motor this afternoon at the close of school.

The local mentor indicated that his starting lineup for the varsity contest would be the same as in the Escanaba game last Monday: namely, Jahnke, rf, Damitz, lf; Potvin, c; Murray, lg; and Skellenger, rg.

"You are to be commended for this public service"

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH
CITY HALL
RENO, NEVADA

September 23, 1930.

The American Cigar Company,
111 Fifth Avenue,
New York, New York.

Gentlemen:

Your very effective campaign in the newspapers against "spit-tipping" by some cigar manufacturers is decidely in the interest of the public health and in my opinion you are to be commended for this public service.

The use of the word "spit" forcibly calls attention to the evils of the "spit-tipping" methods and no other word could as effectively get over your message to the public.

Our health department is interested in those campaigns which tend to improve general health conditions and in our opinion your present campaign comes within this classification.

Therefore since I consider your campaign to be in the interest of public health since it directs attention to a bad sanitary condition in some cigar manufacturing plants, you have my permission to use this letter if my statement is of value to you.

Sincerely yours,
A. F. Adams
City Health Officer.

...one of 56 health officials from 56 different points approving Cremo's crusade against spit or spit-tipping.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Adams' letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Adams writes: "The use of the word 'spit' forcibly calls attention to the evils of the 'spit-tipping' methods."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it... Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

In this period of cold weather and cracked lips, above all insist on a cigar—free of the spit germ.

AT THE MICHIGAN

In "The Big Pond," his newest starring film, Maurice Chevalier becomes thoroughly "Americanized."

His earlier films showed the former favorite of the Folies Bergere in the characterizations of a music hall singer and of an ambassador extraordinaire in a mythical kingdom. But "The Big Pond" shows him as an enterprising "big shot" in a chewing gum factory. And nothing could be more American than that.

"The Big Pond" is based on a Broadway play of last season by George Middleton and A. E. Thomas. The story deals with a young Frenchman, who is employed as a guide for American tourists in Venice. Through the influence of some tourists he is brought to America to take a position in a chewing gum factory. He starts "at the bottom" and gains prestige in the business through his novel ideas about advertising. He writes successful songs which exploit the company's product. Before long he is a power in the industry, and an ace in the regard of his sweetheart, played by Claudette Colbert, the lady of "The Lady Lies" fame.

"The Big Pond" was produced at the Paramount Long Island Studio, under the direction of Hobart Henley, who directed "The Lady Lies" and "Roadhouse Nights."

In addition to Miss Colbert the supporting cast includes George Barbier, Elaine Koch, Frank Lyon, Marion Ballou, Andree Corday and Nat Pendleton.

"The Big Pond" comes to the Michigan Theatre today.

AT THE DELFT

"She Got What She Wanted" comes to the Delft Theatre today with the reputation of being one of those rare comedies that panic you with laughter because it is so absurd. The dead seriousness of the players in the utterly absurd situations make the picture one of those funny things that can't be described but can be enjoyed.

This James Cruze Production is taken from the stage play of the same name by George Rosenes. It enjoyed a great New York success. Betty Compson heads a cast including Lee Tracy, Alan Hale, Gaston Glass, Dorothy Christy and Fred Kelsey.

Chatham News

Chatham, Jan. 14. (Special)—Funeral services of the late John Lake, who died suddenly at the home of his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kamppinen were held from that home Sunday. Rev. Kononen of Gwinn officiating. The deceased was born in Finland in 1876. He came to this country about 1896, locating at Sault Ste. Marie where he lived until he came to Chatham in 1928. He is survived by his cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kamppinen of Chatham one son, John, of Newberry, and two sisters and one brother in Finland. Pallbearers were Jack Salminen, Joseph Hill, Matt Keto, John Lindgren, John Nykanen, and A. Maki. Interment was made in the Chatham cemetery.

Mrs. J. T. O'Leary entertained the Chatham Ladies' Aid at her home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. After a business meeting the ladies visited and sewed. At 4:30 the hostess served a very delicious luncheon. The Chatham and Eben teachers were their guests also.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tormo motored to Eben Sunday and visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson.

Miss Liela Gabourie, English teacher at the Eben high school, motored to Munising Friday night and attended the Munising-Newberry debate, where she was one of the judges.

Master Robert Kallio is suffering from a bad cut in his head which he sustained while coasting Sunday. Dr. Scholtes of Munising was called and he had to insert six clamps to close the wound. Robert will be able to attend school in a few days.

Miss Ruth Lammi spent the week end in Gwinn as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Josie Beltrami.

There will be three big games in the town hall at Chatham Friday evening. The teachers will play against the high school girls in their first game which promises to be a treat for all basketball fans. The second game will start at 7:15 between the Trenary high school and the Eben B team, which will be a fast game. The last game will be a hard fought game between Negaunee and Eben first teams. Eben promises the fans will enjoy just as good and maybe a better game as last Friday when they beat Marquette high school 6-5. The line up will be as follows Ferguson, Posia, Seppi, Salmi, Akkala, with Seppi and Luoma as substitutes.

Evelyn Tripaniere, stenographer at the Upper Peninsula Experimental Station, spent the week end at her home in Marquette.

Mrs. A. Parkkila has returned to her home here after spending a few weeks with friends and relatives in Chicago.

Ruth Samuelson spent the week end in Marquette as the guest of Miss Dorothy Brock.

John Lake of Newberry motored here Friday to attend the funeral of his father, the late John Lake.

It is reported that Germany is building an airplane designed to carry 120 persons and having a cruising radius of about 5000 miles.

Logging Slumps; 1931 Shipments Forty Percent Under Last Year

Approximately 10,000 cars of forest products will be handled by the Peninsula division of the Chicago and North Western railway this season, according to estimates compiled by division officials. This will be a sharp decrease from 1930, when a total of 18,903 cars were handled, the largest total in the history of the division.

A movement of 30,000 carloads is estimated for 1931 in the Wisconsin-Michigan territory served by the Peninsula, Ashland and Lake Shore divisions of the railway, with approximately 12,000 cars in the Ashland division and 8,000 cars for the Lake Shore division.

Train Crews Increased

The log movement which began in earnest January 5 has now increased so that it has been found necessary to add six train and engine crews in the Peninsula division. The sources of forest product shipments so far have been the Beaver, Whitefish and Swanzy branches, the Cascade branch between Escanaba and Ishpeming, Metropolitan branch, Chicagoan and Atkinson branches between Stager and Watersmeet, and other spurs on main lines.

About 75 per cent of the forest product movement this year will be in excelsior bolts, pulp wood, chemical wood and mine lagging. Shipments of logs for lumber will decrease heavily, due, it is pointed out, to the fact that all available storage space at many mills is taken up with unsold lumber for which there has been no market.

Boomers Numerous

The recent mild weather and "January thaw" halted operations in many sections, the warm weather causing ice roads to break through in low spots. Due to the late start this season, it is anticipated that the entire forest product movement this season will be confined to about six weeks, compared to the normal duration of about three months.

The slump in logging this winter has created a class of traveling lumberjacks, many of them able workmen, who move from camp to camp in search of employment, willing to work for their board. Scores visit some of the larger camps daily and only a few find jobs. After a meal or a night spent in camp they pass on to try their luck elsewhere. Some are given trial employment, and if they prove satisfactory their pay dates from the day they started work. Otherwise they are told to move on, and they have to be content with the free board they received.

The itinerant woodsman has become a problem of such proportions in some sections that woods operators have posted signs on their properties, reading something like this:

x x x x x x x x x x x x
x NO HELP WANTED x x MEALS 35c x
x x x x x x x x x x x x

Five or six years ago it was predicted that the territory between Escanaba and Ishpeming was doomed so far as lumbering was concerned, but operations have been sustained through the utilization of woods of all kinds and sizes and the use of motorized hauling equipment which now brings logs to the railroads from camps five to twenty miles away.

Arrange Transportation

In recent years the small jobber has come into the field, operating with a crew of 10 to 14 men and three to four teams, producing one to three carloads of timber a season. His product is largely pulp wood for paper mills or other small timber. Jackpine is being used for making paper, small timber finds a demand in mines for props, known as "lagging," and even fallen trees are utilized by chemical plants.

Representatives of the Peninsula division attended a conference at Green Bay, January 13, at which arrangements were made for adequate cars and engines to supply the demand in moving the season's production of forest products. The local officials present included: F. R. Loyd, superintendent; D. B. McIntyre, assistant superintendent; O. J. Protz, master mechanic; A. B. Anderson, general car foreman. Others at the conference were general officers representing the operating, traffic, motive and car departments, also representatives of the Lake Shore and Ashland division, which with the Peninsula division comprise the territory of logging operations in the Wisconsin-Michigan area.

GRAND MARAIS

Grand Marais.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gode and children of Sault Ste. Marie motored over for the week end with the latter's sister, Mrs. Ed. Spencer.

William Morrisey of Newberry motored over to attend the school board meeting tonight.

George Varette is ill at his home here.

Supervisor Ostrander, Ed. Spencer, clerk, Palmer Masse, treasurer and Archie La Roue, highway commissioner, motored to Munising today for a meeting.

Mrs. Carl Hermenson, who has been at the hospital at the Sault returned home, much improved.

Messers Hill and Conley motored over from Newberry and spent their vacation with A. D. Barney.

Mrs. Augusta Bufe left for Buffalo yesterday. She was detained here by sickness and a visit of her nephew from Detroit.

James Mc Donald, who is fishing at Kenosha, is now suffering with infection in his hand.

A party of friends were entertained at Mr. and Mrs. A. Lundquist's home last evening.

Escanaban Known Internationally as Organist, Musician

An Escanaba man who is winning world-wide recognition in the field of music is Dr. Frederick Louis Erickson, son of Edward Erickson of this city.

A graduate of Escanaba high school, Dr. Erickson finished at the University of Michigan, and then continued his musical education in the east and abroad, traveling to Paris, Rome, and other points in Europe. He is now director and organist of the Emmanuel Episcopal church choir in Baltimore, Md., an organization of 28 voices. In recitals given by his choir Dr. Erickson has won the enthusiastic praise of critics and the press. Although he has been away from Escanaba for about 20 years, Dr. Erickson has visited here frequently, spending several days of the summer of 1930 at the family home here.

Robert O. Hanson, Formerly of Wells, Dies In Cleveland

Mrs. Amelia Rowan, 608 South Thirteenth street, received word recently of the death of her brother, Robert O. Hanson, which occurred January 8 in Cleveland, O.

Mr. Hanson was born in Milwaukee, July 1, 1878, and came to this district in 1898. He was employed as a machinist for the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad company, and after having been injured while at work left for Cleveland about fifteen years ago. He resided there until the time of his death.

Owing to illness, Mrs. Rowan, who is the only survivor, was unable to go to Cleveland for the funeral services, which were held there January 12 with burial in Cleveland.

THE "BEAUTY" THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN!

NOTHING is sadder than a girl who just misses being beautiful. Often the reason is simple—improper elimination.

The poisons from constipation often cause pimples, sallow skin, dull eyes—headaches and even serious disease.

But every girl can banish the evils of constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its bulk sweeps the system clean.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are a wonderful health prescription. Try it with milk. Add fruits or honey. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. ALL-BRAN is non-fattening.

Garage and Auto Destroyed by Fire Near Bark River

Bark River, Jan. 15 (Special)—An automobile and garage on the Arthur Rousseau farm, east of here, were destroyed by fire this afternoon.

Sparks ignited the home and barn, but were extinguished before much damage was done.

Unfortunately, the fire fighting apparatus ordered by the Bark River township board a few days ago was not available for today's fire because of failure to arrive in time. The equipment consists of a small pumper and 1500 feet of hose. Two open wells have been dug for use as sources of water supply.

Legion Preparing to Honor Michigan Commander Monday

Final arrangements are being made by the Escanaba American Legion for a banquet at the Delta hotel Monday evening, at which the Delta county Legion posts will be hosts to State Commander Charles A. Schutz of Amasa, state adjutant Robert J. Byers of Detroit, and other Legion officers.

T. F. Kessler will act as toastmaster at the banquet, and the program will include talks by the visiting state officers, musical numbers, and other selections. A special invitation has been extended to auxiliary members, and Legionnaires are urged to bring their ladies to the banquet.

The committee in charge has asked that all members return their reservation cards for the banquet immediately, stating whether or not they will attend. Tom Dufour, county commander, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Ur, the birthplace of Abraham, is now called Mugheir or Muqayyar.

Escanaban Known Internationally as Organist, Musician

An Escanaba man who is winning world-wide recognition in the field of music is Dr. Frederick Louis Erickson, son of Edward Erickson of this city.

A graduate of Escanaba high school, Dr. Erickson finished at the University of Michigan, and then continued his musical education in the east and abroad, traveling to Paris, Rome, and other points in Europe. He is now director and organist of the Emmanuel Episcopal church choir in Baltimore, Md., an organization of 28 voices. In recitals given by his choir Dr. Erickson has won the enthusiastic praise of critics and the press. Although he has been away from Escanaba for about 20 years, Dr. Erickson has visited here frequently, spending several days of the summer of 1930 at the family home here.

Robert O. Hanson, Formerly of Wells, Dies In Cleveland

Mrs. Amelia Rowan, 608 South Thirteenth street, received word recently of the death of her brother, Robert O. Hanson, which occurred January 8 in Cleveland, O.

Mr. Hanson was born in Milwaukee, July 1, 1878, and came to this district in 1898. He was employed as a machinist for the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad company, and after having been injured while at work left for Cleveland about fifteen years ago. He resided there until the time of his death.

Owing to illness, Mrs. Rowan, who is the only survivor, was unable to go to Cleveland for the funeral services, which were held there January 12 with burial in Cleveland.

THE "BEAUTY" THAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN!

NOTHING is sadder than a girl who just misses being beautiful. Often the reason is simple—improper elimination.

The poisons from constipation often cause pimples, sallow skin, dull eyes—headaches and even serious disease.

But every girl can banish the evils of constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its bulk sweeps the system clean.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are a wonderful health prescription. Try it with milk. Add fruits or honey. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. ALL-BRAN is non-fattening.

Ask for Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Garage and Auto Destroyed by Fire Near Bark River

Bark River, Jan. 15 (Special)—An automobile and garage on the Arthur Rousseau farm, east of here, were destroyed by fire this afternoon.

Sparks ignited the home and barn, but were extinguihsed before much damage was done.

Unfortunately, the fire fighting apparatus ordered by the Bark River township board a few days ago was not available for today's fire because of failure to arrive in time. The equipment consists of a small pumper and 1500 feet of hose. Two open wells have been dug for use as sources of water supply.

Postmaster Boyle Gets Reappointed

Bark River, Jan. 15 (Special)—Reappointment of Henry W. Boyle as postmaster of Bark River was confirmed by the United States senate today, according to a telegram received from Congressman Frank P. Bohn.

Postmaster Boyle has served in the office for the last six years.

Legion Preparing to Honor Michigan Commander Monday

Final arrangements are being made by the Escanaba American Legion for a banquet at the Delta hotel Monday evening, at which the Delta county Legion posts will be hosts to State Commander Charles A. Schutz of Amasa, state adjutant Robert J. Byers of Detroit, and other Legion officers.

T. F. Kessler will act as toastmaster at the banquet, and the program will include talks by the visiting state officers, musical numbers, and other selections. A special invitation has been extended to auxiliary members, and Legionnaires are urged to bring their ladies to the banquet.

The committee in charge has asked that all members return their reservation cards for the banquet immediately, stating whether or not they will attend. Tom Dufour, county commander, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Ur, the birthplace of Abraham, is now called Mugheir or Muqayyar.

Michigan Faces Big Reduction in CWA Program

PRESENT FUND TO LAST LESS THAN A MONTH

CHANCES LOST FOR SLICE OF PUBLIC WORKS MONEY

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Michigan is faced with the prospect of a steadily diminishing army of CWA workers and sharp curtailment in other welfare activities, Governor Comstock declared today upon his return from Washington.

He was informed that only enough money to sustain the present average CWA payroll less than a month is available. The combined state and federal budget will have to be cut from an average of $4,000,000 a month to about $2,500,000, the governor said. Unless aditional money is approved by congress for CWA work that gigantic project will end in Michigan not later than April 15, and must be severely reduced prior to that date, according to the governor.

WORK WEEK HALVED

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—State Civil Works administrators today were authorized to spread Civil Works employment in small rural communities by putting two men to work where one worked before without spending any additional money.

The plan reduces the hours of those now working in rural areas and towns of less than 2,500 from 30 to 15 hours a week and permits employment of other persons for 15 hours a week. Hopkins estimated an additional 500,000 would be given work.

Revives Bond Bill

The executive said he was told Michigan has lost its chance for any allocation from the $3,300,000,000 public works appropriation except for $1,815,000 already received. Other states, the governor said, secured miilions. He asserted Michigan should have been third or fourth in the amount received but actually was about thirty-fifth. Federal officials told him, however, another $2,000,000,000 appropriation is in prospect. For that reason he again will submit the "insurrection bond" bill to the legislature when it convenes in February, he stated. The governor believed even if the law is accepted by the legislature it will be next August or September before institutional building can get under way, as a test of the act in the courts probably will have to be made before it will be accepted by the federal government.

Michigan will receive an advance in cash of $6,500,000 for welfare work and $8,500,000 for CWA payrolls this week. These amounts must last until April 1 for welfare and until April 15 for CWA projects.

No New Projects

The weekly CWA payroll in Michigan has approximate $2,300,00 with about 160,000 men working. Under the $8,500,000 allotment this pace could be maintained less than a month.

"It is evident present payrolls cannot be continued very long," the governor said. "It is believed in Washington additional CWA funds will be made available but

Communists Plan To Rule America, Witness Declares

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (AP)—The statement that he had been informed by officials of the organization known as "The Friends of Germany" that communists are planning to overthrow the United States government was made today from the witness stand in Superior Judge Guy Bush's court by Capt. Carl Sunderland, retired army officer.

Captain Sunderland testified he was informed by Robert Pape, former president of The Friends of Germany, that communists had the plans of Pacific coast arsenals and that a revolt against the government was but a matter of time.

BURR OAK BANK BANDITS CAUGHT

State Police Act on Tip; Capture Three Men in Record Time

Burr Oak, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Three men identified as members of a machine gun gang that robbed the First National Bank here this morning of a few hundred dollars, were held by authorities tonight after one of the quickest round-ups on record.

Two of the men were in a Sturgis hospital with wounds suffered when state police opened fire as the men fled. The condition of at least one of them was serious.

The third man was captured this afternoon hiding under a porch on a Middle Lake cottage, several hours after he escaped under fire as his two companions were wounded. He said he was Vincent Minnici of Chicago.

It was less than two hours after the bank was robbed that state police surrounded a cottage at Middle Lake, 15 miles west of here, shooting down two of three men who attempted to flee. The third man escaped into swamp, under fire.

Another man, Harold De Bolt, about 26, of Sturgis, was held by state police of the White Pigeon post, for questioning without charge.

When the first flurry of pursuit subsided, it was revealed that state police several weeks ago had received a tip that robbery of the bank here was planned, and that for at least two weeks the bank was kept under surveillance. The watch was withdrawn about a week ago. The flying trip to the Middle Lake cottage was made, it was explained, on suspicion that it was the hiding place of the gang that had planned the robbery.

The men taken to the Sturgis hospital gave their names as Joe MacDonald, about 30, wounded in the hand, and the other said he was John Smith, about 24. A bullet crushed one of his legs, below the knee, and his condition was described as serious.

They had about $500 on them. It was not known difinitely whether that was all of the loot, but Cashier G. D. Bordner said the amount taken was less than $1,000. No more was taken because the vault, protected by a time lock, could not be opened.

The bank had been open for only about half an hour when the robbers' car drew up in front, three men running into the building, armed with a sub-machine gun and pistols, and the fourth waitaing at the wheel of the car.

In the bank were Cashier Bordner, his son and assistant, J. B. Bordner, and two customers, Postmatser Ed Hackman and Clarence Ults, a farmer.

All India Shaken By Quake, 24 Dead

Calcutta, Jan. 15 (AP)—A death total of 24 and widespread property damage resulted from an earthquake which shook all India today. The temblors began shortly after 2 p. m. (3 a. m. E. S. T.) and ranged from 20 seconds to five minutes in duration.

A railway station at Jamalpur collapsed, killing the wife and three children of G. W. Brown, British manager of the railroad's workshop.

Nine died at Gaya and eight at Patna. Three persons were killed in Benares, two in collapsing houses. The third was crushed to death when panic-stricken workers rushed from a mill.

LIQUOR PRICE UP

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Prices in state liquor stores were raised Monday through increase in the internal revenue tax from $1.10 to $2 a gallon. Minimum increase, according to William J. Nagel, managing director of the liquor commission, would be 40 cents a pint or 80 cents on a quart of rye whisky.

ODD JOB MAN IS WYNEKOOP CASE PUZZLE

FATHER OF RHETA AND ROOMER TESTIFY

BY RAY BRENNAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Criminal Courts Building, Chicago, Jan. 15 (AP)—A new and mysterious figure—an odd jobs man known only as Simmons—was injected by the defense today into the murder trial of Dr. Alice L. Wynekoop.

Simmons, never before mentioned in the case, was said by Defense Attorney W. W. Smith to have been a friend of John Van Pelt, janitor at the gloomy, old Wynekoop mansion at 3806 West Monroe street.

Tells of Courtship

"This man had done odd jobs around the house—and Dr. Wynekoop had ordered that he never be allowed around the place again," Smith said. There the defense attorney stopped—leaving the matter on a note of speculation. Van Pelt's room in the Wynekoop home adjoined the basement surgical chamber in which Rheta was found chloroformed and shot on an operating table last November 21.

Testimony that Rheta's mother died in an insane asylum in Indianapolis was given by Burdine H. Gardner of Indianapolis, father of the slain girl and first witness called by the prosecution.

He told briefly of the whirlwind courtship between his daughter and young Wynekoop, son of the defendant. He was asked whether the death of Rheta's maternal grandmother was in circumstances similar to that of her mother, but an objection halted him.

"Killed for Greed"

Miss Enid Hennessey, school teacher and roomer in the Wynekoop home for 10 years, was the only other witness heard today.

She testified that on the morning of the day Rheta was slain, Dr. Alice finished reading Eugene O'Neill's "A Strange Interlude." The play deals with the consequences of a fear of hereditary insanity.

Dr. Wynekoop sat without a flicker of emotion during the day's session and heard herself described by her own attorneys as a kindly physician who devoted her life to doing good, and by prosecutors as a woman who killed her daughter-in-law for greed.

Smith, chief of defense counsel, declared in his opening address that Dr. Alice knew nothing of her daughter-in-law's death until she found the body.

The prosecution's opening declaration recalled the statement made and later repudiated by Dr. Alice soon after the investigation of the case began. She said then she accidentally administered an overdose of chloroform during a physical examination and shot the girl after life apparently had ceased. But Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty said he would prove that Rheta was slain while unconscious from the effects of the anaesthetic.

Loved Daughter-in-Law

Smith declared the 62 year old defendant, infirm from illness, had borne a love for Rheta equal to that she felt for any of her own children, and that for five years

Stack Turns Down Necktie Purchase, Liquor Linoleums

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Auditor General John K. Stack, Jr., served notice today that he is keeping a sharp watch over state purchases despite his removal by Governor Comstock as chairman of the purchasing committee of the state administrative board.

Stack said he had rejected two vouchers for floor covering in the state liquor control commission offices in the Griswold building in Detroit and two others for a quantity of underwear and neckties.

The Griswold building vouchers were for $442.94 and $85.80. Stack said the building corporation should furnish the floor covering, and in addition, claimed that a charge of $1.50 a square foot was excessive.

Thirty dozen suits of underwear at $8.50 a dozen for the Traverse City state hospital were rejected by Stack. He claimed the garments could be manufactured by prison labor for $5.60. Necktie prices of $6.50 a dozen were also questioned by the auditor general who said the price should not be over $4.

Stolen Baby Restored By Science

Abducted from her East Side home in New York by a woman posing as a nurse, 25-day-old Patricia Luciano is pictured reunited with her parents after police and medical science had joined to solve one of the strangest kidnaping cases in the city's history. The child was found in the Brooklyn apartment of Mrs. Margaret Stackhouse, a white woman with a negro husband, who insisted that the child was her own. It was only after a blood test that Mrs. Stackhouse admitted her claim to the baby was false.

East Chicago Bank Robbed by Killers

East Chicago, Ind., Jan. 15 (AP)—In a hail of bullets from police guns four bandits believed to be led by the notorious Indiana desperado, John Dillinger, fled from the First National bank here today with $20,000 in cash and securities after mortally wounding Detective Patrick O'Malley.

Police of two states immediately concentrated along the Indiana-Illinois line in an effort to capture the fleeing robbers. Captain Matt Leach in charge of Indiana state police ordered eight officers stationed at Tremont, to the scene while Chicago squads hurried to the southern part of Cook county.

Armed with two machine guns and protected by bullet-proof vests, the bandits battled through a squad of officers which had been summoned to the bank during their invasion, leaped into their automobile and fled toward Chicago. Three men had entered the bank while a fourth sat at the wheel of their machine outside.

A score of persons, most of them employes, were in the bank at the time. Confusion followed the bandits' commands for all to go to the rear of the bank and during the commotion an alarm was discharged.

The police station where the alarm sounded is only a block from the bank and by the time the bandits were ready to retreat with the money and securities they cooped up the bank entrance was surrounded by officers.

O'Malley in civilian garb and another plainclothes man advanced toward the door when the machine gunners emerged. The machine gun rattled and O'Malley fell. Passers-by scurried to safety as pistols blazed on all sides but the bandits gained their car and were whisked away.

Several policemen who participated in the shooting said they recognized Dillinger, who is well known to East Chicago detectives, as one of the quartet. He is wanted in Chicago for the slaying of Policeman Miles Cunningham following a postal robbery several months ago. Some time previous to that Dillinger was freed from a Lima, O., jail presumably by a group of men who had escaped from the Michigan City, Ind., prison. In the jail delivery Sheriff Jesse Sarber was slain. Dillinger had been held at Lima on a bank robbery charge.

SEAWAY TREATY ATTACK OPENED

Senate Hears Warning of Canadian Border Complications

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Opponents opened their attack on the St. Lawrence waterway treaty in the senate today, leading off with a warning from Senator Lewis (D-Ill) that it would "provide a military avenue through the United States" for Great Britain.

When Lewis concluded after speaking most of the day, the vote on the treaty was still as far in the future as ever. The senate has given two days to discussion of it, and only two senators have spoke—Lewis and Chairman Pittman of the foreign relations committee.

The fluent Illinois senator dropped his flowery manner of speech temporarily to warn bluntly that the St. Lawrence development would permit Great Britain in time to send her ships into the interior of the United States.

He said he did not contend that England wanted to war on the United States, but that America might be drawn into a war as an ally of Britain's enemy.

The warning was discounted by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), and one of the leading advocates of ratification, who pointed out that the boundary between the United States and Canada had never been fortified, and said it required considerable imagination to visualize a war between the two nations.

WANTED FOR ROBBERY

Flint, Jan. 15 (AP)—Joseph P. Hoffman, 48, was arrested as his gas station here today at the request of the sheriff of Genevieve county, Missouri. Police said the sheriff told them Hoffman was wanted for alleged participation in a bank robbery.

HEARINGS AT PRISON

Marquette, Mich., Jan 15 (AP)—M. D. Kirby, of Lansing, deputy parole commissioner, arrived in Marquette today to conduct hearings Tuesday and Wednesday at the Marquette branch prison. Seventy-one cases are to come before the parole officer.

Review Of Fleet By President Set For Next June 1

San Diego, Calif, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt will review virtually the entire strength of the United States fleet at New York next June 1, plans in the hands of force commanders disclosed today.

The president will be a spectator as the great armada of some 100 surface vessels and nearly 300 aircraft proceed to the fleet anchorage up the north river.

Admiral David F. Sellers, commander-in-chief of the fleet, announced that the fleet will said from its home base here next April 9 on a seven-months' cruise to the north Atlantic.

The fleet will proceed first to its Caribbean base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. En route, it will conduct a series of elaborate war games.

MISSOURI SALES TAX

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 15 (AP)—Governor Guy B. Park signed the Missouri ½ percent sales tax bill today. Legislative leaders have estimated the tax will produce between $4,000,000 and $7,000,000 annually.

STOCK SALES MOST ACTIVE SINCE JULY 1

MONEY NEWS PUTS LIFE IN BONDS, COMMODITIES

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Ass'd Press Financial Editor)

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Commodities and securities surged upward in the nation's leading markets today in response to President Roosevelt's mometous message to congress delineating the future of the dollar.

The message, so far as the markets were concerned, appeared to have pleased both the hard money conservatives and the managed money liberals, for investment bonds advanced along with speculative commodities and shares.

Best In Months

Corporate bonds in the New York stock exchange experienced one of the sharpest advances of the year, and trading accelerated to the swiftest pace in three years, with the exception of one day last July. Stocks had the broadest advance in three months, in the most active trading since July 1. Many issues were jacked up $1 to more than $6 a share.

In the Chicago pit, wheat experienced one of the best upturns in months, closing with advances of 3½ to 4⅛ cents a bushel. Cotton futures at New York rose $1.90 to $2.30 a bale to new highs since July.

Announcement of the plan of limiting the fluctuations in the gold value of the dollar between 50 and 60 per cent of its old gold parity of $20.67 to an ounce of the metal, was followed quickly by lifting the price to $34.45 an ounce, placing the dollar at almost exactly 60 per cent of its old parity.

Value Flexible

This meant, in the opinion of several Wall Street monetary authorities, that the dollar would probably be kept at the 60 per cent level experimentally for some time, while the $2,000,000,000 equalization fund proposed by the president operates to keep the dollar at the equivalent level in the foreign exchange markets, and the full inflationary effect of the devaluation is given time to work.

If it should be found later that the 60 per cent level is too high, or if foreign countries should start a depreciation contest by unduly reducing the value of their own currencies in relation to the dollar, the administration would have a cushion of a further reduction in the gold value of the dollar to 50 per cent of its old parity, which would mean lifting the gold price to $41.34 an ounce.

Capital Encouraged

The immediate effects of the program, it was believed, would be largely psychological, but nonetheless important. Recent gold prices have reduced the theoretical gold value of the dollar to close to the 60 per cent level. However, it was explained in prominent financial quarters here that assurance that future fluctuations would be kept within certain limits should encourage private investors, and hasten the flow of private capital into normal channels once more. An early return of much of the $1,000,000,000 or more of American capital which has fled abroad was anticipated.

Furthermore, it was pointed out that some $3,000,000,000 profit in gold which will accrue to

McCann Bound Over For Grand Rapids Deaf Mute Murder

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP) William McCann, 20, waived examination and was bound to circuit court this afternoon when arraigned in justice court on a first degree murder charge in connection with the death of Margaret Peavey, 22-year-old deaf mute.

Defense attorneys gave no indication when McMann might be arraigned in the higher court but said they would ask appointment of a sanity commission to examine their client.

Previously McMann had asked a hearing but suddenly changed his attitude today.

He was arrested in Los Angeles after an intense investigation which followed the finding of the girl's body, with three bullet wounds in the head, in a field near here Dec. 23.

Hoover, Lindbergh May Be Witnesses In Airmail Inquiry

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Senator McCarran (D. Nev.) said tonight that he would ask Chairman Black of the senate air amil investigating committee to summon Herbert Hoover, Jr., Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, and Walter F. Brown, former postmaster general as witnesses. McCarran is a committee member.

The committee will call Charles W. Deeds of Dayton, Ohio, vice-president of the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft company, as a witness at resumption of hearings tomorrow.

CUBA HAS RIOT, NEW PRESIDENT

Young Naval Graduate Accepts Job Amid Confusion

BY JOHN P. McKNIGHT
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Havana, Jan. 15 (AP)—Carlos Hevia, 33-year-old graduate of the United States Naval Academy, accepted the presidency of Cuba tonight after a chaotic day during which nobody knew who was running the country.

While bullets of guardsmen whizzed outside the presidential palace and three supporters of the retiring executive, Ramon Grau San Martin, fell dead in the street, the quiet, swart former agriculture secretary decided to take over the office, after he previously refused.

Between the time Grau San Martin submitted his resignation to a revolutionary junta and the cabinet and Hevia's decision the utmost political confusion prevailed, with rumors of an army rift, fears of another revolution, rioting, and military preparations for trouble.

Hevia at first said he would accept the junta's offer that he head the government, but he later changed his mind, only to revert to the original decision. The status of Grau San Martin, the while, was conjectural.

Hevia, utterly fatigued after 48 hours of wakefulnes and still bewildered over the swiftness of events, retired to his rooms tonight, planning to sleep until tomorrow when he expected to take the formal oath of office, which his father-in-law, Chief Justice Juan Federico Edelmann probably will administer.

In reply to questions, Hevia said: "I don't know what I am going to do now. Wait until tomorrow."

In the Headlines From Washington

(By The Associated Press)

President Roosevelt proposed to congress a devalued dollar and that the federal government take title to all gold. He also asked that congress create a $2,000,000,000 fund to deal in foreign exchange and government securities.

Democratic leaders in house and senate promised prompt passage of the president's plans.

Both houses of congress passed a bill to extend the lending life of the RFC one year and increase its capital by $850,000,000.

Jefferson Caffery, American envoy in Havana, was instructed to protest seizure of American-owned electric plants by the Cuban government.

Dr. O. M. W. Sprague, Harvard professor, told a house committee he feared the Roosevelt monetary plans would impede recovery.

Senator Lewis (D-Ill) told the senate that Great Britain wants the St. Lawrence waterway for "a military avenue through the United States."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was pointed as a member of the national bituminous coal industrial board.

Margaret Sanger pleaded for federal birth control legislation.

Comstock Recall Move Still Going

Jackson, Jan. 15 (AP) H. J. Bowersox, author of a movement begun last summer to recal Governor William A. Comstock, said today that petitions bearing 104,000 signatures would be filed soon at Lansing. The recall peitions are stored in Lansing, Detroit and Jackson, he said.

POWER ASKED TO CUT VALUE 40 PER CENT

TITLE TO ALL GOLD SOUGHT FOR TREASURY

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Party leaders tonight freely predicted a tremendous vote of confidence in President Roosevelt's monetary program when congress acts on the chief executive's requested legislation for a minimum cut of forty per cent in the dollar's gold value and bringing into the treasury the country's entire stock of monetary gold.

Preparations went forward for speeding his proposals through the legislative mill, while even senate minority leaders conceded they would be able to muster not more than 27 votes in opposition, including five defections by conservative members of the president's own party. The huge Democratic majority in the house assured approval by a large margin there.

RFC BILL PASSED

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—An administration measure extending the life of the Reconstruction corporation for a year and increasing its borrowing power by $850,000,000 was swept quickly through both branches of congress today and was sent to the White House for presidential signature.

It received senate approval after brief debate and two hours later went through the house by a standing vote of 186 to 1. There were no amendments.

Carefully Worded

Mr. Roosevelt's request went to the capital today in a carefully and forcefully worded special message, which, reduced to its essentials, asked congress for three things:

To give the government "by specific enactment," title to "all supplies of American owned monetary gold, with provision for the payment therefor in gold certificates."

To "fix the upper limit of permissable revaluation" of the dollar at sixty per cent of the present statutory (gold) value would not be in the public interest."

To give the secretary of the treasury express authority to purchase foreign exchange as well as to buy and sell gold at home and abroad and to establish from any profits on gold stocks derived from devaluation of the dollar a "fund of two billion dollars" with which to make such purchases.

No Green-Backs

The publication of the presidential communication was quickly followed by a treasury announcement increasing the quotation on domestic newly mined gold from $34.06 to $34.45, the first change in the figure since December 18. On the basis of the new quotation, the gold value of the dollar is exactly forty per cent less than at the statutory mint price of $20.67.

In addition, President Roosevelt called newspapermen into a special press conference and told them that the steps he contemplated had nothing to do with green backs and printing press money. At the same time, he said that he did not believe that the issuance of a limited amount of five and ten dollar, non-interest

Soviets Hold Six In Sabotage, Arson Espionage Charge

Moscow, Jan. 15 (AP)—Charges of sabotage, arson, and economic espionage, the foreign office said today, have been lodged against six foreigners and twenty Russains who were in the custody of the secret police.

They were associated with the Control company branch of the Societe Des Surveillances, Ltd., of Geneva, a firm which certifies exports from Russia to all parts of the world.

Regarding the arson charge it was reported in foreign offices here that a serious fire in the Soviet shipyard at Nicolaff, in which two submarines under construction were said to have been destroyed, preceded the arrest of Heinrich Karl, a German employed at the shipyard, who was identified as a friend of Josef Weinzettl, who was arrested on November 5.

GIANT AIRPLANE FALLS, 10 DIE

High Officials Perish as Pride of French Fleet Explodes

Corbigny, France, Jan. 15 (AP) -Five high French officials and five other persons were burned to death when the giant tri-motored airplane, the Emeraude, the pride of the French commercial fleet, fell in flames and exploded near here tonight on a return flight from French Indo-China.

The big four-ton plane caught fire apparently from a leaky gasoline line while battling a violent wind and hail storm over Nievre department, not far from Nevers where an American woman, Miss Evelyn G. Frost of New York and St. Louis, lost her life in a plane crash a week ago.

The Emeraude exploded when the pilot tried to land on an open field a mile north of here and 175 miles southeast of Paris. The ten helpless occupants were imprisoned in the cabin.

The victims were:

Pierre Pasquier, governor general of Indo-China; Emmanuel Chaumie, director of civil aviation in the air ministry; Mme. Chaumie; M. Balazuc, director of technical services in the air ministry; M. Nogues, traffic manager of the Air France company; M. Larrieu, attache of the air ministry; Captain Bussault, military aid of M. Pasquier; Pilot Launay; Wireless Operator Queyrel, and Mechanic Crampbell.

The plane and the passengers were burned completely before villagers were able to approach because of the intense heat.

Nationalist Flags Flying In Foochow

Foochow, China, Jan. 16 (Tuesday) (AP)—As the climax of the Chinese government's efforts to quell an anti-Nationalist revolt in Fukien province, Nationalist sailors entered Foochow today while the last of the 19th route army retreated southward.

The sailors took over control of the city and Nationalist flags flew once more.

Heavy firing from Chinese gunboats accompanied the entry of the marines. It caused some alarm which turned to a feeling of relief when its nature was learned.

POWER ASKED TO CUT VALUE 40 PER CENT

bearing bonds, as provided in the Thomas amendment could be regarded as inflation.

The day's rapid fire developments also included the publication of three executive orders modifying existing regulations so that individuals as well as banks may be licensed to deal in foreign exchange.

The chief executive's message made it clear that he planned no restoration of the system of free circulation of gold, which existed when the country was on the gold standard.

Prudent Step

"Certain lessons seem clear," he said. "For example, the free circulation of gold coins is unnecessary, leads to hoarding, and tends to a possible weakening of national financial structures in times of emergency.

"The practice of transferring gold from one individual to another or from the government to an individual within a nation is not only unnecessary, but is in every way undesirable. The transfer of gold in bulk is essential only for the payment of international trade balances. Therefore, it is a prudent step to vest in the government of a nation the title to and possession of all monetary gold within its boundaries and to keep that gold in the form of bullion rather than in coin."

Two principles were stressed throughout the message and summarized again in the concluding paragraphs:

"Our national currency must be maintained as a sound currency which, insofar as possible, will have a fairly constant standard of purchasing power and be adequate for the purposes of daily use and the establishment of credit.

"Thin" Dollar Defined

"The other principle is the inherent right of government to issue currency and to be the sole custodian and owner of the base of reserve of precious metals underlying that currency.

"With this goes the prerogative of government to determine from time to time the extent and nature of the metallic reserve.

"I am confident that the nations will well realize the definite purpose of the government to maintain the credit of that government and, at the same time, to provide a sound medium of exchange which will serve the needs of the people."

The president's proposal for devaluation of the dollar would provide a 10 per cent range in the amount of gold to be taken from it, and gives business the assurance that the extent of the cut will be between 40 and 50 per cent. The Thomas amendment imposes a 50-per cent limitation.

Technically and essentially it means that the amount of gold legally defined as the equivalent of one dollar will be fixed at some point between 11.61 grains of pure gold and 13.93 grains as compared with the present legal content of 23.22 grains.

The president's plan is that after having revalued once, the gold content can be changed from time to time as the general price level recedes or advances for the purpose of giving the country, as he phrased it today, a dollar with a "less variable purchasing power."

Sees General Agreement

Revaluing the dollar by the method outlined would have the result of an internal stabilization, economists explained, which, they thought bore little if any relation to stabilization on an international basis, a step which Mr. Roosevelt hopes eventually may be undertaken but which he believes lies well in the future.

"There is still much confusion of thought which prevents a world wide agreement creating a uniform monetary policy," said the president.

"We hope that despite present world confusion, events are leading to some future form of general agreement."

And he gave those prone to speculate on future developments in his monetary program a hint on which to ponder in the sentence:

"The title to all gold being in the government, the total stock will serve as a permanent and fixed metallic reserve which will change in amount only so far as necessary for the settlement of international balances or as may be required by a future agreement among the nations of the world for a redistribution of the world stock of monetary gold."

A suggestion for such a redistribution, coming from the leader of a nation holding more than one-third of the world's entire gold supply was regarded in many quarters as distinctly significant.

In nationalising the country's gold stocks, the president aimed particularly at the more than $3,500,000,000 to which the federal reserve system hold title. Devaluing the dollar would make this gold worth 80 to 100 per cent more than at present according to the amount of devaluation. If it still reposes in the reserve banks, these privately owned institutions would receive the profit; owned by the government, the margin would go to the treasury.

Certificates Secured

"Because the safe-keeping of this monetary basis rests with the government, we have already called in the gold which was in he possession of private individuals or corporations," the president said.

"There remains, however, a very large weight in gold bullion and coins which is still in the possession or control of the federal reserve banks.

"Although under existing law there is authority, by executive act, to take title to the gold in the possession of the reserve banks, this is a step of such importance that I prefer to ask the congress by specific enactment to vest in the United States government title to all supplies of American-owned monetary gold, with provision for the payment therefor in gold certificates.

"These gold certificates will be as now, secured at all times dollar for dollar by gold in the treasury—gold for each dollar of such weight and fineness as may be established from time to time.

"Such legislation places the right, title and ownership to our gold reserve in the government itself; it makes clear the government's ownership of any added value in the country's stock of gold which would result from any decrease of the gold content of the dollar which may be made in the public interest.

"It would also, of course with equal justice, cast upon the government the loss of such dollar value if the public interest in the future should require an increase in the amount of gold designated as a dollar."

SEEKS STABILIZATION

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP) President Roosevelt set out today to extract some of the gold filling from the dollar.

He sent a message to congress asking for power to call into the treasury the gold of the federal reserve banks; to thin the gold content of the dollar from time to time as general conditions might demand; to set up a two billion dollar fund with which to deal in foreign exchange and government securities.

The president hinted broadly at further impending moves toward international currency stabilization but did not say specifically how much he intended to reduce the gold content of the dollar, nor how much currency expansion would follow such a move.

Treaty Debate Resumed

This development towered high above all other capital happenings of the day. The presidential message went to a congress that was engaged in carrying out his previous recommendations for guaranteeing the principal of farm loan bonds and extending the life of the Reconstruction Corporation. Committees on both sides of the capitol have approved the former; the senate and house passed the reconstruction bill during the day and sent it to the White House. Later the senate returned to debate on the St. Lawrence seaway treaty.

Before a house committee, Dr. O. M. W. Sprague, a Harvard professor who said some hard words about the president's monetary policy and quit as treasury expert several months ago, was expressing the view that revaluation of the dollar would be desirable only if it were coupled with the clear understanding that there would be no more monetary experiments.

Party Talks Patronage

The monetary message of the president brought prompt action from Democrats. They were quick to say it would go through. Republicans called a meeting for tomorrow to decide what to do about it. If the Democrats hold strongly for it, and there were no evidences tonight of major defections, there is little likelihood that the Republicans can do other than talk about it.

The president did not say how much gold he intended to dip out of the dollar but an intimation that he expected the government to profit $3,600,000,000 from the gold taken over from the federal reserve was a broad hint that the devaluation might be the full extent of his present powers, 50 per cent. The federal reserve banks have about $3,600,000,000 of gold.

The two billion dollar exchange and bond buying would be set up from the profits coming from this doubling of the dollar value of the gold. The president did not say what would be done with the remainder of the profits —$1,600,000,000. The federal reserve would be given gold certificates for the metal it turns over to the treasury. These are redeemable in gold and would serve as warehouse receipts. They are not permitted to circulate now.

Elsewhere in Washington during the day:

Democrats arranged for a caucus tonight to talk patronage, with a warning before them from Postmaster General Farley that an election was coming on in which the electorate would deal with those who opposed the president.

HOW IT WORKS

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—From the standpoint of the man in the street the change in the gold content of the dollar contemplated by President Roosevelt will, if it has the effect it is designed to produced, raise the prices of the things he buys.

How long it will be before the devious train of events brings such a price rise and whether and when a boost in the wages of the man in the street will come are questions that time must answer.

A simple illustration of the general principles involved in the departure of the United States from the gold standard and the reduction of the gold content of the dollar might be:

Suppose the United States and the major nations of the world found that potatoes were an article of alue that did not change readily and they decided to use potatoes as a general medium of exchange instead of gold or silver.

Goods would be bought and sold for so many potatoes instead of so many ounces of gold. Potatoes being rather bulky, however, it might be decided as a matter of convenience to limit their use for money and, instead, issue paper certificates worth so many potatoes.

Gradually most of the potatoes would gravitate to the reserve banks and the treasury, each of which were permitted to issue paper money called dollars and worth, say, one potato.

An emergency arises. The prices of other things as compared with potatoes are too low. There are not enough potatoes and too much of other things. The dollar, being based on potatoes, is worth more than the authorities think it should be.

In an effort to bring the value of other things to a level with potatoes, it is decided to have all the potatoes in the country brought into one place and change their value.

With the government owning all the potatoes, only the government will profit by the operation. Private banks that own potatoes will turn them over to the government and receive dollars instead, the dollars having a face value equal to that of the potatoes they owned under the old rating.

This done, the government might revalue the dollar in any way it desired by simply saying that a dollar should in the future be worth only a half a potato or three fourths of a potato.

Abbot Hits Backs At Congressmen; Talks to Farley

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP) Predicting that if certain members of Michigan's delegation in congress do not change their tactics in regard to the president's program, "the voters will take them out of the picture next fall," Horatio J. Abbott, national Democratic committeeman from Michigan, tonight was on his way to Washington for a conference with Postmaster General Farley.

Abott said he would place before Farley his side of the controversy which began when Abbott sent a message to 10 members of the state delegation in congress demanding their support, without reservation, of President Roosevelt's program. Recently, several members voted against the president's request that the house agree not to amend bills submitted in furtherance of the recovery program.

Representative Harry W. Musselwhite wrote Abbott that he would not "be a rubber stamp for anyone" and Rep. Michael J. Hart of Saginaw bluntly told the committeeman to "mind his own business." Rep. John C. Lehr of Monroe said the message came in very "poor grace" and Rep Carl Weideman of Detroit reminded Abbott he had been supporting the administration policies.

$1 Theft: 1-15 Term; $27,100 Theft; Freed

A STRIKING contrast in Justice, afforded in the Los Angeles court of Judge Harry F. Sewell, that has stirred a buzz of debate in California: Mrs. Retta Munhall, 43, pleaded guilty to stealing $27,100 from her employers over a period of 14 years. Sentence suspended, six years' probation. Next case: John McDaniel, 31, who stole 20 nickels from a public phone box, no previous record of felonies. One to 15 years in San Quentin prison. Each case was decided on its merits, said the judge, adding that coincidences had no place in his court.

Philadelphia Bank Robbed Of $21,000 By Pair Of Gunmen

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Two holdup men, who lay in wait for their victims for two hours, today stole $21,000 from a branch of the Corn Exchange National Bank and Trust Company after handcuffing nine of its employes.

Their sub-machine gun threatening to pour lead at the first man who followed them, they fled in two automobiles in which police said five other members of the robber band waited.

As police reconstructed the robbery, the two men climbed to the roof of the two story bank, crashed open a skylight, lowered themselves into the building and waited for their victims.

The first to arrive was the watchman. As he entered, the sub machine gun was pressed to his side, and he was handcuffed. Eight other employes, including the manager of the bank, which is located at 61st and Ludlow streets in West Philadelphia, were treated in the same manner, and all were trussed with wire.

Then the gunmen waited calmly for the time lock to release the vault. With the lock opened, the robbers forced Clarence B. Munshower to open a safe. They filled three bags with money and made their escape.

Democrats Settle Patronage Dispute

Wshington, Jan. 15 (AP) After a three hour session behind closed doors, a caucus of house Democrats forced upon party leaders by petition of 26 members who were disgruntled over patronage distribution ended tonight in what leaders described as comparative harmony.

The leader of the petitioning group Representative Carpenter (D. Nebr.) at the close presented a resolution calling for a committee of 12 to confer with other members on the operation of emergency relief agencies and their personnel.

FACE ASSAULT TRIAL

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Circuit Judge Benjamin Williams Monday denied a motion to quash a charge of felonious assault pending against Mr. and Mrs Ernest Moross, of Mosherville. They will go on trial next Monday. Counsel argued state police had no legal right to eject the Morosses from an automobile in which they barricaded themselves last May. They originally were charged with using improper license plates.

Checkerboard Road Plan Shows Fliers Ohio's Stateline

Cleveland (AP)—Experienced airplane passengers have a system of their own of telling when they pass over the Pennsylvania-Ohio line.

On the Pennsylvania side, passengers notice that roads conform with the topography by following valleys and ridge tops.

On the Ohio side, and west 1,000 miles to the Rockies, the rectangular pattern is distinctive. The difference is traced back to the mode of surveying that was adopted after the revolutionary war, with rows of ranges laid out east and west of the principal meridians.

The engine of the airplane which carried the Lindberghs on their 25,000-mile air voyage weighed approximately 1.22 pounds per horsepower and was of 715 horsepower.

Meredith Stanley of Cape Girardeau, Mo., paid 83 cents for an old car of popular make. Title cost him $1 and a license tag $2.65.

Rear Admiral Dead After Car Accident

Savanah, Ga., Jan. 15 (AP)—Rear Admiral James Joseph Raby, 59, who took out the first merchant convoy under American escort in the World war, was killed today in an automobile accident 31 miles south of here.

Accompanied by Lieut. E. B. Abernathy, his aide, and Mrs. Abernathy, he was enroute from Florida to Charleston, S. C., when the car turned over in attempting to pass another. The three were thrown clear of the car as the machine, driven by Lieut. Abernathy, went out of control.

The admiral suffered a fractured skull and died within 15 minutes. Mrs. Abernathy was brought to a hospital here suffering severe shock and undetermined injuries. Lieut. Abernathy was slightly cut over one eye.

Two Insulls Lose Court Maneuvers

The Insulls—Samuel and Martin—lost ground yesterday in widely separated countries in their fights to escape return to Chicago for trial on criminal charges resulting from the smashup of their utility empire.

A Canadian court denied Martin Insull's motion for discharge from custody, ending his liberty under $10,000 bond. While his attorneys planned an appeal, Insull went to jail.

In Turkey the minister of interior issued an order barring Samuel Insull Sr., brother of Martin, from that country should he seek refuge there. Insull must leave Greece by Jan. 31.

Mother Convicted As Dry Violator

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Just a month after Michigan's prohibition law was repealed, Mrs. Louise Cammarata, 38, was convicted by a recorder's court jury today under its provisions, after trial of a case that had been pending since November 30.

Police testified that they found a five-gallon can of liquor in the store operated by Mrs. Cammarata, who is the mother of five children and the jury deliberated only ten minutes.

The case was prosecuted under the "saving clause" of the repeal measure, providing that persons arrested prior to repeal shall face prosecution.

Justin D. Hayes, Of Hermansville, Takes By Death

Hermansville, Jan. 15 (Special)—Justic D. Hayes, 60, a resident of this community for 36 years, passed away at 4 o'clock this afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital in Menominee. Death was caused by complications following an operation which was performed ten days ago.

He was born in Tully, New York, and moved to Hermansville soon after the lumber company organized here. He was one of the concern's oldest employes.

He was very prominent in Masonic circles and was a member of the Masonic Blue lodge at Norway, Menominee Knights Templar, Ahmed Temple, Noble of Mystic Shrines, Marquette.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. D. W. MacIntosh, Marquette; Mrs. J. Pitkorn, Thiensville, Wis., and Miss Ann Louise, at home.

The body will be returned to the family home from Menominee today and funeral services will be held Wednesday. Burial will be in the Hermansville cemetery.

PRESENT FUND TO LAST LESS THAN A MONTH

Michigan must taper off at once in order to keep within the allotment until April 15."

Of the $6,500,000 of federal welfare relief funds now allocated to this state for January, February and March, $2,000,000 is to meet a deficit. This leaves only $1,500,000 a month in federal funds plus $1,000,000 appropriated by the state from sales tax revenues, or a monthly budget of $2,500,000 instead of $4,000,000.

The governor said Fred R. Johnson, emergency welfare director, is instructing all agencies retrenchments are necessary. No new CWA projects are to be undertaken and payrolls must be cut substantially on those now under way. The governor said proposals to build airport hangars in five communities with CWA funds probably will not go through.

The governor said he does not plan to seek new sources of revenue for welfare work at this time. He state the situation apparently will have to be met by reducing payrolls and expenditures. He urged counties which have collected tax money belonging to the state to send it in to the treasury, so the state in turn can pay the counties their share of highway funds and possibly provide for some local welfare diversions from this source.

LEAGUE OFFERS SAAR TO HITLER

Plebiscite to Vote on Return to Mother Country

Geneva, Jan. 15 (AP)—Chancellor Hitler and Germany were given the opportunity today—if they want it—to edge their way back into Geneva.

The rich Saar basin, former German territory, is the bait.

The inhabitants of the district are to vote next year on whether they shall be French or German in the future and the League of Nations will supervise the plebiscite.

Rene Massigli, French delegate to the 78th session of the league council, which went into action today, told the council that France 'in the spirit of loyalty and fair play" desired that Germany be allowed to send a Saar plebiscite representative to the council if she wished.

The invitation was telegraphed at once to Berlin through the German consulate here following a discussion of Germany's position as a result of her withdrawal from the League of Nations last October.

The impression in German circles here, however, was that Hitler would refuse the league's invitation.

The council is appointing a commission to study the methods of the plebiscite.

Meanwhile meetings on the disarmament situation, previously expected to begin simultaneously with the council session, apparently will be postponed until the Franco - German conversations show progress.

Favoritism Charge In CWA Is Sifted

Newberry, Jan. 15—A pay roll of $7,438.72 was released from the CWA offices here on Friday, the checks going to 438 men. This amount is $300.00 less than for the previous week, that amount being $7,709.00.

A general survey of the men now working on CWA projects is being made by Earl Pell, deputy administrator for the county. This survey is being made to answer criticisms brought to the attention of the CWA officers at the meeting of the Roosevelt club at the meeting on Tuesday night when M. W. Buermann and F. M. O'Connor were appointed to investigate cases of alleged injustices among the workers. The charges voiced at the meeting were reported to be that out of county men had choice jobs, that favoritism was being shown and that men with families were refused jobs and single men given work. A study of the figures of the men registered at the national employment offices here showed that of the 400 men still unemployed the number of dependents per man was .74. The study of men actually working is expected to show a much higher number of dependents. There are also many jobs which call for skilled workers and there is a shortage of some types of workmen in the locality so that in some cases several members of a family have work because they can do that particular type.

STATE POLICE ITEMS

Sergt. Fred Keune and Mrs. Geune have returned from a three weeks' trip, a combined vacation and schooling for the officer. He attended the ten-day course for state police at Lansing.

Clarence Carpenter was picked up on Saturday night when he created a disturbance in Dollarville. In police court on Monday he pleaded guilty to a disorderly charge and paid the costs of the case.

State police arrested Gerald Shirk at Garnet on Saturday on charges brought by a young woman of that locality. He was taken to Manistique where he will have a hearing on Monday.

Troopers Jack Miller and Nick Modders left on Monday for Lansing where they will attend police school for the next ten days.

Few Local Men To Get Work On Asphalt Highway

Newberry, Jan. 15—The state highway department's contract for the nine miles of bituminous concrete let in Escanaba on Saturday to the Detroit Asphalt and Paving company will give work to 120 men for three and a half months, according to figures submitted to the local road commission. Work is to start by May 1st and to be completed by September 15. A mixing mill will be set up at once, a railroad spur to run from the South Shore siding where it crosses M-28 at the state hospital orchard, where the mill will be located. The building is housed in and makes a rather sightly appearance, according to the pictures submitted to the state hospital authorities.

Of the 120 men to be hired about half are common laborers, the rest being skilled in that particular type of road making. It was stated at the local highway office that generally negroes are hired for such work and it is found impossible to get other laborers to do the work which is hot and dirty. That being the case few local men will be used.

The new type of road is expected to prove of special value in this climate. The surface is finished by machine and presents a waving riding floor which is non-skidding in slippery weather. The new road will give Luce county a hard surface road from the Chippewa county line through the village and to the cemetery at the west.

MILLS FUNERAL

Employes and their families at the Newberry state hospital as well as many other persons attended the funeral on Sunday o George F. Mills who died suddenly at the institution on Friday morning. Mr. Mills was an old and faithful member of the institutional staff serving as assistant farmer for many years.

Services were held at the residence with Rev. J. J. Pacey of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating and burial took place in Forest Home cemetery. The honorary pall bearers were Dr. E. H. Campbell, Wm. J. Garrett, Charles H. Burns, C. P. West, J. A. Baetz, Andrew Gustafson, Harry Baker and Herman Jewell. Acting bearers were Charles Smith, Walter Wilson, Roy Harju, Aaron Harter, Ralph Phillion and Alfred Turk.

Miss Margaret Sova, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sova, fell on the ice on Sunday afternoon and broke her right upper arm.

Newberry schools opened on Monday morning following a three weeks' vacation, one week being for the purpose of allowing some of the class rooms to be painted on a CWA project.

HOCKEY AT NEWBERRY

Newberry hockey fans in large numbers attended the game on Sunday afternoon played on the local rink. It was the first competition of the season, playing Munising and defeating them with a 3 to 0 score. The two surprise players for Newberry, the Peurassari brothers, members of the C. C. C. camp 1688, made all three goals, Eino making two fine 40-foot shots and William registering the third. Korpi for Newberry also played brilliantly. The Munising lineup was: Defense, Dugan, Weber; goal, Burke; center, Whitock; forwards, Belfrey, Schuber.

For Newberry: Goal, Russell Hild; defense, Dwyer, Brotherton, DeCook, G. Hunter; forwards, Eina Peurassaari, William Peurasaari, Korpi, Johnson, Detzler. Harry Fraser managed the local team.

KIWANIS HEARS ARNE ARNTZEN

Local Architect Reviews Development of Architecture

Architecture bears a direct relation to the social problems confronted by the people and gives expression to the spirit of the times, according to Arne Arntzen, Escanaba architect, who addressed the Kiwanis club at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon. He concluded his address with a brief explanation of the preliminary plans for proposed new Delta county courthouse.

ARCHITECTS NAMED

The building and grounds and finance and auditing committee of the Delta county board of supervisors last evening authorized Gothard and Arne Arntzen, local contractors, to draw plans and specifications for the proposed new courthouse.

The first records of a definite style of architecture go back to 2300 B. C. when the Egyptians erected the pyramids as huge monuments to perpetuate the memories of those ancient kings, Mr. Arntzen said. Those were times when human values were of little consideration, and thousands of slaves toiled in misery and died to satisfy the whims of their rulers. Human beings were worth little, but buildings and material things meant much in that period of history, the speaker explained.

Explains Grecian Influence

About 600 A. D., architecture began to feel the Grecian influence, and in that period were erected massive buildings, which in proportion and symmetry of design have never been surpassed, Mr. Arntzen said. The speaker then went on to describe the advent of Roman architecture, which resulted in a sturdier type of buildings as typified by the Coliseum in Rome.

During the period of the Renaissance, Mr. Arntzen the people's thought dwelt considerably on spiritual matters and the spirit of those times was expressed in the designing of beautiful cathedrals, built large to accommodate many Christian worshipers and with spires projecting to great heights.

Describes Modern Architecture

Continuing his review of the development of architecture, Mr. Arntzen explained that in the modern designs the architects endeavor to express the spirit of frankness that exists today by the construction of buildings, which embody both a simplicity of beauty and practical usefulness. The proposed Delta county courthouse will follow this modern style of architecture, the speaker said. He added that the selection of the site near Lighthouse Point would have the advantage of permitting landscaping, which will enhance the appearance of the property.

The project has been given tentative approval by Louis E. Nims, deputy CWA administrator, and it is likely that the structure can be built with CWA funds if this program is extended beyond Feb. 15. Three months of feverish activity, working night and day, will be necessary to complete the project, Mr. Arntzen said.

Sam Wickman, president of the Kiwanis club, also spoke briefly at the meeting, reviewing the program presented at the midwinter district meeting held at Milwaukee last week. The conference was attended by Mr. Wickman and Clarence Zerbel, secretary of the club.

OBITUARY

LOUIS BONJEAN

Funeral services for Louis Bonjean were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church, Wilson, Rev. Carl E. Berger of this city officiating. The church was filled for the services.

Burial was in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were Joseph, Antone, Jule and Mose Pirlot, Theodore Duca and George Vanderville.

Missouri's 1933 farm crops increased 48 per cent in value compared with 1932 on an acreage 5.5 per cent smaller, a survey by the federal-state crop reporting service disclosed.

AMUSEMENTS

Ernst Lubitsch's brand new Paramount picture, "Design for Living" is now playing at the Delft theatre.

It has for its leading players Fredric March, Gary Cooper, Miriam Hopkins and Edward Everett Horton and was brought to the screen by Ben Hecht from Noel Coward's sensational stage success of the same name.

On a Paris-bound train, Miriam Hopkins, vivacious young artist, first meets the two men who are to change her life. They are George Curtis, also an artist and Tom Chambers, playwright, played by Cooper and March respectively.

Tom and George both fall madly in love with her. To further complicate matters, Miss Hopkins falls in love too. Only she is too fond of Tom to tell him she loves George, and she loves George too much to hurt to tell him about Tom.

After lengthy discussions, the problem is solved. She is to live with them, but she will be a mother of the arts. Sex is out entirely.

So with this goal for their happiness, the three of them settle down together in their triangular love-nest. But happiness isn't won so easily, and the manner in which they eventually do get-together brings the picture to a most amusing ending.

PLAN FOR FAIR

MEMBERS of the board of managers of the Upper Peninsula State Fair have received official notice of their organization meeting to be held in this city on Jan. 27. This announcement can be taken to indicate that plans will soon be actively under way for the reestablishment of the Upper Peninsula State Fair here, on dates yet to be selected, during the coming fall.

Members of the newly appointed board, representing every county in the peninsula, according to individual assurances, will undertake the task assigned them with the serious purpose of making the peninsula's annual display of its resources and progress, a thoroughly worthwhile event. They will have the experience of peninsula fairs of the past to guide their efforts, profiting by what may be considered mistakes of the past and emphasizing those departments and features in which the fair going public has demonstrated its greatest interest.

The people of Escanaba will welcome the announcement that actual peninsula fair building plans are shortly to be under way and the people of this city and county can be counted upon, by the new management, to lend every possible measure of support and cooperation with their efforts to stage a successful fair program.

MORE DISCORD

APPARENTLY the rift in the Democratic family of Michigan is not confined strictly to the state administration at Lansing. Members of the Michigan Democratic delegation in congress have taken violent offense at a telegram forwarded to them by the Democratic State Central committee and their national committeeman, revealing a new feud within the party that had not before been made public.

Committeeman Horatio J. Abbott, W. Alfred Debo, chairman of the state central committee and Don W. Canfield, secretary, recently sent a telegram to every member of the Michigan delegation in the national house of representatives, urging unswerving support for the program and policies of President Roosevelt laid before congress. For some reason, as yet unrevealed, that telegram touched off a set of fireworks, said to have been smouldering for some time. Representative Lehr, of Monroe, led a veritable avalanche of retorts, by reviewing the record of his Democracy, as well as his record in congress, and concluded with the assertion "my 38 years of unselfish support of the Democratic party and its principles, makes it unnecessary for me to take orders from one who has been so blind to the best interests of Michigan Democracy as have you." Other congressmen who fired back similar retorts were Representatives Harry W. Musselwhite, of Manistee and Carl M. Weidman, of Detroit.

Just why the congressmen should have taken such violent umbrage over the receipt of a telegram that merely urged them to support their national party leader, is not evident from surface facts, indicating that a party ruction, not before suspected, has been raging for some time.

The general public in Michigan has become rather used to these periodic airing of Democratic family discord and under ordinary conditions the latest outbreak, this time coming from Washington, would be regarded as just another fight, but this happens to fall in the hot stove league season and may prove at least diverting and entertaining when details are revealed.

REWARD IS DUE

MOST Americans will agree that there is substantial justice in the plan to grant Finland a material reduction in its debt to the United States.

Finland, in case you have forgotten, is the one European nation which has been paying its debt to this country punctually and fully. Finland is a small nation and a poor one; but while such great powers as France and England have found their debt payments too irksome to meet, Finland has paid one hundred cents on the dollar, whenever a note fell due.

Now the State Department is negotiating with the Finnish government for a substantial reduction in the debt. Congress will have to approve any such settlement, of course, to make it binding; but there is little doubt that Congress will do it without delay. A European debtor that actually pays its debts is a rare enough phenomenon to deserve special treatment.

NOT SO HIGH, AFTER ALL

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT estimates that next year the national debt will reach a figure of $31,834,000,000 — the highest point in its history. This is a staggering sum; but it is worth remembering that it is by no means unprecedented.

Great Britain has a national debt of 7,583,000,000 pounds sterling, or about $36,000,000,000 at par; and Great Britain's population is about a third that of the United States.

Look at it in another way. England's debt amounts to $799 per capita; America's, at the top suggested by the president, will amount to $254 per capita. And, incidentally, in 1932 our national wealth was estimated at $247,000,000,000.

It looks as if we ought to be able to carry this debt, after all, without too much difficulty.

TO CHECK BLACKMAILING

SENATOR MILLARD TYDINGS of Maryland plans to seek a modification of the famous Mann act in the present session of Congress.

This law was passed to strike a blow at the white slave traffic. Unfortunately, it also has been a boon to blackmailers. It is perfectly possible to prosecute under it a man who never has dreamed of having the shadow of a connection with the organized vice traffic; and unscrupulous folk have used this fact as a lever to extort money from men guilty of nothing more than indiscretions.

It goes without saying, of course, that in revising the law care must be taken to leave it an effective club against commercialized vice rings.

Senator Tydings believes it is possible to amend the law so as to destroy its usefulness for blackmailers without weakening its usefulness in the field for which it was designed. It is to be hoped that he succeeds in his plan.

DEATH FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

SOME sort of record for severity in dealing with reckless driving seems to have been set by the Russian court in Moscow, which recently imposed the death penalty on a motorist who let his car get out of control, caromed into a marching column of troops, and caused the death of four men.

This sentence is all the more astounding when one considers the fact that, except in cases of counter - revolutionary activity, Russian courts are reluctant to impose the death penalty at all, even for cold-blooded murder.

It isn't likely that very many Americans would favor the adoption of such stringent measures in this country. Nevertheless, there is something to be said for the adoption of extreme severity toward the man who handles his car so poorly that he destroys the lives of his fellow men.

We have a lot of public menaces of that variety in America, and so far we do not seem to have found any very effective way of dealing with them.

There's no truth in the report that Hitler warned Max Schmeling not to fight Levinsky. Several sport critics do.

Midwestern judge ruled no crime was committed when a motorist swore at a traffic cop. At that rate, when a cop swears at a motorist it must be a good deed.

Married Flirts

CHAPTER X

The hall was full of the scent of wood fire as they came in, rosy and glowing from the out of doors. Gypsy's hand was linked in Tom's. It was one of those times to be looked back upon in life later with gratitude and wonderment, when two human hearts were perfectly in accord. But their moment was short lived. The hall was full of life and color and movement. Sue Canavan, her red curls crackling, her slim figure smartly set off by the blue wool frock she wore, came forward and greeted them gayly.

"We were just about to leave—we had given you two wanderers up for good."

The tall man looming at her side was someone Gypsy had not seen before. He had a lean, humorous face; craggy brows over slate gray eyes that seemed to see everything. Gypsy liked his handclasp. It was firm and cool and assured. His hair was beginning to gray at the temples, making him look older than his years. Gypsy had heard Sue speak of Hunt Gibson before this. He had been described as "a forty-leventh cousin." But they had not met before. Hunt, Sue was now explaining volubly, was just home from Singapore and points east.

"Engineer?" Tom inquired, with a shade of respect in his voice. Gypsy caught the note, remembering that it had been Tom's ambition to be a mining expert, before his father had died, leaving him to fend for himself, putting the possibility of further college years out of the question.

Hunt nodded, and as the girl slipped upstairs to change, she observed with satisfaction that the two men were deep in conversation.

But when Tom came upstairs a few moments later, to get into his Sunday gray and put his windbreaker and knickerbockers to dry, he seemed slightly grumpy.

"I thought we were going along home early," he observed, watching Gypsy running a comb through her wet curls. "Your mother says we're staying for supper."

"Ah, darling, I thought you'd understand that we couldn't run away like that," she began placatingly. "I haven't seen Sue for ages—we never seem to have time any more. We don't want to turn into hermits, do we?"

"No, but I want you to myself some time, you know that," he grumbled, laying his young cheek against her glowing round one.

She considered this. "I'll go along right now, if you say so," she began. Perhaps she was too insistent upon family ties. Tom himself had no mother or father, and so she didn't know what it felt like to be submerged by one's in-laws. Rosina they seldom saw, as the claims of a large and growing family held her in her own particular groove.

Gypsy repeated this. "I'll tell Mums you have some work to finish—that's true, anyway, isn't it, darling?—and we'll barge along."

But his moment of ill-humor had passed. "Nonsense, dearest. We'll stay. Do you love your grouchy husband?"

"You're never that!" She was indignant. "I won't have you calling yourself names."

So they settled that particular question with the usual kisses and Gypsy's eyes were starrier than usual when she rejoined the group downstairs.

"We've got to run," Sue announced, scandalized by the lateness of the hour and the girl twin's announcement that tea was imminent.

"Nonsense," protested Mrs. Morell, warmly. "Daddy and I are going over to the Williams for supper, but you must all stay—Bea will scramble eggs and someone will make coffee . . ."

So it was arranged. They all gathered in the big bright kitchen. The smell of toasting bread and the pungent scent of fresh roasted coffee and frying bacon filled the air. Everybody carried plates into the shabby dining room, and the satin oval of Grandmother Morell's mahogany table, one of the few good pieces left in the house, soon reflected candle light and half a dozen youthful faces.

"This is fun!" Hunt Gibson was at Gypsy's right. She smiled at him, liking the lean ranginess of him. He was far from handsome, this engineer from the remote places of the earth, but there was something definitely attractive about him, Gypsy decided. He had a way of talking slangily out of the side of his mouth; and his stories were delightful.

"Bet you didn't have anything like this in Afghanistan," Sue challenged, leaning across the table.

"You bet your life I didn't," he drawled, staring down at the girl beside him. Gypsy felt a queer little impulse of withdrawal; then, deciding she was imagining things, smiled warmly back at him. Just because you were married was scarcely good reason for refusing to be friends with another man. And there was no doubt about it—this young stranger was liking her tremendously. No matter what she said, no matter what she did, he applauded.

"She's cute," he told the assembled company, with his three-cornered grin. "Cute little girl, isn't she?"

It was half-past ten. It was eleven. Gypsy glanced at the clock and out at the drifts, piling high in the yard, making mounds of the small pines and the rhododendron bushes.

"We honestly must be getting back to town?"

The slate gray eyes regarded her, the drawling voice asked casually: "You don't live out here, then?"

The other four, Beatrice and Bertram, Tom and Sue, were playing parchesi. Gypsy and Gibson were in deep chairs opposite each other at the fire.

She raised her dark eyes to his, smilingly. "No, we live in the city. East Fifties."

"Rotten night to start out." His nod indicated the drifting snow against the windows.

"Isn't it? But it'll be better going now than starting out in the morning. And I have a job."

"You!" He seemed vastly amused. "So you're one of those modern young women, too."

The tone nettled her, she couldn't have said why. "You've been away from civilization so long," she told him negligently, "that you've forgotten how these things are done . . ."

His great laugh rang out, and Tom Weaver, across the room, moved one of his pink "men" five spaces and wondered what this chap could be talking about to Gypsy.

"No, I haven't forgotten," Hunt contributed, in the silence that followed. "I just don't think it goes together—the job and marriage."

Gypsy tossed her head. "Ah, but it does. I'm proving it."

"You are, eh?" He rubbed his chin, considering this. He rose, resting one foot on the fender, and lighted a cigaret with deft lean fingers. "Well, perhaps I'm

OTHER THINGS

Now let us speak of other things:
We've talked so much of laws and kings,
And wisdom that is only wise
If wages and if profits rise,
That things material possess,
It seems, the seeds of happiness,
When nothing else on earth has less.

A man must have his board and bed,
A suit, a roof above his head,
But, having these, all else depends
On loved and loving, and his friends,
His fellow-feeling with the throng,
His faith in God, and flow'r, and song,
The only things that matter long.

Who is the richer? He with one
He loves, or he with wealth, and none?
Who is most blest in hours of grief?
Is not the matter then belief?
Not for the rich all things endure;
Loss comes not only to the poor;
Love, faith, make either man secure.

Which would you rather have tonight,
Your loved, or dollars to delight?
Or, having both, which would you choose,
If one were taken, then to lose?
We've talked so much of laws and kings,
Though either one but little brings,
Now let us speak of other things.

President Charles H. Moyer and 37 other officials of the Western Federation of Miners, who have been active in the copper country strike, were yesterday indicted by the Houghton county grand jury, which has been investigating the strike for several weeks. All of the Western federation officials are charged jointly and separately with assault, intimidating workmen and interfering with workmen and their property.

St. Joseph's basketball team will battle with the Rapid River team at Rapid River tonight. Members of St. Joseph's squad are: J. Bink, center; St. Martin and Reuder, forwards; Berrigan and M. Bink, guards and Victor Lemmer and Peller, subs. John Lemmer will accompany the team and will officiate in the game as referee.

The Delta county chapter of Sons of Veterans was launched at an enthusiastic meeting of the charter members at the Gladstone city hall last night. Officers elected are: Milton Powell, Gladstone, commander; Charles Miller, Gladstone, senior vice commander; August Nehls, Escanaba, junior vice commander; A. C. Marvin, Escanaba, secretary; Dr. G. A. Cotton, Escanaba, treasurer; Atty. H. J. Rushton, Escanaba, patriotic instructor; John M. Millar, Escanaba, chaplain, and William Larabee, Rapid River, guide.

The First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, has placed a bible in every room of the newly opened Delta hotel.

Huntley Russell, former state land commissioner, in an address at Kalamazoo last night declared that "More important than any other subject now before the people of Michigan is the problem of connecting the Great Lakes with tidewater, so that it will be possible for an ocean going boat to clear from any port on the Great Lakes for any port in the world".

RUMMLER PAYS $50 AND COSTS

Federal Agent Is Found Guilty on Simple Assault Charge

Oscar Rummler, Marquette, federal prohibition agent, was found guilty of simple assault in a non-jury trial before Judge Frank A. Bell in circuit court here yesterday afternoon and paid a fine of $50 and costs of $25. Upon motion of Prosecuting Attorney William J. Miller, the charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor was dismissed.

Postmaster Biegler and federal court officials of Marquette took the stand as character witnesses in Rummler's defense. Rummler also testified. He denied that he was drunk on the night of Oct 21 when he was arrested in Gladstone after his automobile collided with a parked automobile, owned by Carl Johnson, Soo Line caller, claiming that he had imbibed of only a couple glasses of beer. He also explained that Johnson's car was parked on the wrong side of the street, with the headlights turned on, which because of weather conditions caused him to hit the automobile in attempt to pass on the right side of it.

Witness for the prosecution were: Carl Johnson, who told of the argument in which he and Rummler engaged in after the collision; and Police Officers Labumbard and May, who testified concerning the arrest of the dry agent.

William Cody, Escanaba, was sentenced by Judge Bell to serve from one to 15 years in Marquette prison, for violation of the terms of the probation imposed upon him following his conviction on a burglary charge at a previous court term. His latest offense was the entering of a chicken coop.

Louis Gasperic, Kipling, and Fayman Gallagher, Escanaba, also were brought before the judge of violation of their paroles. Gasperich's probation was continued, the court deciding to give him another chance upon the recommendation of Parole Officer John Judson. Gallagher, who pleaded guilty to driving away an automobile without permission on the opening day of court, was back in jail the following day after he was given a parole because of drunkenness. He was sentenced to spend 30 days in the county jail.

School Board Hires Miss Helen Snyder

Miss Helen Snyder of Escanaba has been engaged by the board of education as instructor of English and French at the Escanaba junior high school, beginning in the second semester in February.

She is a graduate of Escanaba high school and Lawrence college. She also will have charge of the senior high school debating work.

About a hundred students are expected to be added to the junior high school enrollment next semester. When Miss Louise Sprau resigned last year, no teacher was engaged to succeed her. The increased student load the coming semester made necessary the hiring of Miss Snyder, however.

SCOUTS PLAN BUSY MONTH

Increase in Membership To Be Sought During February

Preparations are now being made to launch an extensive and interesting program of Scouting during February, Jack Floyd, district Scout commissioner, announced yesterday.

During the month, efforts will be made to increase the troop membership and to provide new activities that will be of much interest and enjoyment to the boys. About four hundred boys are now members of the Scout movement in this community, and it is expected that about one hundred more will be added by spring.

"Scouting is a program of interesting, useful things for boys to do in their leisure time," Mr. Floyd explained. "These boys learn the mysteries of woodcraft, first aid, swimming and lifesaving, outdoor cooking and camping, signaling, map making, hiking and citizenship.

"Like the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts of America is chartered directly by Congress and the President of the United States is its honorary president. The Scoutmasters are picked local men, who give their time without pay because of their interest in the boys.

"Scouting gives boys a chance to serve their community. Its activities not only give pleasure and knowledge, but they prepare to meet community emergencies.

"Scouting is neither military nor anti-military. It carefully avoids political or commercial entanglements. Scouting knows no race or creed or class. Troops are found alike in Catholic parish, Jewish synagogue and Protestant church. It is available to farm or city alike.

"Scouting helps the Scout to value the great heritage which the past has brought to him in the life and ideals of America, and Scouting points the way of good citizenship through service."

Good tobaccos... real good tobaccos... that's the reason for Lucky Strike's fine, smooth quality. We use only the center leaves of the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco plants. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because these are the mildest leaves—fully ripe for perfect smoking. Only these choice tobaccos are used to make Luckies—so round, so firm, so fully packed—and no loose ends to spill out. That's why Luckies are always mild and smooth. That's why always "Luckies please". And don't forget—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Follies Still a Great Show

Betzi Beaton (above) traveled from California to Broadway to contribute comedy and song to the new Follies.

New York—The late Mr. Ziegfeld probably wouldn't have recognized it as his own. It may be that he would not even have acknowledged it as a Follies. Neither would the late Mr. Joseph Urban have approved some of its modern settings. Nor did the customers themselves find much in the show that was reminiscent of the Old Glorifier.

But none of those things detract from the fact that the revue called the "Ziegfeld Follies" is a swiftly paced, star-dotted and highly hilarious divertissement. Thoroughly squelched are all the old meanies who dubbed it, in advance, "Mrs. Ziegfeld's Folly." Billie Burke and her associates have done well. If the show lacks some of the style and spectacular beauty of the maestro's productions, it is at least louder and funnier.

For this happy quality, credit Miss Fannie Brice, who headed many a Ziegfeldian bill in the past. As the Countess Dubinsky, working for Minsky, without her kolinsky, she stops the show with a burlesque of a burlesque "strip act". Then she does a fan dance which should end all fan dancing for a century to come. The rolling eye, the laugheivious leer, the triumphant smirk at getting a fan into place in the nick of time, the contrary cavortings of knees and feet—all these are howl-provoking evidences that Miss Brice is at her best . . . Earlier in the show she has fun at the expense of Aimee McPherson with a song called "Soul-Saving Sadie" . . . And later she does a nudist number and a burlesque of Broadway's bawdiest comedy, "Sailor, Beware!"

Her fellow conspirator in some of these escapades is Willie Howard, who also is in topnotch form and, incidentally, voice. You see him as a new president of Cuba, a vocalist at the graduation exercises of a barber college, a cowboy singing "The Last Roundup," and a sailor pursuing Miss Brice. Since she wears a blue dress Mr. Howard has a chance to observe that she has adopted a "blue weegle."

Among the dancers are Vilma and Buddy Ebsen, he looking like a 25-year-old incarnation of Will Rogers; Patricia Bowman, who leads the ballets; and a marvelously clever youngster named June Priesser in an acrobatic number . . Everett Marshall introduces some songs called "Wagon Wheels" and "The Beat of My Heart". He also helps Jane Frohman with the best number in the show, "Suddenly", although her "Moon About Town" is a close second. Miss Betzi Beaton, a cemedienne and a newcomer from California, sits in the footlights now and then while talking a song titled "That's Where We Come In."

Rejuvenated in activity at least, by the holidays, the theater season has brought a lot of new shows to town. But few of them require mention in this quick survey of the drama crop. Best is a comedy called "Oliver Oliver," by the Paul Osborn who wrote the delightfully rattle brained "Vinegar Tree." "Oliver" isn't quite so good mainly because its characters are composites of all the urbanely insipid and insultingly witty people you've ever disliked in your life. With no place to rest its sympathies, the audience is rather at sea until the last act, when it is revealed that Oliver is a pretty good sort of guy after all.

The story concerns a young wastrel and his almost equally extravagant widowed mother, and their efforts to marry each other off in order to re-finance their parasitic existence. Some other characters are a girl named Phyllis, who has money in her own right and is figuring on marrying a dim-wit named Bridgewater to escape her solitary boredom. Phyllis' mother is a cranky and tartly hostile soul who sits in corners and throws acid on the conversation. Then there's a middle-aged fellow called Justin Stock who seems to know nothing but banking . . . At the end the young wastrel and his mother both get married, and fairly happily, too.

The cast is exceptionally competent, as they had to be to carry such a brittle piece. Bretaigne Windust is pleasant as the dapper young do-nothing and Helen Brooks is sure of herself as the moody Phyllis who finally decides to marry for love. Acting honors, though, go to the elder women troupers, Ann Andrews and Alexander Carlisle.

There's good homey fun and a grand third act, in "Big Hearted Herbert," another new comedy. Sophie Kerr wrote the original short story, and helped adapt it for the stage. Maybe you recall it the tale of a small-town manufacturer who boasts that he's a plain man, a self-made man who had none of the fripperies of college, and that he isn't going to stand for any high-falutin' snobbery in his family. He glories in a life-sized portrait of his lantern-jawed father and a big brass cuspidor by his chair.

When his daughter brings home the young man of her choice a Harvard man, unhappily, and dressed in a dinner coat mama hastily hides the picture and the cuspidor. Then there are fireworks, during which Herbert virtually turns them all out of the house . . . At the last, though, Mama gets her revenge. When Herbert brings some important business men home for dinner she puts on a gingham apron, puts her hair up in a knot, cooks up a scrap stew, and spends the evening telling the guests about Herbert, the plainand self-made man . . . Finally he gives up and takes his medicine. Out go the two awful symbols of rugged individualism, and back comes Love in his dinner coat.

Of the other new offerings, there was a Cinderella story called "Wooden Slipper," which was graced more by the romanticisms of Miss Dorothy Hall than by the author's story. It's a Hungarian bit which seems to have lost something in transit.

Agnes Dunn in Peninsula With Official Party

Accompanying the official department American Legion party now touring the northern part of the State, is Department President Mrs. J. B. Dunn of Bad Axe, Michigan, who was elected at Grand Rapids to head the Auxiliary in the state for this year.

Members of the official party will be guests at a banquet Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Rapid River high school, and at a dance following, and it is expected that a large representation of Legionnaires and of Auxiliary members from Escanaba will attend both events.

Mrs. Dunn through her loyal service to her local Unit, her District, and the Department proved herself worthy of this high honor. As a Charter member of Sherman Elvin Unit No. 96 of Bad Axe, Mrs. Dunn acted as Membership Chairman, and Treasurer, and was President for four years. Under her leadership the Unit enjoyed a very substantial increase in membership. Her efforts were not confined to her Unit but she took an active part in the Seventh District affairs and was elected to the office of Vice President of the District. In 1930 election to the office of Department Vice President was rewarded her at which time she took over the activities of the Child Welfare Committee of the Department, serving as Chairman for the following three years. Her services as a member of the Billet Board of Trustees which has charge of the American Legion Billet at Otter Lake, Michigan, were invaluable. The Auxiliary recognizing her capabilities as a leader unanimously elected her as Department President at its Grand Rapids convention in August of 1933.

Mrs. Dunn is eligible to the Auxiliary through two brothers, Lieutenant L. J. Thourlby and Howard Thourlby, both brothers serving overseas.

Pat and Bish School Opens

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bishop of Marquette have established the Pat and Bish Dancing school in Escanaba with classes meeting Mondays and Fridays in the private dining room of the Delta hotel.

The school here is a branch of the one established in Marquette and a similar branch is located in Ishpeming. Special attention is being given to persons interested in dancing as a profession and the work in each class consists of limbering, stretching, ballet, acrobatics and tap dancing. Instruction is being given in three divisions for beginners, advanced children and adults.

Africa and Its People Described by Lecturer At Woman's Club Meeting

The country and peoples of Africa were presented in vivid portral to members of the Escanaba Woman's club on Monday afternoon in the slide lecture, "Africans Are People," presented by James C. Wilson.

The meeting of the club, which was held in Escanaba Junior high school beginning at 3 o'clock, was opened by the president, Mrs. Arthur Peterson, who after the customary routine announced the appointment of Mrs. W. H. Summers as program chairman for the coming year.

Mrs. I. G. English, chairman, and Mrs. John Fredenberg, Mrs. L. J. Jacobs and Mrs. Clella Cummiskey, hostesses, were members of the committee of the day.

The music feature of the afternoon, which was very enjoyable, included two vocal solos by Richard Carlton, "Vision Fugitive," Massenet, and "Duna," MacGill. Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom played the accompaniments.

Jim Wilson, the beloved vagabond of the present day, was introduced by Mrs. English.

In his introduction he declared that early impressions of Africa were not representative of the country and that the bizarre and sensational have been given too much emphasis for a proper understanding of the country.

From Nigeria

He then told of the beginning of the 3,800 mile trip from Lagos, Nigeria, which is the New York of Africa, across to the Red Sea; of the purchase of the two motorcycles on which he and his companion Francis Flood traveled; the supply of gasoline at cost by the French government, and the start of the expedition, without maps or information, which took them through 1200 miles of country never before explored by Americans.

On the trip, he continued, they averaged less than 28 miles a day.

Nigeria, he said, south, is thickly populated with farmers and there are some good-sized villages. Mohammedanism is the leading religion. The attitude toward the human body is normal, and the women of the race are unusually graceful. There the crocodile is sacred and insect pests are the worst enemy of man.

Continuing his lecture he spoke of the rainfall, of 120 inches at one time, and told how trails, which are along valleys are often washed out, but are rebuilt with jungle labor which is worth five or six cents a day.

Tom-Tom Interesting

The African tom-tom is most interesting, he said, and it produces excellent music. Natives dance to it around the camp-fire, carrying huge snakes. Mr. Wilson upon meeting the natives offered to join the players, unsuccessfully. He related numerous incidents of this and other mishaps which occurred during the trip. He, himself, was referred to by the Africans as the "peeled man."

The Africans were greatly interested in the motorized "put-put." Mr. Wilson and his companions depended entirely upon gestures of good will. One of the strangest of the gestures is the shaking of the fist instead of shaking hands.

He described a boat, called a water horse, made of a hollow log.

He and his companion, he said, were received everywhere with friendliness. Good-will, he observed in this connection, begets good-will. Emirs of villages greeted guests in full regalia and every comfort was supplied, indicating a genuine culture.

One tribe of people, he said, served tea like Europeans; members of another scarred their faces as a mark of honor; court scenes were of unusual dignity.

Africans Not Savages

The Africans are plain humans, like ourselves, he declared. There was no ill treatment of women or children. There is no great difference in any humans, he said, and certainly not in these people. They are not savages. They are just different, and phases of their life, like those of all other lives, must be transplanted. The climate begets a leisuring place. Weaving is a common occupation among the women and dyeing is a well-worked out art. Men forge their own tools by crude methods, but then, Africa could not have been developed as a mechanized civilization because the rigors of jungle life are too overwhelming.

Progress has been slow, he said, but he exhibited some specimens of art, metal and hand-tooled leather which were excellent, and some truly exquisite pieces of hand-weaving, among them a chief's garment colored like a butterfly, requiring the work of four men for four months. Their art, he explained, copies nature as a manifestation of God. A beautiful rug was shown, hand-woven with homespun thread and native dyes. It was 60 years old when tendered as a gift. The blanket which he also exhibited was marvelously woven and was very long.

In closing Mr. Wilson made a plea for a sympathetic observation on the part of travelers, asking them to understand the environment before appraising.

WANTS WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

Iron Mountain—Request that the conference next week between city and county officials and LeRoy Salsich, of Duluth, president of the Oliver Iron Mining company, be held in Washington in the presence of government representatives has been sent by H. L. Senseman, city engineer, to Representative W. Frank James, who is in the capital.

James was instrumental in having the meeting arranged after he and other government officials had been approached to lend their assistance in a final effort to avoid the permanent closing down of the Chapin mine, on which the Oliver has surrendered its lease.

NO LIQUOR APPLICATIONS

Iron River—All the talk in the west side about selling liquor by the glass seems to have been for nothing.

None of the governing bodies which have jurisdiction in the matter has received a single application from any person that wishes to cater to that trade. The city commission in Iron River has tentatively adopted a liquor ordinance which provides for the sale of whiskey by the glass, but there are restrictions covering opening and closing hours.

THEATRES

RIALTO

A double feature attraction is now showing at the Rialto theatre. One is "Golden Harvest" a dramatic story of the present-day American farmer's fight to retain his home, his battle against the speculative debacle in the Wheat Pit, while the other is a film depicting the Gladstone of 18 years ago. This film was shown on New Year's and is being reshown by popular request.

Two beautiful love stories run through "Golden Harvest," the cast of which includes Richard Arlen, Chester Morris, Genevieve Tobin, Rosco Ates and Julie Haydon. The continual battle for existence put up by two brothers, one a speculator in the wheat pit, the other a farmer, and the continual strife between them furnishes many situations which prove interesting.

In the old Gladstone film, this city is seen as it was in 1915. Shown are the postoffice, Rosenblum's jewelry store, Coburn's drug store, the Gladstone State Savings Bank, E. O. Anderson, Buick auto dealer, now residing at Escanaba, the Holmgren auto company, the old opera house, the schools, fire departments with horse drawn vehicles and Louis Danielson, chief of police.

A good many prominent Gladstonians, several of whom have since passed to the great beyond are also caught by the camera.

A comprehensive idea of the industries of that day is also given. Shown are activities at the Marble Arms and Manufacturing company, the MacGillis-Gibbs Pole company, Cleveland-Cliffs company at Kipling, the Cleverland Milling and Supply company and the Northwestern Cooperage and Lumber company.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Lassila and daughter, Arlene, visited in Rock over the week end.

Alaska's exports to the United States have an approximate annual value of $68,000,000. They consist mostly of salmon and other fresh and frozen fish.

TEAMS BUNCHED IN CITY LEAGUE

Dugan of Fords Leads in Total Points With 27 for Two Games

LEAGUE STANDINGS

Team	W	L	Pct.
Fords	2	0	1000
Browns	1	1	.500
Barkers	1	1	.500
Lauermans	1	1	.500
Inlands	1	1	.500
Nortons	0	2	.000

WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Monday—Fords vs. Barkers; Browns vs. Nortons.

Tuesday—Inlands vs. Lauermans; Browns vs. Barkers.

Thursday—Fords vs. Lauermans; Inlands vs. Nortons.

At the end of the first week of play, four city league teams are tied for the runner-up post with a victory and defeat apiece. Creighton's Fords being the only aggregation to come through with an unsullied record, and the Nortons being the only quintet failing to get into the victory column, losing two close contests. Indications point to one of the closest races held here in years.

Dugan, Ford center, leads all individual scorers to date by virtue of finding the net ten times in one game, having 13 field goals and 1 free throw to his credit for a total of 27 points. Griffin and Middaugh, diminutive Lauermans forwards, are next in line, the former with 24 points and the latter with 23.

Other high scorers rank as follows: Pepin, Inlands, 23; Carlson, Barkers, 22; R. Marks, Browns, 21; S. Norton and W. Kendall, Nortons, 18; Wassberg, Fords, and M. Bergman, Browns, 17; and Peasley, Inlands, 15.

Navy Athlete Joins Utah's Grid Squad

Denver (AP)—Coach Ike Armstrong of Utah has the United States navy to thank for a valuable football contribution—Fred McKenzie, a sophomore linesman. McKenzie, a coppersmith in the navy, saved his pay so he could attend the university.

This athlete's accomplishments while on the U. S. S. Colorado, according to J. M. Pugh, a Colorado recruiting officer, included winning the heavyweight wrestling championship of his ship; pulling an oar in two all-navy racing cutters; pitching on the inter-division baseball team; playing fullback on the ship's football team and winning a place on the all-navy west coast football eleven.

City Club Meet Postponed Week

Postponement until Tuesday, Jan. 23 of the annual meeting of the Gladstone City Club regularly scheduled for this evening, was annouced yesterday by R. J. Riley, president of the organization.

The postponement came as a measure of respect to the late Mrs. P. J. Corbett whose funeral was held here yesterday. Mrs. Corbett had catered to the civic body for many years.

CITY BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Helmar Groop and son, Leland, of Escanaba, spent the week-end here with Mrs. Groop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gunnarson. They were accompanied home by Miss Evelyn Gunnarson who will spend the week visiting in Escanaba.

Mrs. Louis Hartman and Miss Marie Strow, of Seney, visited in the city Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heinz and baby returned to Huntspur yesterday morning after a short visit in the city with relatives.

Newberry visitors in the city the latter part of the week included Mrs. F. P. Bohn, Mrs. E. H. Campbell, Mrs. C. D. Zagelmeier, Mrs. A. L. Sayles, Mrs. William McMahon, Mrs. J. H. Foster, Mrs. C. L. Bystrom, Mrs. G. K. Fisher, Mrs. Anna Austin and Mrs. Roy Young.

Mrs. Joseph Barr, of Marquette, who has been visiting with her mother, Mrs. Albert Hoholik, North Houghton avenue, is the mother of a nine and one-half pound baby son born yesterday morning at the Hoholik home.

Peter Bowers is seriously ill at his home, 419 Range street, with a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Eicher, of Newberry, were among the out-of-town relatives attending the funeral rites held here Saturday afternoon for Mrs. John Ekdahl. Mrs. Eicher was a niece of Mrs. Ekdahl.

Storm Sewer Work Awaits Arrival Of Projects Materials

Work on the construction of storm relief sewers in the city, a $78,323.00 project which was recently approved by the state civil works administrative board, will not begin until the arrival of materials, Mayor Harry Eriksen stated yesterday morning, deeming it inexpedient to tear up streets before the work of installation can be commenced.

Materials needed, as listed by Mayor Eriksen and which were ordered last week by William Marin, county civil works administrator, are as follows:

1940 lineal feet 36" sewer tile.
3710 lineal feet 30" sewer tile.
1270 lineal feet 24" sewer tile.
2180 lineal feet 21" sewer tile.
2100 lineal feet 18" sewer tile.
1450 lineal feet 15" sewer tile.
460 lineal feet 12" sewer tile.
1600 lineal feet 6" sewer tile.
3800 pounds tarred oakum.
180 barrels cement.
100 yards sand.
44,000 common brick.
34 standard manhole covers and frames.
44 drains 18" diameter.

When work on the project starts, Mayor Eriksen intimated that installation will first be commenced from the corner of Arbutus avenue and Highway U. S. 2 to the slips, from Pearl street to the slips, and from South Houghton avenue to the river.

The project calls for the expenditure of $27,523.00 for materials, $45,675.00 for labor, and $5,125.00 for engineering.

Bus Transportation For Nursery School Pupils to Lakeside

Pre-kindergarten children enrolled in the local nursery school at Lakeside will be picked up by bus from the Central school and transported to the Lakeside school each morning, it was announced yesterday. Children are requested to be at the Central school between 8:30 and 8:45 a. m.

At the close of school, a bus will return them as far as the Hankin corner, Cedar and Elk streets. The bus service was made available because of the long distance some of the tots would have to go between their homes and Lakeside school.

Falls from Smoke Stack; Local Boxer Breaks Both Ankles

Frenchy LaLonde, one of the most promising of local pugilists, suffered the misfortune of breaking both ankles last Saturday when he fell while painting a smoke stack at the Brown Dimension company.

LaLonde will be laid up for some time pending the healing of the injuries, but will suffer no permanent disability, it was stated.

Delve for Aztec Secrets In Heart Of Mexico City

Mexico, D. F. (AP)—To set at rest guesses as to whether the ancient Aztecs buried treasure under their great pyramid in the center of this capital four centuries ago, the government is excavating the site.

The pyramid was leveled by the Spanish conquerors in 1521. They sought to destroy pagan Aztec culture and used the stones to build the first Catholic church in Mexico.

The site yielded the great calendar stone of the Aztecs several centuries later.

EARLY PIONEER PASSES SUNDAY

Long Illness Fatal to Andrew Johnson, 50-Year Resident

Andrew Johnson, 71, a resident of this city for the past half century, passed away at the family residence at eleven o'clock Sunday evening following a long illness. He had been confined to his bed a week prior to his demise.

The deceased was born in Malkon, Wermland, Sweden, August 12, 1862, coming to this country at the age of 21. After a couple month's residence at Manistee, Mr. Johnson came to Manistique and has been a resident of this city ever since.

Mr. Johnson, during his early years here was employed in the woods and later worked in local saw mills. He was employed in the lumber industry througout his life. He retired from active work four years ago, his last employment being at the Stack mill.

On March 13, 1913, Mr. Johnson was united in marriage to Miss Tena Olson, of this city, who survives him.

Besides the widow the deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John Johnson, of Chicago, and Mrs. Eric Blomquist, of this city; and a brother, Carl, living in Sweden. A brother, Peter, passed away at the Swedish settlement near Gulliver, three months ago.

Date of funeral services is undecided pending word from relatives. The remains are being prepared for burial by Sven Johnson, local mortician, and will be taken to the family residence, from where final rites will be held.

Don't take calomel!

HERE'S NEW HEALTH FOR YOUR LIVER

Now banish bad breath, pimples, constipation; feel like a million!

That tired, frowsy feeling in the morning, that "dark-brown" taste in the mouth—if you would banish them and win back buoyant health, don't expect relief from salts, mineral oil, or candy and chewing-gum laxatives.

For such remedies only move the bowels. While chances are, you're one of the thousands suffering from sluggish liver which does not yield sufficient bile—causing pimples, blemishes, headaches, bad breath and a general run-down feeling.

What you need is something which acts thoroughly but harmlessly upon the liver. And in Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets you will find that "something," which stimulates the bile flow.

A successful substitute for calomel, these famous tablets are compounded of pure vegetable ingredients, and have been praised for years by millions.

To get and keep the bile flowing freely—correcting constipation, skin troubles, and win back hat "fine-and-dandy" feeling of outh—go to your druggist for r. Edwards Olive Tablets today. 5c, 30c, 60c.

By JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Financial markets reacted with emphatic strength today to President Roosevelt's proposals for a dollar of 50 to 60 percent of its old parity, nationalization of monetary gold and establishment of a two billion equalization fund.

Favorite shares on the New York stock exchange showed general net gains of about 2 to more than 6 points. Chicago wheat climbed 4 cents a bushel, New York cotton advanced $1.90 to $2.30 a bale net, while the bond market's response was vigorous. Turnover in all markets was large.

Foreign exchanges shook off their recent narrowness of movement and pushed buoyantly upward as traders strove to adjust themselves to the dollar's new fortunes. The disparity which had existed between indicated gold values on the basis of the treasury gold price and the gold standard currencies of Europe was sharply reduced, especially after Washington had announced that this government's yellow metal was being lifted to $34.45 where the currency's gold level would be almost exactly the 60 percent of parity which is apparently the administration's goal at this time.

The advance in markets had several explanations. One was that even though stabilization was still something for the future uncertainties as to the dollar's future value had been restricted, which should make for business confidence. Again, it was suggested that the 60 percent upper limit represented a somewhat cheaper dollar than the country has been unofficially having.

Routine news of the day strengthened the evidence of business recovery. Steel operations, said the Iron and Steel Institute, have advanced to 34.2 percent of capacity compared with 30.7 a week ago, duplicating the December high. Producers were said to feel that a 50 percent top was likely to be reached this quarter, with a better rate possible if consumers again hasten to specify as they did last quarter. Another favorable straw in the wind was the continued expansion of freight traffic. Roads reported for last week showed heavier volume than a year ago, and liberal gains over New Year's week.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 15—Soaring 4½ cents and setting a new high price record, wheat today took on spectacular broadening of activity simultaneous with President Roosevelt's latest financial proposals.

Most grain traders looked upon the message as removing to a great extent the doubts which through a long period had served as a handicap to higher prices and to enlargement of dealings. Despite heavy profit-taking sales on upturns in values, the wheat market displayed unabated buoyancy in late transactions, and ended within ½ cent of the day's top.

Closing quotations on wheat were strong, 3½ to 4 1-8 cents above Saturday's finish, corn 7-8 to 1 3-8 up, oats 1 to 1 3-4 advanced, and provisions at 20 to 37 cents gain.

Corn and oats followed the upward flight of wheat prices, although hampered by enlarged receipts of corn. Today's primary arrivals of corn totaled nearly double those of a week ago.

Provisions advanced with hog values and with grains.

It seems as if God meant to desert the German church.
—The Rev. Martin Niemoeller of Berlin.

BY VICTOR EUBANK
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Bonds of all classes followed stocks in a buoyant upward thrust today as President Roosevelt sent his message to congress calling for a 50-60-cent dollar.

While the most pronounced gains were recorded by secondary loans, so-called high grade issues were relatively steady and U. S. government securities rallied briskly. Bonds of the gold standard countries also spurted as the dollar slumped in terms of leading foreign exchanges.

Traders and investors were not entirely in agreement on the managed currency proposal, but the intention of holding the dollar's value to within a ten-cent range was received with much interest. The financial district apparently was not surprised by the devaluation recommendation, but the idea of creating a $2,000,000,000 exchange equalization fund out of the profits to be realized from devaluation had not been generally forecast.

Although scattered industrials recorded wide gains, the best performance was given by the rails and industrials.

The turnover in the federal section amounted to only about $3,600,000, but advances ranged from 4-32nds to 29-32nds of a point. The principal activity and largest gains were in the treasuries.

Sales totaled $24,861,000, par value, the largest aggregate since July 7, last, and the average for 60 domestic corporate issues mfoved up nine-tenths of a point to 78.1.

Demand Broadens; Curb Moves Ahead To Register Gains

BY BERNARD S. O'HARA
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Curb stocks moved upward today under broadened demand. Utilities, metals, oils and industrials gained 1 to more than 3 points. Alcohols were hesitant. A number of fairly wide gains were recorded by some of the less active specialties.

Commonwealth Edison rose 5½ points and American Gas & Electric, common and preferred, advanced 3½ each. Electric Bond and Share and Consolidated Gas of Baltimore firmed more than 2 apiece. In the low-priced range Cities Service gained a major fraction in a substantial turnover.

Dow Chemical, Lake Shore Mines, Newmont, Hiram Walker, Humble, Gulf Oil, Parker Rust Proof closed up 1 to 3 or more.

Transfers increased to 546,000 shares compared with 298,000 for last Friday.

'Gas' Panhandlers Take Detour from Mayor's Woodpile

Medford, Okla. (AP)—Mayor Frank Stewart's "stove wood policy" on requests for free gasoline has brought about about a sharp reduction in such applications from tourists.

Day after day Stewart used to heard hard luck stories from penniless motorists. Finally he decided to offer one applicant gasoline in exchange for work on his woodpile. It was on sale though.

Other panhandlers showed similar reluctance to "work out" their motor fuel. Stewart's logs are still uncut, but he isn't bothered much any more.

wrong. Just an old-fashioned boy." He grinned at her, and her annoyance evaporated; but she was conscious, suddenly, of Tom's eyes upon her, and she crossed the room to stand at his side.

"How's it going?"

He smiled at her, drawing her down to the arm of his chair. "I'm running them all ragged. Science does it."

She rumpled his hair, proprietarily, to show Mr. Hunt Gibson that one modern marriage, at least, withstood the acid test.

"Well, hurry up and bring this contest to a close, my love, because it grows late."

Tom shook a pair of sixes, moved his last man fourteen spaces, sent Sue's "blue baby" home and triumphantly finished the game.

"You brought me luck, darling."

"Fiend!" Sue muttered, pretending to be furious.

Gypsy went to gather her things together and Sue went with her.

"I like your cousin," Gypsy told the other girl, idly, perching her beret at an impossible angle and reddening her lips with expert fingers.

"Do you?" Sue's tone was casual, but she looked plased. "I'm glad."

"We oughtn't to go before Mums and Dad get back," Gypsy went on. "Clytie isn't in, and I don't like to leave the twins alone."

But that problem was solved, as the Morells burst in, powdered with snow, at the moment.

Hunt drove them to the station in his sleek new car, a buff sedan of an expensive make. Tom eyed its bright fittings with respect they deserved.

"What d'you think of him, darling?" he asked, later as they rode sleepily along in a red plush seated coach, smelling of dust and stale cigars. "You seemed to be getting along like a house afire."

Gypsy patted away a yawn. "He's nice," she said. "But he's got stone age ideas. I couldn't have married a man like that."

MERE $35,000 OKAY FOR BABE

Little Dickering As He Signs 1934 Contract in Ruppert Brewery

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—With all the fanfare but not the magic contract figures of the old days Babe Ruth today signed with the New York Yankees as a player for another year at $35,000, the lowest salary since 1921, when he received $30,000 for his second year with the Yankees.

High up in the old red brewery on Third avenue with Colonel Jake Ruppert a beaming witness, the Babe put his signature to the contract, the terms of which he and the colonel had agreed on last Friday.

Colonel Ruppert, who seemed as surprised as everyone else when he and Ruth reached an agreement so quickly, divulged the inside story of the Friday conference.

"I asked the Babe if he would sign for $25,000," the colonel said. "He answered that he thought he ought to have $35,000 and I agreed. That was all the dickering there was to it."

the government as result of the devaluation will eventually provide a base for currency and credit expension. It is proposed immediately to set up the equalization fund of $2,000,000,000 to buy foreign exchange and government securities. As these purchases are made, presumably through the federal reserve, it is expected the reserve will be paid in gold certificates, each dollar providing a base for the issue of $2.50 of federal reserve currency. The three billions would permit issuance of a theoretical maximum of $9,000,000,000 in federal reserve currency, which in turn could form the basis of several imes that in bank credit and bank deposits.

Some financial circles described the program as a good compromise between the requirements of industry, which seeks a fairly definitely defined dollar, and agriculture, which desires a dollar so managed as to life price levels. It was recalled that the managed dollar, however, is only one of a number of expedients being tried to lift commodity prices, and that production control and expansion of markets are also being vigorously pushed.

Foreign currencies quickly rose, in response to the proposal to cut the dollar to at least 60 per cent of its old parity, but the gold currencies failed to get as high as the 60 per cent level would dictate. The French franc closed at 6.38 cents, up .23¾ of one cent, but that indicated a dollar of 61.44 per cent of former parity. The pound sterling closed at $5.14, up 5¼ cents, but on the basis of the Londan and Washington gold prices, should have gone substantially higher.

Missouri added more than 2,000 miles of farm-to-market roads to its highway system in 1933.

FEATHER CHAMP GIVEN DECISION

Freddie Miller Has Easy Time in 10-Round Go at Flint

Flint, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Using his left uppercut to advantage, Freddie Miller, world's featherweight champion, outpointed Roger Bernard, of Flint, in a 10-round non-title match here tonight.

Miller weighed in at 126½ and Bernard at 128¼. Referee Elmer McClelland awarded Miller seven of the ten rounds.

There were no knockdowns in the fight and Miller experienced little difficulty with the Flint fighter although the latter rocked the champion with a blow during the second round. Bernard was apparently unable to solve Miller's southpaw attack. Toward the end of the fight Bernard was unable to land any telling blows. The local fighter has been in the ring for nearly ten years.

In the eight-round semi-final Johnny Stroppa, 140½, of Winnipeg, outpointed Harry Robinson, of Port Huron, Mich.

Glenn Deuell, 137½, of Flint, defeated Al Henderson, 140½, of Detroit, in six rounds; Lou Handler, 149¼, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., won a technical knockout over Arnold Drouillard, 149, of Windsor, Ont., in five rounds; Red Carson, 121, of Hamtramck, Mich., defeated Mickey Hines, 117½, of Windsor, Ont., in two rounds, and Tommy Meeking, 144, of Winnipeg, outpointed Joe Stalnas, 137½, of Detroit, in four rounds.

Nearly 4,000 persons, the largest fight crowd here for some tme, witnessed the bouts.

Slate Kept Clean By Adrian College

Adrian, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Adrian college defeated the Battle Creek college basketball five here tnight, 25 to 21 to keep its slate clean in Michigan-Ontario collegiate conference competition.

Battle Creek, largely through the efforts of Draime, who scored 11 points, and Painter with 5, kept abreast of the Adrian team, and with two minutes to go tied the count at 21 all.

At this point Stretch Woerner, Adrian center, and Bud Miller, guard, each scored a field goal to give Adrian the winning margin. Adrian led at the half, 15 to 9.

The victor leaves Adrian in a tie with Assumption college for leadership in the conference. Both are undefeated.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

If sufficient interest is manifested in the plan to make it feasible, an indoor tennis tournament will be conducted in this city in February. Tennis has increased in popularity here with leaps and bounds during the past two years but up to now the sport has been distinctly seasonal, being played only outdoors when weather conditions make it possible. In this region, that means summer and portions of the spring and fall.

—o—

Numerous tennis enthusiasts have inquired into the possibility of conducting an indoor tennis tournament here. Arrangements to hold the event at the Coliseum have been made, and it will be held, if enough interest is indicated to make it a success. This will be the first attempt towards sponsoring indoor tennis in Escanaba and it is purely an experiment. The manner in which tennis enthusiasts flock to the outdoor courts during the summer months indicate that the fan interest is present and is a healthy indication that indoor tennis will be received warmly here.

—o—

Plans for the tournament have not been completed and they will, of course, depend upon the interest displayed. If it is desired, it is probable that the event will be laid into classifications with juvenile and adult classes. There also will be a girls' tournament if the weaker sex comes forward and makes itself heard. Then, also, it is possible a mixed doubles tournament will be sponsored.

In other words, anybody who wants to enter the event, in any way, shape or manner, singles or doubles will be able to do so if complete brackets can be formed. The one way to boost the event and to make it a certain project is to let this department know you are interested and will enter the tournaments. If indoor tennis goes over with the public with sufficient force, it is likely that the tournaments will be conducted annually.

Many baseball writers figure the Detroit Tigers will be right in the thick of the American league pennant chase next summer, although they concede the Washington Senators will be the team to beat for the title. With Cochrane, the new manager, doing most of the receiving, the critics figure the Detroit pitching staff will be considerably more effective. And, as for hitting, well, the Tigers have Greenberg, Fox, Goslin, Gehringer, Rogell and Cochrane—all good clouters. Their pitching staff includes Marberry, Sorrell, Bridges, Fischer, Hogsett, Rowe and Auker. Rowe's status remains a mystery as he is still bothered with an injured shoulder. Auker is a recruit who is expected to go far under Cochrane's handling.

Hot Iowa Cagers Nip Illinois, 36-14

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 15 (AP)—The University of Iowa basketball team remained in the thick of Big Ten title competition tonight by trouncing Illinois 36 to 14, before a record crowd of nearly 12,000 fans.

The Hawkeyes got off to a flying start, accumulating 15 points while the Illini counted four on free throws. It was 18 minutes before the visitors scored their first tally from the floor.

Howard Moffitt, senior forward, racked up 11 tallies for Iowa before leaving the game early in the second half. Frank Froschauer garnered half the Illinois points.

The game was fast and rough with 15 fouls being called on Illinois and 11 on Iowa.

CHICAGO BEARS TRIP ALL STARS

Grange Leads Champions to 26-7 Victory in Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Jan. 14 (AP)—Harold (Red) Grange may be getting old and his legs stiff, but he galloped like a ghost out of the past today, scoring two of the touchdowns which gave Chicago's Bears a 26 to 7 victory over a Southern California all-star football team before a near capacity crowd of 20,000 at Wrigley field.

Many of the spectators, a lot of them non-believers in the prowess of the professionals, had not yet gained their seats when Grange flashed through tackle over the weak side of the line, cut back, and raced untouched 67 yeards for the first touchdown.

Homer Griffith, quite a quarterback for Southern California last fall, was caught flat-footed in the safety position, but he gave chase as Red breezed by, too late to catch the former Illinois star.

Red Repeats

Then, adding insult to injury, Red took one of John (Bull) Doehring's passes off his left shoulder for a 44-yard gain and a touchdown before the game was 15 minutes old.

The All-Stars, a good share of them pro players in season, fought back as the second quarter opened and scored when Racehorse Russ Saunders circled left end from the five-yard line for a touchdown. That was their only real chance.

Playing a wide open game, the Bears, world's pro champions lived up to their title. They threw the ball with abandon.

A forward and triple lateral which was good for 40 yards was only one of their many tricks. From the 26-yard line, Jack Manders, former Minnesota star, threw a forward to Bill Hewitt, a great end from Michigan. Running at top speed, Hewitt laterralled the ball to Cliff Battles, formerly of West Virginia, who in turn ran a few yards and tossed it to Bill Karr, who used to play for West Virginia. When the All-Stars finally caught Karr he was on their 34-yard line.

Many Long Runs

Long runs were the order of the day. The third touchdown for the Bears came in the second when Battles slid through the line and raced 53 yards behind a mass of interference to a touchdown. Gene Ronzani, formerly of Marquette, capped the climax by taking a 16-yard pass from Battles, to run 40 more yards to score midway through the fourth period.

Although first downs were even with eleven each, the invaders outgained their opponents 350 yards to 245 yards.

Germany Baits Collectors To Finance Games

Berlin (AP)—By baiting the collector's instinct Germany hopes to finance the Olympic games to be held in Berlin in 1936.

Instead of relying solely on public generosity, the German Olympics board plans to give value in return for an "Olympic Groschen," or mite.

By putting on the market several series of attractive picture cards illustrating the development of various athletic games through the ages, the activities of German sport associations, and other athletic subjects, the Olympic board is confident it can hoax out about two million marks' worth of groschens in clear profits—enough to make ends meet.

The cards would retail at a groschen apiece (ten pfennings or slightly over two cents).

CREAVY TAKES GOLFING TITLE

Young Albany Pro Four Under Par in Bout at Los Angeles

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

San Francisco, Jan. 15 (AP)—Running down putts from five to thirty feet with ease, Tom Creavy, 22 year old pro from Albany, N. Y., won the fourth annual San Francisco national match play open golf championship here today, defeating Tom Thomson of Long Beach, Calif., three and two in the 36 hole final.

The youngster, who first broke into national prominence in 1930 as runner-up in the P. G. A. championship and a year later became the holder of the title, turned in one of the finest golfing performances ever witnessed here to capture first money. He used only 29 putts during the morning round.

Creavy was four under par on the Lake Cereed course for the day. He had to be to win. Thomson also shared par, being one under when the match ended. A gallery of nearly 3,000 fans saw the struggle.

At the ninth Creavy was five up. He had a 32, three under par, to Thomson's 37. But the positions were reversed on the second nine. Thomson had an approximate 33 to Creavy's par 37, each having picked up on the eleventh when the New Yorker conceded the hole.

Creavy had an opproximate 69 to Thomson's 70 for the first eighteen.

Having reduced his rival's lead as they went in to lunch, Thomson came out for the afternoon round and won the twenty-first and twenty-third holes to even the count. They went along on even terms for two more holes. At the twenty-sixth Creavy went into the lead again from then on he was out in front.

Creavy sank a 30-foot putt on the thirtieth to halve the hole and cling to a two up lead. A ten footer that rolled true to the cup gave Creavy a four up lead at the thirty-second after he had won the preceding hole by sending an approach to within one foot of the pin.

With the match dormie four, Thomson made one final bid. He won the thirty-third with a birdie three. A 320 yard drive that left his ball hole high. Creavy played it in a par four. Three up and three to play, Creavy cinched the match on the thirty-fourth with a par four half.

As winner Creavy received $811 of the $4,000 prize money. Thomson received $535.

Vines Again Trips Tilden At Boston

Boston, Jan. 15 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, professional tennis' latest recruit, pulled up even with the veteran Bill Tilden by out-wearing him for the fourth match of their series by scores of 12-14, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2, tonight at the Boston Garden. It drew a crowd of 11,500, the largest tennis gathering in New England's history.

Freed, superintendent of Michigamme schools, and Leo MacDonald, principal of the Gwinn high school, who is upper peninsula Class C and D represenative on the state council.

Ohio State Evens Up Indiana Series

Columbus, O., Jan. 15 (AP)—Ohio State university's basketball team kept itself in the Big Ten running tonight by handing the Indiana five a 27 to 23 beating. It evened the two game series with the Hoosiers, who defeated the Buckeyes 38 to 22 last Monday night.

Both teams got away to slow starts tonight, and the score was tied three times during the first half. Ohio's defense spurted in the second half, and Indiana was held to three points until the last four minutes of play when a belated rally netted them five points.

Colburn scored eight points to be high for the Buckeyes, and the Hoosiers' two guards, Weir and Porter, were top scorers for their team, with seven points.

Sentiment Grows At Yale Favoring "Outsider" Coach

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Yale alumni leaders asserted today that they have assurances Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of the university, realizes Eli sentiment, in and out of New Haven, now is overwhelmingly against retention of the graduate football coaching system.

This was considered another step toward the achievement of the "old grad" objective—the engagement of an outsider of proved ability as the new head coach for 1934. The name of Harry G. Kipke of Michigan has been most prominently mentioned so far.

Alumni also have been given to understand that the undergraduates as well as members of the football squad at New Haven have indicated a majority preference for doing away with the graduate coaching system.

Malcolm Farmer, Yale's director of athletics, who proposed recalling T. A. D. Jones for the head coaching job in order to keep it in Eli hands, has let it be known he will have nothing further to say about the 1934 gridiron staff until after February 1. The only appointment so far is that of Ivan Williamson, 1932 Michigan captain, to become freshman end coach this fall.

Rally Too Late; Wisconsin Loses

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15 (AP)—Overcoming Wisconsin by a lone point, 27 to 26, in a furiously fought battle, Purdue retained first place tonight in the Western conference basketball championship standing.

The Boilermakers, who ripped through Indiana Saturday night almost as they pleased, had come from behind to down the Badgers. Purdue was off to an early lead, but Wisconsin rallied and was only a point behind at halftime. The Badgers took a three-point lead at the outset of the second half on field goals by Poser and Stege, and maintained their advantage until midway of the session.

Purdue came back to life and scored eight points before Wisconsin scored again. Knake scored another field goal for Wisconsin, but Lowery dropped in one for Purdue to make the score 27 to 22. The Badgers rallied again when Knake and Preboski caged two goals in rapid succession during the last minute, but the drive was halted in time to save a Purdue victory.

Wildcats Crush Michigan, 44-23

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP)—Northwestern put scoring on a production basis in the last half tonight to crush Michigan, 44 to 23 and remain in a tie with Iowa for second place in the Western conference basketball title race.

The Wildcats led all the way, but Michigan managed to hold on during the first half which ended with Northwestern three points in front. From the start of the closing period Northwestern, with Brewer, Kopechy, Fisher and Culver dropping in field goals, ran away to a huge lead.

The victory was Northwestern's third in four games, while Michigan suffered its third defeat in four contests. Northwestern hammered in 17 field goals while the Wolverines managed to locate the hoop only seven times.

Wrestling Matches Set for March 23

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Coach Cliff Keen of the University of Michigan wrestling squad tonight announced that the seventh annual intercollegiate wrestling championships will be held here March 23 and 24, with an entry of about 125 contestants. All entries will represent teams holding conference or sectional championships.

Coach Keen, long prominent in collegiate mat circles, said some 25 or 30 teams were expected to enter the meet, among them Indiana, Iowa State and Oklahoma A. & M., known as consistently strong schools in wrestling.

Michigan, holder of two Big Ten wrestling titles in past years, is hopeful of finishing near the top this spring.

In the last four years Purdue football teams have registered 36 victories, three defeats and one tie.

OLSON TALKS TO BPW CLUB

Happy Nation Never Has Fear of Revolution, He Asserts

"Three Square Meals a Day" was the interesting subject selected by Hilding Olson for his talk before the Business and Professional Women's club at the Ludington hotel last evening at their regular meeting. Mr. Olson is on the staff of instructors under the CWA night school program, and was recently appointed to take charge of the Public Health Relations program in charge of sanitation conditions throughout the county under the FERA.

Mr. Olson advanced the theory that when the people of a nation are well fed, well clothed and are possessed of those advantages conducive to a happy life, that nation will continue to go forward regardless of the type of government in force. He brought out the situation existing in Russia in 1917, when that country was in the grip of starvation and poverty, with the result that in that same year they had a revolution. The same thing was true in Germany, and in Italy.

The same thing was true in the United States in March, 1933, with millions unemployed, starving and poverty stricken, revolution was not advocated but was predicted by many speakers. When a man or woman is not getting three square meals a day, he or she becomes pessimistic and dissatisfied with the government, he stated. No matter what country we are in—no matter what kind of government we have—if the people are well fed and clothed, they are content.

The fundamental basis of our country is education, Mr. Olson said. A Democratic government cannot exist without education and therefore, it is up to organizations like the Business and Professional Women's club to see that schools will continue to exist. Roosevelt saw the need and therefore he looked into the future and organized the C. W. A. He urged that the advantages that are being offered the American people by the federal government be pushed and advanced as much as possible.

Mr. Olson was presented to the club by Miss Marie D. Peters, chairman of the legislative committee, in charge of the program for last evening.

Miss Florence Langley, past president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Miss Adrienne Tousignant, president of the organization. Mrs. Sybil Sullivan, a new member of the organization, was presented to the club.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the Ludington hotel at 6:15 p. m. February 7 when a speaker from the extension division of the University of Michigan will be the guest. He will speak to a joint meeting of the Parent-Teacher associations of the city and the B. P. W. club at the council room of the city hall at 8 o'clock that same evening.

Hollywood Gossip

By HUBBARD KEAVY

Hollywood—The disguise that the elusive Greta Garbo adopts for shopping is so obvious that she deceives very few. Here's what she was wearing the other day in a Wilshire boulevard store: low heeled sports shoes, bluish-grey trousers, a shaggy tweed coat of brown, dark glasses and a "jockey cap" with a white celluloid peak fully six inches long.

To 12-year-old Marybeth Luddy, to whom I was showing the stars and sights, Miss Garbo said when asked for her signature:

"I never do that." And without a smile.

I fear Miss Garbo has lost a very enthusiastic fan.

Dear Deer!

The Al Jolson film "Wonder Bar" is costing a few dollars more than Warners expected it would on account of a trained deer.

There is a Busby Berkeley-conceived "number" staged within a mirror-encircled stage. A score of chorines in this enclosure appear when photographed, to be several hundred girls. The trained deer has something to do with this sequence.

He wouldn't perform the first day he was put into the mirrored compound. He just stood still and stared and stared. He seemed to be wondering why there were so many of him. Then the scared deer fell down and stayed in that position until his keeper rescued him.

Whereupon it was discovered that he wasn't exactly scared. He'd been drinking. Just beer, but enough of it had been given to him to make him a little goofy when he discovered there were hundreds of him where only one should have been.

The following day the scene was shot with a sobered-up trained deer.

It's Done With Mirrors

Composite photography, which has long been used by the movies to fool you, has been adopted for a unique purpose.

When you come to Hollywood hereafter, you can have a photograph made of yourself with your favorite star. The picture, to be taken home to impress the folks, will show you in a very chummy pose with the star. Trick photography is the explanation, of course.

Speaking of trick photography, this is how a battle between a mountain lion and police dog—the highlight of a recent animal film—was staged. The mountain lion wrestled with a dummy dog and the dog fought only a dummy lion. Lion and dog never were on the together.

By means of clever photography and action cutting, the faked battle became very realistic on the screen.

Liquor Glass Sales Regulation Drafted

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—The state opened its fourteenth liquor store today as preparations went ahead to usher in glass sales of whiskey and wine by Feb. 1.

Four stores were opened in Detroit during the day and another will be put into operation at Benton Harbor Tuesday. Others are expected to follow within the next 10 days in Alpena and Petoskey. Chairman Frank A. Picard, of the state liquor control commission, said the state probably will have about twenty stores in operation in Detroit at an early date.

Picard announced that forms for the sale of liquor by the glass will be available this week. Three cities, he said, have filed formal applications with the liquor commission for glass sales. They are Detroit, Hamtramck and Jackson.

Councils in other cities have approved glass sales but Picard emphasized that formal applications must be filed with the commission. Local legislative bodies have until Feb. 15 to act upon glass sales. After that date, any action for such sales must come from a vote by the people in the various communities.

Picard said the commission will probably follow the recommendation of the Detroit police department and limit the number of glass sale establishments to 500 in the metropolitan area. Under the law, Detroit is entitled to a maximum of 2,073.

The liquor commission chairman said that licensed glass sales establishments wishing to buy their liquor direct from distilleries or dealers may do so but he was uncertain as to just what profit the state will exact. The law provides that they be given a 15 per cent discount under the price established by the commission. Picard said that so many interpretations of the general "gross profit" clause of the act are possible that no decision has yet been made. Ordinarily, such glass sale establishments would be entitled to purchase their liquor by paying the state a profit of 25 per cent compared with a general maximum profit on other sales of 40 per cent to the state.

Picard said the state has not yet levied the full 40 per cent profit on any sales.

The chairman vigorously denied reports that the state stores are losing money. He estimated that they have taken in between $175,000 to $200,000 with profits ranging from $25,000 to $50,000.

As a move to eliminate the bootlegger, the commission may establish a day and night store in Detroit soon, Picard said. He pointed out that it would provide a place for late parties to obtain liquor supplies.

The commission today issued a ruling prohibiting the sale of liquored candies as a protection for children. No liquid "centers" will be allowed of more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol by weight. Picard said a test of some candies by the commission had shown as high an alcoholic content as 14 per cent.

The Hauppert Winery Co., of Lawton, was awarded a temporary permit by the commission during the day. It is located in the center of the Paw Paw grape area.

An increase of 25 cents a quart in the price of liquor went into effect during the day in view of a jump in federal liquor taxes. The new price makes the cheapest liquor available at $1.65 a quart.

PRIMARY FUND 17 MILLIONS

Delta County Has Received $138,712.74 for School Financing

The total distribution of Primary Money for 1933 reached $17,398,203.29. The distribution is based on the annual school census of children 5-19 years inclusive. The sum of $12.58 was distributed to the school districts for each census child resident in the district, May 31, 1932.

Revenues to build up the Primary School Interest Fund come from taxes paid by Casualty and Guarantee Companies, Express Companies, Fire Insurance Companies, Freight, Refrigerator and Car Loaning Companies, Life Insurance Companies, Railroad Companies, River Improvement, Telegraph and Telephone Companies. These companies pay a tax rate equal to the average tax rate for the state. In addition, organization fees, and the inheritance tax revenue, is included in the amount distributed to school districts.

The amount distributed to each county in the upper peninsula in the three installments of the 1933 Primary Money is as follows:

STUDENTS HEAR FINE LECTURES

James C. Wilson Tells of His Travels Through Africa

Students of the Escanaba junior and senior high schools listened attentively to two interesting illustrated lectures delivered by James C. Wilson, noted world traveler, who told of his experiences on a 3800-mile motorcycle tour across the African continent.

Mr. Wilson showed slides of various scenes photographed enroute and also displayed metalware and weaving work, given to him by the native tribes with whom he visited.

Strangely enough, the lecturer did not show any pictures of wild animals, and he explained this incident with the remark that he wanted to be different since almost every traveler who returns from Africa brings back animal trophies. There are not as many wild animals in Africa as one would imagine, Mr. Wilson said, and he told that the governments are now establishing game preserves in order to conserve the wild life. The most dangerous animal in the Dark continent is not the lion or rhinoceros, but the ferocious little mosquitos which certainly cannot be combatted with firearms, he said.

Mr. Wilson told the students that he received cordial treatment everywhere he went. He closed his lecture with a plea for a better understanding of the African natives. They are not savages, but human beings who, because of the climate and environment, have built up a different civilization, he said. We may consider their civilization backward, he explained, but the truth is that it is the type that fits the conditions of the country. He doubted that the complex civilization that we have in America would ever succeed in the jungles and deserts of Africa.

Mr. Wilson also talked before the Rotary club at the Delta hotel yesterday noon.

Nick Jungles, 47, Claimed By Death

Nick Jungles, 47, 308 North Twenty-first street, passed away at 7:15 o'clock Monday morning at St. Francis hospital.

Mr. Jungles was born in Germany, January 3, 1887, and came to this country when a young man, settling in Escanaba.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will remain there until the time of the funeral. Services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Fr. Edward Leary officiating, and burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. James Peller, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Mrs. Peter Weidert, and John, James and Peter Jungles of this city.

Escanaba Legion Has Entertainers At Their Meeting

Two youthful exponents of the tap dance gave demonstrations of their ability at a program of entertainment following the regular meeting of Cloverland Post 82, American Legion, at the Eagles' hall last night. The dancers were Helen Morin and Helen Schram. Eleanor Campbell played the piano accompaniment. Other numbers on the program arranged by Phil Bruce, entertainment chairman, were Earl Weissert, 1417 Lake Shore Drive, accordion artist, and Lawrence Lancour, cowboy singer, yodeler and guitar player.

A large attendance of Legionnaires marked the gathering. Commander William Ehnerd announced a charity ball to be held at the Argonne Gardens Saturday night under Legion auspices, the proceeds to be used in Legion welfare projects. A large number of members from the local post are planning to go to Rapid River Friday night for the county meeting in honor of state officers of the Legion who are touring the peninsula.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Pet Dogs Killed—Two boys are grieving for their pet dogs today because an automobile driver was in a hurry Monday morning. One of the little dogs, "Chummy," was killed outright, by the car, and the other so badly hurt that he died a few minutes later. Whether the driver might have avoided hitting the dogs, playmates of their young owners, was not learned as he did not take the trouble to stop to extend the common courtesy of expressing regret at the occurrence.

Condition Unchanged—The condition of Mrs. A. O. Syverson, who with Mr. Syverson was seriously injured when their car was hit by a truck at Waukegan, Ill., was little changed Monday. She was conscious for short periods during the day. Mr. Syverson whose skull fracture is less serious, but who was severely cut about the hands and face, was improved. O. W. Qualey of Milwaukee, driver of the truck which caused the accident, is being held in jail on a charge of reckless driving.

Meeting Postponed—The regular meeting of the Escanaba Knights of Columbus council, originally scheduled for tonight, will be held Wednesday evening instead. The Rev. Fr. T. A. Drengacz of Perronville, chaplain of the council, will give an address on the Papal Encyclicals on Social Reconstruction, which are strikingly similar to the NRA program of today. A talk will also be given by John A. Lemmer.

Meeting Changed—The Presbyterian Boy Scout troop will meet at the church Wednesday night instead of tonight.

New Bolivar Stamp

Bearing the inscription in Spanish, "In commemoration of the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the national liberator," a stamp honoring the birth of Simon Bolivar has just come from Venezuela.

It has a face value of 25 centimos, and its color is carmine. The vignette bears the coat of arms of Bolivar, above which is "Libertador."

Sailing ships famous in American history have won stamp recognition from time to time. Two of the Columbian exposition issue in 1893 were devoted to ships, the 3-cent showing the Santa Maria, Columbus' flagship, in full sail, and the 5-cent the Pinta and the Nina as well as the Santa Maria. The Mayflower was pictured on the 1-cent Pilgrim tercentenary stamp issued in 1920.

The collection of the late Arthur Hind of Utica, N. Y., is now being appraised preparatory to its sale at auction, not expected to start until early in 1934. This collection has been valued at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

Italy's African Colony Has New Rail Extensio

Asmara, Eritrea (AP)—A 75-mi railway extension which will co an estimated $3,869,000 or more than $51,000 a mile, is being driven into the cotton district of this Italian colony.

The uncompleted sector lies between Biscia and Tessenei. The latter city will be the terminal of the line which will link the interior with Massaua on the Red Sea. Tessenei lies near the border of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The cost is largely attributable to the necessity for 14 lon bridges to span torrentia streams.

Members of the Georgia Stat Nurses association have adopte an 8-hour day and 48-hour wee as a means of spreading employment.

Despite the times, Dougherty county, Georgia, started the new year with all current obligation paid, an old debt of $26,000 pai off and a surplus in the bank.
